WANTS JUDGMENT REVERSED

The Metzger Case Still Before the Probate Court at Lisbon.

ARGUMENT STAGE REACHED

The Defendant Proved an Excellent Witness in His Own Behalf—Interesting Statements Made By B. S. Ambler—Court Matters.

Lisbon, May 25.—(Special.)—A petition in error was filed in circuit court today by City Solicitor Gaston, of East Liverpool, and Judge P. M. Smith, in behalf of the city of East Liverpool in the case of J. C. Walsh against the city. It is alleged that there is error in the record of the court; that the court erred in reversing the judgment of the mayor; also in permitting the petition in error to be filed; also that the judgment of the common pleas court is contrary to the law and evidence. It is asked that the judgment be reversed. Petitions in error will also be filed in the cases of East Liverpool against R. Guthrie and David A. Devine. The cases were those recently tried to test the legality of the East Liverpool screen ordinance. The case of Charles E. Zimmerman, of Salem, against Hamilton Howland, was tried in common pleas court today and judgment rendered in favor of the plaintiff for $244.19, due for labor.

The case of Addie Walker versus L. I. Hughes was tried and judgment rendered for $136 for the plaintiff. The amount was due on a judgment note. In the case of Elizabeth Bretz, administrator of the estate of O. E. Bretz, against J. W. Kinnear, the defendant in court confessed himself indebted to the plaintiff in the sum of $3. The suit was filed to recover $44.50.

METZGER'S CASE

NOW BEING ARGUED BEFORE PROBATE JUDGE BOONE.

Likely to Reach the Jury This Evening—The Defendant's Testimony.

Lisbon, May 25.—(Special.)—The Metzger case has reached the argument stage. It is not likely to reach the jury before 5 o'clock this evening.

The final evidence was submitted at 10:30 a. m. today, when B. S. Ambler and L. P. Metzger were called in rebuttal. By an arrangement between counsel two and one-half hours will be allowed for arguments on each side.

The evidence given by Metzger was the same as that given at the former trial, in direct, in cross-examination and in rebuttal. He made a good witness and his testimony must have made an impression upon the jury.

Mr. Ambler, in rebuttal, testified that he had received $15,500 from the firm of Stetson, Jennings & Russell, of New York; also an additional $1,000, to be paid to Mr. Metzger, according to his arrangement. Mr. Ambler followed up this statement by saying that Metzger would not dare to accept the money, as, if he should do so, he could be sent to the penitentiary. Another statement not introduced by Ambler at the former trial was that when Metzger declined to accept the $50 check sent to him, he considered his action quite manly, and he, together with Mrs. Ambler, presented him a gold watch chain. He said the check was not offered to Metzger as a bribe, but in good faith, as he knew that he was in hard luck at the time.

The opening argument was made by Prosecuting Attorney J. H. Brookes, who will be followed by Hon. R. W. Taylor for the defense. Attorney S. W. Ramsey will follow Mr. Taylor, and Hon. C. S. Speaker will make the final argument.

A $500 Fire Near Lisbon.

Lisbon, May 25.—(Special.)—Fire destroyed the stove mill and cooper shop of the Ohio Cement company, two miles northwest of Lisbon, last evening. The blaze is supposed to have started in the stove mill from a spark from the engine. Loss, $500. The buildings will at once be re-erected.

ABSRUDLY FALSE

HEALTH OFFICERS OGDEN AND BURGESS DENY REPORTS.

Say the Rumor That Tuberculosis Is Suspected in Cattle Hereabouts Is Ridiculous.

The attempt in some quarters to trump up a sensation as to the probability of the milch cows in the surrounding country being infected with tuberculosis, is as ridiculous as it has been fruitless of result.

Health Officers Ogden and Burgess were interviewed by a reporter concerning the hub-bub being made, and in reply to a direct question whether there was any evidence of tuberculosis in the cattle hereabouts, the officers both smiled and said they had not heard of any sick cows here at the present time.

A question was then asked as to the truthfulness of the report that the dairy cows were to be examined, and both Dr. Ogden and Mr. Burgess said the rumor was absolutely false. It was also denied that a special meeting of the board of health would be called, and in fact the health officers denied each and every report relative to the suspected prevalence of tuberculosis as being devoid of any foundation whatever and emanating from an irresponsible source.

Dr. Ogden stated that in case the disease was suspected in this or any other territory it would be the duty of the state health department to act, and not he or Mr. Burgess.

EXTREME TORTURE

Suffered By the Dog Which Was Shot on Second Street Thursday Night.

Late last night Officers Davidson and Auferheide received information that the dog which had been shot on Second street Thursday night, was lying in an alley near Jackson street in terrible agony. Though the brute's right side was almost completely shot away, death did not result and all of yesterday the dog lay under a stable suffering extreme pain.

The officers went to the stable where the animal had been seen, but it had then disappeared. Residents in the vicinity where the dog was shot are much worked up over the manner of its killing.

SHE BECAME SCARED

Wellsville Woman Gave Chief Thompson a Counterfeit Half Dollar as a Present.

A Wellsville woman called at the city hall and made Chief Thompson a present of a counterfeit half dollar. She said it had been given to her in change, but she could not remember who gave it to her.

WANTS $75 DAMAGES

John Rinehart Brings Suit Against the Pittsburg-Cincinnati Packet Line.

John Rinehart has begun a damage suit in Justice Rose's court against the Pittsburg-Cincinnati Packet Line. The plaintiff asks judgment for $75 for injuries sustained by a horse which she shipped on the steamer Virginia from Portsmouth to this city. Constable Miller served summons on the captain of the Virginia while the boat was here last night. The case is set for Saturday morning, June 1.

MEMORIAL SERVICES

The local G. A. R. Post, Women's Relief Corps and Sons of Veterans will meet at the Grand Army hall tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock and march from there in a body to the First Presbyterian church, where Memorial services will be held. All ex-soldiers are invited.

WONDERS WROUGHT BY LIQUID AIR

A Marvelous Exhibition of the Power of Liquefied Atmosphere.

PROF. WOODLAND'S LECTURE

Interested a Large Audience And Some of the Experiments Performed Were Wonderful—The Great Energy of the New Marvel.

To a large and interested audience at the Grand Opera House last evening Prof. J. E. Woodland explained and exemplified the wonders of liquid air. It was a deeply instructive lecture, and with so little use of scientific terms as to be readily intelligible to every hearer.

The lecturer was introduced by School Superintendent Rayman and began his talk by explaining the efforts of scientists for a hundred years to turn gases to liquids and solids and back again, liquid air being one of the results of these researches.

He described the process of manufacturing, preserving and shipping this marvelous substance. Its strange and contradictory properties were clearly set forth. While it is a liquid and looks just like water, it will not wet anything it is poured upon. He told about its intense cold—a degree of cold absolutely beyond our power to comprehend, and illustrated this property by many wonderful experiments.

Among the many interesting experiments were the following: A handful of cranberries were placed in an aluminum cup, a little liquid air poured over them, and in an instant they were frozen as hard as marbles, breaking into pieces when thrown upon the floor, as if made of glass; a piece of potato, after a moment's immersion in the liquid, broke under the stroke of a hammer into scores of pieces, and a piece of beefsteak similarly treated was rendered as brittle as a cracker; mercury was poured into a paper mold, a small stick inserted in the mercury, and liquid air poured on; in a minute or two the mercury was frozen solid, and using it as a hammer the professor drove nails into a board.

Mercury freezes at a temperature of 40 degrees below zero, and the lecturer's next experiment was the freezing of 95 per cent pure alcohol, for which a temperature of 202 degrees below zero is required; putting several spoonful of alcohol into a glass, he poured over it liquid air, and almost instantly the alcohol was frozen into the shape of a solid ball of ice.

No one in the audience failed to note the haste with which the professor placed the glass on the table some distance from the chair he occupied. Rubber balls were bounced upon the floor, to show their resistancy, then dipped into the liquid, thrown upon the floor again and broke.

The lecturer then showed the contrast between two temperatures. Filling a glass with liquid air, he dipped it into water, and in a short time an ice mold of the glass was formed; into this mold liquid air was poured, and a piece of carbon, the end of which had been heated to the burning point by the use of an oxygen blower, was thrust into the air; the carbon burned fiercely (a heat of 3,000 degrees being required), and at the same time cranberries were frozen in the cup. Felt cloth, dipped in the liquid, was instantly consumed when brought in contact with a flame, and there was no odor of burning hair.

Many other experiments were made, all of which were thoroughly enjoyed by all present. In conclusion the lecturer referred to the commercial value of the discovery, and predicted that it would eventually be in common use in the arts and sciences.

Prof. Woodland stated that liquid air would soon be an important rival of glycerine and dynamite and by way of illustration saturated a very small particle of cotton that was hardly visible to the audience, with oil, placed it in a strong tube, pouring a little liquid air over it and when a light was applied it exploded, the report resembling that made by the discharge of a cannon. It is impossible to confine the liquid on account of its tendency to expand, and it is carried about in open-mouthed vessels, because neither steel tubes nor anything else known are strong enough to contain it otherwise. The professor's experiments showed the possibilities of great future usefulness for this new and marvelous force.

POISON NEARLY CAUSED DEATH

Mrs. Fletcher Massey, of Pleasant Heights, Swallowed a Quantity of Laudanum.

FOUND LYING UNCONSCIOUS

Believed the Woman Took the Drug With Suicidal Intent—She Was Resuscitated With Difficulty—Jealousy Thought to Be the Cause.

Mrs. Fletcher Massey, residing on Pleasant Heights, was found at her home by a neighbor woman Thursday evening in an unconscious state. Lying by her side was an empty vial which had been filled with laudanum. It is believed Mrs. Massey took the poison with suicidal intent.

Assistance was promptly summoned and with great difficulty the woman was restored to consciousness. It was Mrs. Herbert Smith who first learned of Mrs. Massey's act. She stepped into the latter's room for a friendly call and was startled by the sight which met her gaze.

Mr. Massey had left home just a short while before and had given no inkling whatever of what was about to take place. Mrs. Smith was quick to apprehend the situation and lost no time in administering to the suffering woman. There is little doubt but that Mr. Massey would have found his wife a corpse had not Mrs. Smith happened to call at his home. She revived, however, and is now fully recovered.

It is not known why she took the poison, but it is said it was her purpose to take her life. Neighbors say that Mrs. Massey has been jealous of her husband without cause and given herself considerable worry as a result. This is believed to have prompted the act.

Mr. Massey is a well known potter and has been married only a few months.

NO PROVISION

MADE FOR THE $3,000 TO SUPPORT LIBRARY.

Wants of the Carnegie Institution Overlooked By the School Board.

In making the tax levy for city and school purposes a very important matter seems to have been overlooked. The finance committee has already made the levy for the city, and it is understood the committee appointed by the school board some time ago had decided upon a levy of 10 mills and would so report to the board Monday night.

The council committee in fixing the rate either intentionally or by accident neglected to make any provision for the maintenance of the Carnegie library, which the council or municipality had obligated themselves to do. Members of the finance committee claim this is a matter that the board of education should look after, as it comes under the same head as the public library.

The committee making the levy for the school board, in fixing up the necessary amount required, provided three-tenths of a mill for library purposes, as had been customary in former years. This is included in the 10-mill rating, but will only provide an income of $1,500 per year. The city is obligated to furnish $3,000 a year for the Carnegie institution, making the fact obvious that the remainder will necessarily have to come from some source. It is more than probable that the board of education at its meeting Monday night will rectify the mistake by either reducing the apportionment for some of the purposes already provided for in the 10-mill levy, or raise it to a point sufficient to secure the additional $1,500.

The levy being made at this time will be effective next December, and as the Carnegie library will have reached a point in its erection by that time where it will need the money, it can be seen how important it is that some provision be made for its maintenance at this time.

HAND BADLY CUT

Bert Byers Sustained a Serious Injury While at Work in a Pottery.

which may cause him serious trouble. He was carrying ware on his head and in his left hand was holding a ewer. The young man accidentally lost his footing and stumbled, the ware on his head falling in a heap.

A large wash bowl alighted with great force on the back of the head holding the ewer, inflicting a deep gash. The wound bled profusely and the injured boy was hurriedly taken to a surgeon. It was suspected the leaders of the hand were cut, but the doctor was unable to state positively. If such proves true the injury may result in the disablement of one or more of the fingers.

This is the second time Bert has been hurt within a few months. He is very popular among the employees of the pottery where he is working, and his mishap is much deplored.

SUCCESS AT LAST

MRS. GRAY PROVES HERSELF TO BE A GOOD DETECTIVE.

Has Obtained Information Whereby She Expects to Easily Locate Her Missing Husband.

Chief Thompson was again called on last night by Mrs. William Gray, the woman whose husband is missing and in company with another female. Mrs. Gray, as exclusively announced in Thursday evening's News Review, learned where her husband had last boarded during his stay in this city and that a trunk had been shipped to him.

During the past few days the woman has been busy in an effort to learn her husband's present location, and she believes she has now succeeded. Through the assistance of friends she has learned where Gray went from here, and although it is known he has again moved, Mrs. Gray anticipates no further trouble in finding him.

She informed Chief Thompson that she had obtained other information which had so convinced her of Gray's unfaithfulness and deceit that she had resolved to reject him forever. She plainly manifested her sincerity and stated she had overcome the timidity which had deterred her in carrying out her purpose to have him placed behind the bars. Mrs. Gray says if she ever gets the chance to lay hands on the woman her husband is now with she will strangle her.

Gray's arrest is now thought to be but a matter of a few days.

EYTRA POLICEMEN

Will Be Put On to Maintain Order And Quell Lawlessness Tonight.

Two extra policemen will be added to the force tonight. This will be done for the purpose of quelling disturbances which have become intolerable to citizens all over the city, and which the small boys have been causing.

Dozens of complaints have been filed with the mayor and he has determined to haul the troublesomeurchins over the coals. A resident of the West End stated this morning that three boys, Tom and Jerry Hester and Homer Amos, had been guilty of throwing stones and otherwise annoying his family, and that he wanted a stop put to the practice. The mayor will call the youngsters to account.

The officers have been kept busy endeavoring to hold the lads within the bounds of the law, but have more than they can attend to. It is the intention of the mayor to check the lawlessness on the part of the youngsters if he has to put 50 extra policemen on the force.

EQUALIZATION BOARD

Its Regular Meeting Scheduled for Next Monday—Much Work Ahead.

Next Monday, May 27, is the date fixed by law on which the board of equalization shall meet, and it is likely the board will get together at that time.

The board will have a great deal of work to attend to at this session.

Fine New Building.

Ground will be broken on Tuesday morning for the new brick business block, to be erected by Dr. Hobbs on Fifth street. The building will be 45x130, three stories in height, and will contain an elevator.

Men Rendered Unconscious and a Horse Killed by Lightning.

HUGE HAIL STONES CAME DOWN

Causing Great Damage to Farmers in Portions of Beaver County.

OVER IN WEST VIRGINIA

Buildings Were Struck By Lightning And a Young Lady Was Stunned. Hail Lay on the Ground Several Inches in Depth.

The worst wind and hailstorm that has occurred near here in many years passed over the lower part of Beaver county, Pa., last evening. The storm also wrought great damage in West Virginia, near here.

Whitman Erwin and Lacey Cisco were both rendered unconscious for more than an hour by a stroke of lightning, which killed one of the horses they were driving and set fire to the barn in which they were sheltered. Eight head of cattle were also stunned by the same bolt.

Cisco and Erwin had just driven their team into the barn which belongs to James Hanley, near Shippingport, and had not yet left the wagon when the barn was struck. The fire was extinguished before any damage was done, but the men are still suffering from the effects of the shock. Hundreds of yards of fence were blown down and the fruit trees over the entire section covered by the storm were greatly damaged.

Hail stones as large as walnuts fell for an hour and a half, and all the plants which had been set out by the gardeners near Shippingport were destroyed. The growing wheat was also beaten into the ground, and it is thought the local crop has been greatly damaged.

The storm did considerable damage at Freedom, Pa., where a cloudburst was reported, tying up the street cars and delaying traffic on the Ft. Wayne railroad, which was covered with great piles of dirt carried down by the torrents.

The storm struck the ridge near Gas Valley and Fairview, in Hancock county, with full force. The entire roof was blown off a barn belonging to Ebenezer Langfitt and a part of the roof was blown off a barn belonging to Mrs. Laura Glass. Smiley Stuart's house was struck by lightning and Miss Maud Stuart was stunned for a few minutes by the shock. A chimney was blown off William Spivey's residence in Fairview and most of the fences in the path of the storm were blown down. The hail was several inches deep at Fairview when the storm subsided.

Y. M. C. A NOTES

A. S. Young will address the 4 o'clock men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow, taking for his subject "Things Worth Knowing." It is planned to hold the Sunday services in the gymnasium during the summer, as this room is delightfully cool. The audiences at the Sunday services have been quite satisfactory so far as numbers are concerned, but the secretary hopes to be able to interest more of the young men who are not in the habit of attending any service.

The roll of the Boys' Band now numbers 109, with an average attendance of 64. The boys seem to enjoy the new departure of two weeks free in the gymnasium. Numbers 1 to 20 have the privileges of the baths and gym this and next week, 21 to 40 the following two weeks, and in like manner until all have been favored.

The new parlor furniture is nearly all in place, and the parlor is made very attractive. The association has been able to do this by the means of contributions on the part of the young people's societies in four of the churches.

That the young men appreciate this is evidenced by the delight they take in the room as it now is.

likely to Reach the Jury This Evening—The Defendant's Testimony.

Lisbon, May 25.—(Special.)—The Metzger case has reached the argument stage. It is not likely to reach the jury before 5 o'clock this evening.

The final evidence was submitted at 10:30 a. m. today, when B. S. Ambler and L. P. Metzger were called in rebuttal. By an arrangement between counsel two and one-half hours will be allowed for arguments on each side.

The evidence given by Metzger was the same as that given at the former trial, in direct, in cross-examination and in rebuttal. He made a good witness and his testimony must have made an impression upon the jury.

Mr. Ambler, in rebuttal, testified that he had received $15,500 from the firm of Stetson, Jennings & Russell, of New York; also an additional $1,000, to be paid to Mr. Metzger, according to his arrangement. GREAT DAMAGE WROUGHT BY A FIERCE MAY STORM which may cause him serious trouble. He was carrying ware on his head and in his left hand was holding a ewer. The young man accidentally lost his footing and stumbled, the ware on his head falling in a heap.

A large wash bowl alighted with great force on the back of the hand holding the ewer, inflicting a deep gash. The wound bled profusely and the injured boy was hurriedly taken to a surgeon. It was suspected the leaders of the hand were cut, but the doctor was unable to state positively. If such proves true the injury may result in the disablement of one or more of the fingers.

This is the second time Bert has been hurt within a few months. He is very popular among the employees of the pottery where he is working, and his mishap is much deplored.

SUCCESS AT LAST

MRS. GRAY PROVES HERSELF TO BE A GOOD DETECTIVE.

Has Obtained Information Whereby She Expects to Easily Locate Her Missing Husband.

Chief Thompson was again called on last night by Mrs. William Gray, the woman whose husband is missing and in company with another female. Mrs. Gray, as exclusively announced in Thursday evening's News Review, learned where her husband had last boarded during his stay in this city and that a trunk had been shipped to him.

During the past few days the woman has been busy in an effort to learn her husband's present location, and she believes she has now succeeded. Through the assistance of friends she has learned where Gray went from here, and although it is known he has again moved, Mrs. Gray anticipates no further trouble in finding him.

She informed Chief Thompson that she had obtained other information which had so convinced her of Gray's unfaithfulness and deceit that she had resolved to reject him forever. She plainly manifested her sincerity and stated she had overcome the timidity which had deterred her in carrying out her purpose to have him placed behind the bars. Mrs. Gray says if she ever gets the chance to lay hands on the woman her husband is now with she will strangle her.

Gray's arrest is now thought to be but a matter of a few days.

EYTRA POLICEMEN

Will Be Put On to Maintain Order And Quell Lawlessness Tonight.

Two extra policemen will be added to the force tonight. This will be done for the purpose of quelling disturbances which have become intolerable to citizens all over the city, and which the small boys have been causing.

Dozens of complaints have been filed with the mayor and he has determined to haul the troublesome urchins over the coals. A resident of the West End stated this morning that three boys, Tom and Jerry Hester and Homer Amos, had been guilty of throwing stones and otherwise annoying his family, and that he wanted a stop put to the practice. The mayor will call the youngsters to account.

The officers have been kept busy endeavoring to hold the lads within the bounds of the law, but have more than they can attend to. It is the intention of the mayor to check the lawlessness on the part of the youngsters if he has to put 50 extra policemen on the force.

EQUALIZATION BOARD

Its Regular Meeting Scheduled for Next Monday—Much Work Ahead.

Next Monday, May 27, is the date fixed by law on which the board of equalization shall meet, and it is likely the board will get together at that time.

The board will have a great deal of work to attend to at this session.

Fine New Building.

Ground will be broken on Tuesday morning for the new brick business block, to be erected by Dr. Hobbs on Fifth street. The building will be 45x130, three stories in height, and will contain an elevator.

Men Rendered Unconscious and a Horse Killed by Lightning.

Causing Great Damage to Farmers in Portions of Beaver County.

OVER IN WEST VIRGINIA

Buildings Were Struck By Lightning And a Young Lady Was Stunned. Hail Lay on the Ground Several Inches in Depth.

The worst wind and hailstorm that has occurred near here in many years passed over the lower part of Beaver county, Pa., last evening. The storm also wrought great damage in West Virginia, near here.

Whitman Erwin and Lacey Cisco were both rendered unconscious for more than an hour by a stroke of lightning, which killed one of the horses they were driving and set fire to the barn in which they were sheltered. Eight head of cattle were also stunned by the same bolt.

Cisco and Erwin had just driven their team into the barn which belongs to James Hanley, near Shippingport, and had not yet left the wagon when the barn was struck. The fire was extinguished before any damage was done, but the men are still suffering from the effects of the shock. Hundreds of yards of fence were blown down and the fruit trees over the entire section covered by the storm were greatly damaged.

Hail stones as large as walnuts fell for an hour and a half, and all the plants which had been set out by the gardeners near Shippingport were destroyed. The growing wheat was also beaten into the ground, and it is thought the local crop has been greatly damaged.

The storm did considerable damage at Freedom, Pa., where a cloudburst was reported, tying up the street cars and delaying traffic on the Ft. Wayne railroad, which was covered with great piles of dirt carried down by the torrents.

The storm struck the ridge near Gas Valley and Fairview, in Hancock county, with full force. The entire roof was blown off a barn belonging to Ebenezer Langfitt and a part of the roof was blown off a barn belonging to Mrs. Laura Glass. Smiley Stuart's house was struck by lightning and Miss Maud Stuart was stunned for a few minutes by the shock. A chimney was blown off William Spivey's residence in Fairview and most of the fences in the path of the storm were blown down. The hail was several inches deep at Fairview when the storm subsided.

A. S. Young will address the 4 o'clock men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow, taking for his subject "Things Worth Knowing." It is planned to hold the Sunday services in the gymnasium during the summer, as this room is delightfully cool. The audiences at the Sunday services have been quite satisfactory so far as numbers are concerned, but the secretary hopes to be able to interest more of the young men who are not in the habit of attending any service.

The roll of the Boys' Band now numbers 109, with an average attendance of 64. The boys seem to enjoy the new departure of two weeks free in the gymnasium. Numbers 1 to 20 have the privileges of the baths and gym this and next week, 21 to 40 the following two weeks, and in like manner until all have been favored.

The new parlor furniture is nearly all in place, and the parlor is made very attractive. The association has been able to do this by the means of contributions on the part of the young people's societies in four of the churches.

That the young men appreciate this is evidenced by the delight they take in the room as it now is.

GLEANINGS OF A DAY

In and About

THE LOCAL POTTERIES

The officers of the two committees dealing with the new printers' scale met in the rooms of the Potters' club last night, and wound up a few details of the work.

It was the intention of those in charge to have matters in shape to present to the main bodies of the Brotherhood and Manufacturers' association this morning, but a few minor matters yet remain to be adjusted before the list is ready for ratification. This will be attended to this evening in time for the parent organization to sign p tonight.

The list will not be ready for publication until Monday, although the committees have agreed upon the prices to govern the work on dinner sets. This part of the scale was one of the first matters taken up, and will be made a part of the completed list in about the following shape: 18 to 24 sprigg, copper plate, 4½ cents per print; 25 to 27, 4¼ cents; 28 to 30, 5 cents; 31 to 33, 5½ cents; 34 to 36, 5½ cents; 37 to 40, 6 cents. No set to be lower than the following: 3 sprigg pattern, 47½ cents; four sprigg pattern, 50 cents; five sprigg pattern, 58 cents; six sprigg pattern, 60 cents; seven sprigg pattern, 65 cents; eight sprigg pattern, 68 cents.

Five six and seven-inch plates shall be the basis for distinguishing a three-sprigg pattern from a four-sprigg pattern. For instance three spriggs on plates shall be a three-sprigg pattern, and four spriggs on plates shall be a four sprigg pattern.

The Globe pottery clay hands crossed bats with the motormen at Columbian park yesterday afternoon. The street car men had evidently profited by their defeat at the hands of the Southside team, and to regain lost laurels they put up a pretty stiff game. At the close the score stood 13 to 9 in favor of the motormen. The East End pottery team had arranged to play the motormen this afternoon, but the game was postponed until Monday afternoon. Next Friday afternoon the Globe pottery team will go up against the East End pottery nine at Columbian park. Both sides are willing to stake money on the result and the game promises to be an interesting one. The Laughlin No. 2 team are very anxious to meet the West End pottery team. At the Klondike plant the boys have been unable to form a team so far and at the National a cycling team has been formed in place of a ball team. The National boys say they are not much for base ball, but will be glad to arrange for bicycle races with the employees of any other plant in the city.

Local Union No. 30, of Akron, will present several resolutions at the national convention. One of them will be that the 1 per cent assessment be increased from 1 to 2 per cent. The other resolution is one that should meet the hearty approval of the different delegations. They feel that an increase in more than one of the branches has been accomplished, and those who have devoted their time to the advancement of the general trade should be rewarded. It is only proper remuneration for their services, and in the language of one of the potters here, it is merit recognized in a very substantial manner. The resolution will call for an increase in the salaries of both the national officials, the president and national secretary. They place the salary of national president at $1,800 per year, and the national secretary at $1,200 or possibly $1,400.

A Trenton correspondent, writing to a trade paper from Trenton, does not seem to agree with a number of statements sent out from there in regard to what the eastern members of the Brotherhood expect to ask at the coming convention. He says: "There has been some talk of putting up Frank Hutchins for president of the Brotherhood at the coming convention, but it is understood that Mr. Hutchins is opposed to this. Al S. Hughes, of East Liverpool, the present head of the organization, seeks re-election, and he will undoubtedly have the support of the west. Trenton is likely to get none of the national officers, except, perhaps a vice president."

The Globe pottery base ball club went down to defeat yesterday in a game with the motormen of the East Liverpool railway. The contest was hard-fought from start to finish and was anybody's game until the last inning was played. The score was 12 to 9. Batteries — Motormen, Crawford and Deitz; Globe, Herbert and Beriman. "Rube" Crawford played a great

Yesterday a force of men were put to work tearing out the frame wall of the old slip house at the C. C. Thompson pottery, and a brick wall will be erected in its stead. They will also fill in and raise it to the level of the new slip house, which will not be used until the first of July.

A report is current in the Dresden pottery that a young man, employed there as a decorated kiln placer, is to be married within the next few days. His chums are looking forward to the event with the anticipation of giving him a royal charivari.

James Early, who struck the thumb of his left hand with a hatchet while nailing casks at the Vodrey pottery, Monday, returned to work yesterday after a loaf of three days on account of the accident.

James Saxton has resigned his position as yellow ware slip maker at the C. C. Thompson pottery, and returned to his farm near Salineville to spend the summer farming.

William Conkle this morning stated that he did not fall into a glaze tub while at work at the Thompson pottery. Some ware fell into the tub and splashed him a little, however.

Miss Cecilia DeTemple has resigned her position as finisher at the C. C. Thompson pottery company and taken a position at the Knowles plant at Chester.

Joe Simpson resigned his position as cup handler at the Taylor, Lee & Smith pottery and yesterday went to work at a similar job at the Thompson pottery.

Thomas Croxall Thursday resigned his position as handler at the C. C. Thompson pottery and yesterday accepted a berth at the E. M. Knowles pottery at Chester.

Thomas Lownds, who has been pressing at the old end of the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles, will resign tonight and return Monday to McNicols.

The East End pottery shipped two carloads of ware to the west this morning. This is one of the largest shipments ever made at this plant.

The new handling department recently erected by the C. C. Thompson pottery company is now in operation and is in charge of Albert Rigby.

Henry Wiebel and William Terence, Jr., who were formerly employed at the East End plant, have accepted positions at the National.

The Northside baseball team would like to have a game with the Wells-ville pottery team for love or money at any time or place.

Miss Laura Schmidt, of Long Bottom, W. Va., has accepted a position in the biscuit warehouse at the National pottery.

The Vodrey Pottery company yesterday packed a car of ware for I. Levi, and it was shipped to New York today.

The new yellow ware turning shop at the Thompson pottery will be completed and placed in operation in one week.

Robert Cooley yesterday resigned his position as batter out and Sam Wilkins his as mould runner at the Thompson plant.

Frank Price has resigned as presser at Laughlin No. 2 and has gone to Wallace & Chetwynd's to stick up.

K. W. Irwin left yesterday for a trip to Cleveland in the interest of the E. M. Knowles China company.

The printers and transferrers at the Sevrer loafed yesterday, there being a shortage of ware.

Harry Smith, of Akron, has accepted a position pressing at Wallace & Chetwynd's.

A FOUR-BARREL WELL

Struck at Smith's Ferry Encourages Oil Prospectors in That Vicinity.

Affairs in the oil field about Smith's Ferry yesterday were greatly enlivened when the well on the Richard Fisher farm came in as a four-barrel producer. The well is located about two miles southwest of Smith's Ferry. The oil is of a good quality and is flowing steadily.

A number of other test wells are being drilled in this vicinity and also the proposed line of the B. & O. railroad. If the wells turn out to be even small producers, Smith's Ferry will experience a considerable revival of the oil business.

LUMBER OFFICE ROBBED

Thieves Broke Into Kerr Brothers Building And Stole Tools.

The building at Kerr Bros.' lumber yard was broken into last night and a hand saw and several other tools stolen. It was necessary to break a large padlock in order to get into the building, and it is the belief of Mr. Kerr that was done by drunks who wanted a place to sleep.

Mr. Kerr says he has a well defined idea who got the tools, and if they are not returned he will make an effort to bring the culprits to justice.

MEMORIAL SERVICES.

In many of the churches in this city and in all other cities tomorrow sermons will be preached to the surviving veterans of the civil war, in memory of their deeds and the deeds of those soldiers who have answered the final roll call. On Thursday next, in every town, village and hamlet and in almost every country district the graves of a great, silent army will be strewn with flowers, and the national colors will float above the dead. It is a beautiful custom, well observed.
 The orations and the impressive exercises teach the youth of the land a lesson in patriotism and impress upon young minds the great facts of history and the story of the sacrifices of the preservers of the union. No more touching sight can be witnessed than that of gray-haired men, some with empty sleeves and some with crutches, all past the prime of life, scattering flowers with reverent hands above the earth where rest the bones of the comrades of their youth, who shared their perils and pleasures in days that tried men's souls.

It is just and eminently proper that a day be set aside for honoring the memories of the tens of thousands of dead American soldiers. It is also proper that the living soldiers receive thoughtful care and attention. None of them are young, while many are past the allotted age of three score and ten. Not a few of them are enfeebled and not a few are poor. The dead soldiers can suffer no more; the living can. Pay all honor to the dead, but remember that duty does not end there. See that none of the living are in want, and make smooth their pathway to the grave in the few years that remain for them.

FOOLING WITH DRUGS.

Because he happened to have a headache, John P. Beal, a Pittsburgh business man, is dead. To relieve the ache he went to a drug store and had some powders compounded. He took the powders and his funeral has been arranged for. Whether he got the drug he called for or another makes no difference now. He is only one of many victims of powders that cure aches with unexpected suddenness and completeness. Had he consulted a physician, instead of prescribing for himself, he would be alive now.

Men who know nothing of medicine had best let it alone. They will live longer and be happier and have fewer aches, if they never swallow a dose that has not been prescribed by a qualified physician. There is plenty of law against the sale of poisonous and dangerous drugs, except on prescriptions, but it does not stop the traffic. If every man were a law unto himself and would buy nothing in the drug line except on a physician's advice, there would soon be a great falling off in the number of sudden deaths daily chronicled.

PUNISHMENT FOR FRAUD.

Three army officers, convicted of frauds in connection with the management of the commissary department at Manila, have just been committed to prison to serve long terms for their crimes. Simultaneously with the report of their incarceration comes a dispatch from Washington, telling of a movement undertaken with the confident purpose of securing an early pardon. This is disgraceful and disgusting. We cannot believe the scheme will succeed. If the men are guilty, as a military court has declared, they deserve their punishment, and we cannot believe that either President McKinley, Secretary Root, or any army officer of standing and influence, can be brought to think otherwise. The men have violated their oaths, disgraced their uniforms and brought reproach upon their country. Let them suffer for it.

AGUINALDO'S COMING.

Aguinaldo, if other engagements will permit him, will come to this country next fall. He wants to be here in time to see congress open and to learn something of how a great nation is run. There is a chance for Aguinaldo to learn a lot, and he will doubtless receive enough of a welcome to flatter his egotism. Let him come. He will return home a better American. When he has gained an idea of the greatness and resources of this land, he will be impressed with the folly of single-handed revolution against its authority.

The Presbyterian general assembly, having voted down a proposition to drop the subject of creed revision, will now proceed to dispose of the vexed question as the progressive element in the church has long desired it to do. Veneration for ancient things is right and proper, but a church, like a political party, cannot afford to publish to the world a platform which a majority of its members do not indorse.

Philadelphia is indicting election officers in blocks of 20 or more. From reports emanating from that city there is plenty of work ahead if the political purification of Quakerdom is to be accomplished.

Mrs. Potter Palmer, not satisfied with social conquests, seeks political honors, and will try to gain them by pushing forward her son, Honore, for a seat in congress.

Kentucky women have now taken to dueling. Women's rights advocates are evidently making gains in the Dark and Bloody ground.

FRIENDS AND VISITORS.

Mrs. J. E. Farrell left yesterday for a visit to relatives at Pittsburg.

Alfred Cartwright, of the West End, was in Salineville on business yesterday.

Mrs. Nellie Skelton has returned to her home in Alliance after a visit to Mrs. W. W. Bagley.

J. C. Cain went to Pittsburg yesterday to attend the funeral of his nephew, Elmer Cain.

Miss Carrie Stapleton is very ill at her home on West Market street, suffering from peritonitis.

Mrs. Enoch Jones and Miss Anna
 Jones, of Jethro, will leave Monday for a short visit at Salineville.

Miss Nellie Wells, of Steubenville, was a recent visitor. She attended the dance given by the Belmont club.

C. Berger and Miss Helen Dorrance, of Irontdale, were in attendance at the dance given by the Belmont club on Thursday night.

Mrs. P. King, of Canton, arrived in this city yesterday for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lowe, Washington street.

Arthur Campbell, who has been off duty for a few days on account of illness, has resumed his duties of carrying the mail from the station to the postoffice.

Sister Flora Oppelt, of Milwaukee, who has been in the city the guest of her brother, Edwin Oppelt, left yesterday for a visit to relatives at Martin's Ferry.

Mrs. Lewis Hardwick and Mrs. John Woodburn and son Howard, of Third street, are spending several days in Pittsburg with their sister, Miss Hattie Woodburn, who is in the Passavant hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Anderson yesterday received a telegram announcing the serious illness of their daughter, Mrs. Nellie Foltz, at her home in Ford City, Pa. They left on the afternoon train for that place.

F. G. Hogue, of Lincoln avenue, returned yesterday from Pittsburg. He went there Monday to be treated at Mercy hospital for a disease from which he has suffered for some time.
 The physicians were unable to locate the trouble and would not attempt an operation.

STUDENTS' BANQUET

CLASSES OF '01 AND '02 SPEND A MOST DELIGHTFUL EVENING.

Music, Feasting, Games And Dancing
 Make the Affair a Delightful
 One.

Bunting's parlors were the scene last evening of one of the most enjoyable affairs of the season. It was the reception and banquet of the class of '01 by the class of '02 of Wellsville high school.

The exercises started with an excellent little musical program upon which were the names of the Misses Emily Brooke, Edna Dugan, Flora Kampman and Harriet Silver and the Messrs. Frank E. Workman and Henry W. Blackburn.

The guests were then seated and for an hour they regaled themselves on choice viands. After dinner guessing games and a contest in pronunciation was engaged in, and Miss Helen Wells as victor received the first prize
 —a handsome book. The booby prize
 —a late edition of the Primer—was given to Miss Nellie Davis. Then dancing was indulged in until a late hour. Those from out of town were Miss Margaret Elder, of Wooster, and Henry L. Goetz, who has just arrived home from Berlin, and Guy P. Ohliger, of Richmond, Ind.

SEWER COMMISSION

Accepts Irwin Bros.' Bond And Awards a Contract to S. T.
 Dennis.

At the sewer commission meeting a communication from Consulting Engineer Riggs was read, saying that he would be present at the final acceptance of the sanitary sewer. The bid of Samuel T. Dennis to furnish material and labor and make connection from the water mains to flush tanks on the sanitary sewer for $289.50 was read and the contract awarded to Dennis at that figure. The new bond of Irwin Bros. was received and filed and the mayor and clerk ordered to enter into a contract with that firm for the construction of the sewer.

The entire commission, together with Solicitor Wells, was appointed a committee to confer with Solicitor Carey and Chief Engineer Hamilton, of the C. & P. railroad, relative to tunneling under the depot for the storm water sewer. The committee will meet the representatives of the railroad on the ground of the proposed tunnel Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

MINOR NEWS OF WELLSVILLE.

Mrs. H. C. Wooster, of the West End, is ill.

Miss Margaret Elder, of Wooster, is visiting friends in town.

Mr. Springer, of Coal street, is in Beaver attending the funeral of his brother.

Miss Beulah Wells is spending a few days with Miss Mabel Hewitt, of Arroyo, W. Va.

Guy Ohliger, of Richmond, Ind., was here yesterday attending the junior-senior banquet.

The city seems to be getting busier than is its wont. The Hotel Metropole on more than one occasion this week has been compelled to turn people away.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

At East Palestine Will Be Attended by East Liverpool Persons.

Invitations are out announcing the graduating exercises of the East Palestine high school on Thursday evening, May 30. Following are the names of the graduates: Floyd W. McKee, Adda M. Watt, Stella S. Thorpe, Edna F. Failer, William A. Fleming.

The baccalaureate sermon will be preached in the Presbyterian church
 Sunday evening by Rev. George S.
 Swezey. A number of people from East Liverpool will attend the commencement exercises.

The Cannon and Science.

The president of the French Academy of Sciences remarked in a recent address that the cannon is one of the most instructive laboratories that science possesses. It was the modern cannon, he said, which suggested the application of explosive gases to the driving of engines. The experience of the immense pressures obtained in cannon also led to the use of pressures in steam machines which a few years ago would have been regarded as impracticable. Thus experiments intended primarily for the purposes of war had resulted in the advance of the triumphs of peace.

Probably.

"That Baltimore woman who gave her pet monkey a first class funeral must have been greatly attached to the animal."

"Yes; it probably gave her a regular monkey wrench to part with it."—

PRICES HELD FIRMLY

Capacity in Producing Plants in Leading Industries Well Employed.
 Crop Advances Satisfactory.

New York, May 25.—R. G. Dun's Weekly Review of Trade, issued today, said in part:

The labor situation is the cloud hovering over the business world, but the difficulties are not sufficiently widespread at present to seriously interfere with the progress of manufacture and distribution. Some settlements of strikes have been effected during the week, and others seem probable at an early date. Meanwhile prices hold firm, the capacity of producing plants in the leading industries is well employed and crop advances are satisfactory.

A feeling of confidence in the permanence of values appears to have settled in all divisions of the iron and steel manufacture. To this may be attributed the decrease in orders for distant delivery, purchasers merely contracting for order requirements from one to two months in advance.
 Tranquility regarding the future is undoubtedly due to the action of the large combination, which has made no effort to secure exorbitant prices, but manifests an intention to maintain quotations at the current level.
 Independent producers show a disposition to work along the same lines, and the net result is less scrambling to get orders placed, but no indication that the actual demand is any smaller. Notwithstanding much talk of dullness in pig iron, Bessemer is firmly held at $16.75, delivered at Pittsburgh, or $16 at Valley furnaces.
 Foundry irons are somewhat easier.
 All lines of finished steel are crowded to the limit of productive capacity, and machinery houses at Chicago are granting machinists' demands rather than risk delay. At some other points, however, employers appear more stubborn, and there is prospect of serious interruption to business.

Woolen mills exhibit a little more activity and buy raw materials.

Correspondents report the winter wheat outlook steadily improving, and there is every reason to anticipate an abundant harvest. A few sections have slightly reduced acreage, and losses by drought in Texas may amount to the original area planted.
 Production in this state, however, is never sufficiently heavy to be an important factor in the total for the whole country. The most encouraging feature is the decrease in the amount of harm done by Russian flies, which earlier in the season threatened to be severe. In the face of better domestic crop prospects quotations continue firm, injury in Germany affecting foreign markets. Atlantic exports have been large for the past week, including flour, amounting to 3,692,413 bushels, against 2,173,356 in the same week last year and 1, 646,024 in 1899. Speculation in May corn has quieted down, but the general level of this cereal continues far above normal prices, and more liberal receipts have been attracted to interior cities; for the week 3,667,042 bushels were received, against 1,694, 786 last year. On the other hand, foreign buying is restricted, Atlantic exports being only 1,136,899 bushels, against 3,534,673 a year ago.
 Failures for the week numbered 180 in the United States, against 185 last year, and 22 in Canada, against 20 last year.

 Doan's Kidney Pills relieve back-

 Cure every kidney ill.
 East Liverpool citizens endorse them.

Mr. Thomas Laughlin, of 172 So-cold and neglected it. It settled in my back and kidneys and forced me to quit work and almost cost me my life. I could not move without suffering, and often could neither sit, stand or lie for pain. The secretions of the kidneys went wrong and distressed and annoyed me both night and day.

 I took medicines for two years, but did not get well. When I read of Doan's Kidney Pills I got a box at the W. & W. pharmacy. Noticing some improvement by the time I had taken the first half of the box, I continued until I had taken four boxes and my back was all right, as well as the urinary trouble. I will substantiate my statement of Doan Kidney Pills if any one will come to my house to investigate for themselves. My wife had some backache; she took Doan's Kidney Pills and was cured."

SECRET SOCIETIES

Question Considered by United Presbyterian Assembly, but Action Was Postponed.

Des Moines, Ia., May 25.—Discussion of changes offered by the committee on revision to article 15 of the creed of the church with regard to the admission of candidates for membership belonging to secret societies occupied the morning session of the United Presbyterian general assembly.
 No vote was reached. The matter came up in the form of the following resolution:

That while the fifteenth article of our testimony defines in a manner sufficiently explicit the general law of our church on the subject of secret societies, sessions possess and are expected to exercise a wise discretion in the administration of the law dealing with such cases as may arise upon their merit and in such a way as may best promote God's glory and the Final decision was postponed.

A FIGHTING TEACHER.

Miss Grace Rose Tried to Shoot Two School Board Members.

Detroit, Mich., May 25.—Grace Rose,
 a teacher in the Wilkins school here, drew a revolver on Dr. Thomas Henderson, chairman of the school board committee on teachers, and threatened to shoot him if his report recommending her dismissal were adopted by the board. The board delayed action. Miss Rose was refused permission to continue teaching.

She visited the office of Dr. Sherill, another member of the board, and again drew her revolver, this time re-enforced by a bottle of vitrol, which she tried to throw on the doctor. She was disarmed after a brief struggle and locked up.

CAPT. HALL IS CLEARED.

Record of the Court Martial Reached Washington.

Washington, May 25.—The record of the court martial in the case of Captain Newton Hall, United States marine corps, who was charged by Minister Conger with cowardice in connection with the defense of the legations at Peking, has just reached Washington.

Admiral Remy has promulgated the finding in a special order, which completely exonerates Captain Hall from the charge, and finds that the only matter of substance sustained in the charge is an error of judgment in connection with the withdrawal of his troops at a critical moment from the Tartar wall.

TO STUDY OUR INDUSTRIES.

Constructor Schwarz and Prof. Von

New York, May 25.—Chief Constructor Schwarz, of the German navy, and Professor Ernest von Halle have arrived in this country for the purpose of studying American shipbuilding and general industrial methods. They represent the imperial government.
 In the course of their tour they will visit the Cramps and Newport News shipbuilding plants, the Brown Hoisting and Conveying company, in Cleveland; the Baldwin Locomotive works, Philadelphia, and the Carnegie Steel company, Pittsburg.

Director Zeltz, of Bremen, has come

CAPTAIN GREEN TALKS OF SUI-
ING WELLSVILLE.Interesting Talk With the Captain of the Greenwood—The Small-pox Scare.

Health Officer Ogden received word from the health authorities at Pittsburg yesterday afternoon that the passengers and crew of the steamer Greenwood had all been vaccinated and the boat thoroughly fumigated. It was also stated that Captain Green had been given a clean bill of health and that there was no need of fear from disease.

The Greenwood reached Pittsburg at 4 o'clock Friday morning. The city physician, Dr. R. L. Taylor, and his assistants met the boat at the wharf and vaccinated all on board, 75 persons, including 45 of the crew, Captain Green, his wife and little boy, who were awakened from their slumbers. The boat left Pittsburg yesterday afternoon and reached East Liverpool at about 8:30 o'clock last evening. The freight for this point, which had been carried past on the upward trip, was unloaded.

Captain Green was greatly pleased with the treatment he received at the hands of the health officials at Pittsburg. He says if they had suspected a case of genuine smallpox had been on his boat, they would not have given him a clean bill of health until a rigid investigation had been made.

In speaking of the alleged smallpox case to a News Review reporter, Captain Green said:

"When we left Charleston there was a colored man on board whose face was covered with pimples. A lady passenger seeing him said he had the smallpox, and I suppose she circulated the report. The negro got off at West Wheeling.

"All went well until we reached Steubenville. I was in bed at the time and as there was a number of officers at the landing armed with revolvers. The crew would not land, but came on up the river. We met the same kind of a mob at Wellsville, but in spite of the threats to shoot us we unloaded what freight we had for that city."

The captain stated that one of his crew went to a saloon in company with two of the Wellsville officers and that all drank together. He says he is seriously thinking of bringing a damage suit against that city.

Information sent out from Wheeling is to the effect that a colored man, whose name is Jackson, and thought to be identical with the suspect put off the Greenwood at St. Mary's, is in a pesthouse at Wheeling. Jackson is said to have boarded a train at St. Mary's after leaving the boat and made his way to Wheeling by rail.

On the upward trip after having been forced to pass Steubenville without landing, the Greenwood made an effort to tie up at Toronto. Health Officer Thomas was on hand in time to balk the attempt, but the boat landed at the Black Horse works, where Mrs. William Rainey and children, residents of Toronto, were let off. They went to New Cumberland Thursday night, but later crossed the river again and are now in their home. The health officer has taken every precaution to avoid contagion.

BASEBALL NOTES

The members of the base ball team known as the "Hot Air Highflyers" hied themselves to Rock Springs park last evening for practice. There were two star players among the aggregation, namely Henry Bullock and M. K. Zimmerman, but Alex Stevenson, another member of the club, proved himself to be a full moon and nothing less.

At the beginning of the game, when the players were assigned their positions, Stevenson was told to hold down second base. Alex did so admirably. He rolled on it, sat down on it and even tried to stand on his head on the base—or rather, an alleged base, which was nothing other than a large and juicy batch of Hancock county mud.

The rain which had fallen in the afternoon moistened the ground to a depth of several inches, and Alex found the softest spot on the diamond, as did also the seat of his trousers. His troubles came about through his eagerness to head off a hot liner which was sent from a bat down across the diamond. He made a frantic plunge after the swiftly moving sphere, and just as he was reaching for it his feet went out from under him. Then followed a series of highly original and intensely interesting flip-flops, which brought forth voluminous applause from the grand stand. The manager was so delighted by the brilliancy of the play Alex made he raised his wages, while Henry Bullock raised Alex from the mud.

On returning to the city on a trolley car which was filled with lady passengers, Alex occupied a rear seat, and on reaching his destination disap-

A FINAL SPURT

Saved Market From Being Dullest In Amount of Business Since Election.

New York, May 25.—A final spurt of activity and strength in the stock market was all that saved the day from being the dullest in the amount of business done since the November election. As it was, business was well down towards the minimum, and was, besides, largely congested in a few stocks. The Tobacco stocks, American and Continental, were the features of the market. The volume of business in them grew as the advance progressed, and all of the room traders, hungry for a stock that would move easily, tailed on to the movement. By bidding up prices smartly they ascertained that very few selling orders for the stock were in the market above the prevailing price level. These technical conditions were responsible for the movement of the stocks so far as any news that was published would indicate.

The Eries, the Wabash, Missouri Pacific and Atchison were good points of resistance all day. The story persisted that efforts were making to secure a trunk line outlet for the Gould Southwestern railroads and Wabash; that the great trunk line proprietors had protested against this project, and that it had been threatened that Atchison would be absorbed by the Pennsylvania in retaliation. This story and its variations will be found closely related to whatever strength was shown in the day's market. The movement of Union Pacific was a notable influence on the whole market, its break to 98 being the principal factor in the early weakness of the market and its recovery at the close largely relieving the depression. The forecast of a strong bank statement, promising a recuperation in cash by the banks of nearly $5,000,000, was a revivifying influence, although there has been no lack of money to loan. The fact that no further gold was engaged for export was also a strengthening factor, not only for its immediate bearing upon the situation, but in its largest significance as indicating a relaxation in the whole foreign money situation. Cessation of the urgent demand for Northern Pacific also relieved apprehension. The result was an active and firm close in the stock market after a day of feeble and desultory fluctuations.

The bond market was irregular and only moderately active. Total sales, par value, $4,790,000.

U. S. new 4s advanced 3/4 per cent on the last call.

Collars and Fichus.

Collars will be worn more than ever both on our coats and on our dresses, and fichus, too, will be as much as ever in favor, while the old fashioned embroidery collars and vests will be seen as a trimming to the Quaker gray and black cashmeres. Those possessed of really good specimens of this embroidery will have the advantage in the construction of their new frocks.

REVISION IN DEMAND

Presbyterian Assembly Decides in Favor of It.

BAKER AMENDMENT BEATEN

Decided to Continue Consideration of
the Great Question—Among Others,
Dewitt Spoke For Dismissal and Dickey For It.

Philadelphia, May 25.—The Presbyterian general assembly, by a rising vote, which showed conclusively that a revision of the confession of faith is desired by the church, defeated the amendment dismissing the whole subject offered Thursday by Rev. George D. Baker, of Philadelphia. The assembly decided by an overwhelming majority to continue consideration of the great question. After about two days of debate, during which leading exponents of the Presbyterian doctrine throughout the country thoroughly analyzed the creed and gave their reasons for their positions regarding the subject. At the opening of the afternoon session Friday the assembly decided to vote on the amendment at 4:30 o'clock, and speeches were limited to 10 minutes. The time, however, was extended in order to give a number of commissioners who wished to be heard an opportunity of speaking.

The principal addresses of the day were made by Rev. Dr. John Dewitt, in the morning, and Rev. Dr. Charles A. Dickey, closing the debate. Rev. Dr. Dewitt favored dismissal, declaring that though there might be slight divergence of opinion on the confession, the church was united on the word of God.

Dr. Dickey took a decided stand against dismissal. He said as the question of revision was not before the assembly no evil could result from a further consideration of the committee's report.

Rev. Dr. W. H. Roberts made a plea for a declarative statement, asserting the supremacy of Holy Scripture as the only source of doctrine; that the system of the confession is the same as Holy Scripture teaches, and that infants are saved by God's electing grace.

The discussion at times was lively, but without bitterness.

Meeting of the Welsh Presbyterian Church Synod Held in Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, May 25.—The synod of Western Pennsylvania and Ohio of the Welsh Presbyterian church opened in the Welsh Presbyterian church, Second avenue and Cherry alley. The moderator, the Rev. D. M. Jones, of Venedocia, O., presided. The Rev. D. J. Davis, of Youngstown, O., is stated clerk.

The meeting was conducted almost wholly in the Welsh tongue. Two new members of the synod were admitted from other synods, the Rev. Robert Hymphres, now of Johnstown, but formerly of Wisconsin, and the Rev. W. J. Lewis, of Eastern Pennsylvania, who is now in the territory covered by the synod.

Consideration of a number of overtures from the different presbyteries of the synod occupied considerable time. They were mostly appeals for aid from churches unable to sustain themselves. Appropriations from the home mission fund of the church were made for this purpose.

LIGHT AND SHADE.

Why the Pretty Paper Does Not Look
Well When on the Wall.

A very essential feature, and a subject worthy of more study than is usually accorded it, is the treatment of light and shade in decorative art. In the selection of wall hangings the goods are placed generally where a strong light prevails. This may be very well in some cases, but how often is it we hear that the paper looks better in the piece than on the wall!

What is the reason? Is it the pattern? No. The mistake is caused by the fact that the customer has not considered the light in the room. The same defect may occur once in awhile to the decorator. For example, a room may appear to be very light when devoid of curtains, shades, furniture, etc., and in this condition the work may indeed look very satisfactory when completed. But when the room is furnished it lacks one thing—decision. What appeared to be a delicate coloring is now so delicate that it would like a pair of opera glasses to find the design.

A few other practical notes in reference to the treatment of colors in different lights which may be of service to many decorators are given by a writer in The Art Interchange, as follows:

Let me give a scheme of color for a room with a south or southwestern exposure, having at least two good sized windows. Let the ceiling be treated with a groundwork of light cinnamon, frescoed in outline with a medium shade of old gold color, the high lights to be tipped with gold leaf. Let the side walls be grounded in a sage color as high as picture molding. For frieze, make a slightly darker shade and introduce ornament in colors of old gold, deep crimson and dull pink. The cornice should be treated with special care, and I suggest that the cove should have main portion tinted in the body color of ceiling and blended down into gold at the completion of the arc. The members of the cornice above the cove should be in the lighter shades, so that the whole may blend together toward the ceiling. Woodwork should be ivory white, rubbed to a dead finish. In furnishing this room I should suggest white and gold furniture, with upholstery of light amber tint, or otherwise old rose. Carpet should be of light fawn color, with just sufficient color in relief to show design. This would make a very desirable reception room or parlor.

We will take, as another example, a music room with a western outlook—a shady retreat, as it were. Let the ceiling be of a medium shade of old rose color, with stile about 18 inches around it in peacock blue. Let ornamentation be in the main body of the ceiling and consist of corners, breaks and lines of geometrical figures, to be in darker shade of body color, with strong lines of deep brown between center and stile. Let the side walls be in a dull and distinct shade of terra cotta, leaving space for frieze about 14 inches. Let 2 1/2 inches on top and bottom of frieze be tinted in freestone color, the remaining nine inches in purple brown. Now take a double stencil of Grecian key border with eight inch figure and use light freestone color for same. As a relief, make a panel, or break, each three feet around room, the same height in full as frieze.

San Francisco, May 25.—President McKinley completed the program in this city, having met every organization included in the original schedule. Mrs. McKinley's health has so far improved that the president and his party will begin the return journey to the national capital about 10 a. m. today.

The president's public functions Friday included a reception at the Scott residence to the members of the foreign consular representatives in this city, a reception at the Palace hotel by the Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution and the Loyal Legion, in honor of the president, and a review of the school children of Oakland. The president spent the evening quietly at the Scott residence, resting and superintending arrangements for today's departure.

Encouraged by Some Filipino Judges, Likely to Lose Their Jobs.

Manila, May 25.—The discontent among the natives at the appointment of American judges and alleged discriminations in the civil service in favor of Americans was finding expression, encouraged by some of the native judges, who are aware that the reorganization of the judiciary will result in the loss of their positions.

Judge Ner, of the court of first instance, of Tondo, one of the leaders of what is beginning to be called the radical wing of the federalists, declared that if such things continue there will be a second revolution. Some of the prominent federalists ridicule the prediction.

The Philippine commission's selections of judges were thoroughly considered. It is undeniable that most of the native judges lack the competence required. One of them has been removed for malfeasance and others are suspected of irregularities. The classifications of the civil service avoid discrimination, but native and Spanish qualifications are not equal to those of capable Americans. Some departments are employing natives at the risk of temporary inconvenience.

After a conference with General MacArthur, General Trias has undertaken negotiations at Lucban for the surrender of General Cailles, which is daily expected.

CONTINUOUS SCALE.

Proposition Under Consideration by the Amalgamated Committee.

Milwaukee, May 25.—The continuous scale, which shall be in force year after year, is the proposition which the wage committee of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers is now working upon. If this plan should meet with success it will do away with much friction between the manufacturers and the association in the future. A member of the wage committee stated that the continuous scale scheme is being worked out slowly and probably will include a provision calling for a notice of 60 or 90 days from a certain period by either party desiring a readjustment of any special feature.

Expelled Cadets Ceclined Places.

New York, May 25.—Three of the five West Point cadets recently expelled for insubordination, Mahaffey, Clinton and Cleveland, who were offered places by General Francis Vinton Greene, president of the New York and Bermuda Asphalt company, declined to accept the positions offered them. They told General Greene and General Avery D. Andrews, both of them West Pointers, that it was their intention to go to Washington today and there try to bring about a reversal of the decision.

Strike Became General.

Reading, Pa., May 25.—The strike at the tube works of the Reading Iron company, inaugurated some three weeks ago, is now general as far as the mills of that company are concerned in this city. A communication was sent to President Baer, in which a general increase of 10 to 15 percent in the wages was demanded at all of the mills. No answer was given and the joint committee issued orders calling out all of the men at the sheet, Oley street and Ninth street mills.

Elected a Pittsburger.

Columbus, O., May 25.—The National Association of Car Inspectors elected James Jackson, of Pittsburg, supreme inspector, and selected Philadelphia for the meeting of May, 1903.

Lost Manuscript Found.

London, May 25.—The full score of Purcell's "Fairy Queen," which had been missing for 200 years, has been discovered in the library of the Royal Academy of Music, among a pile of manuscripts.

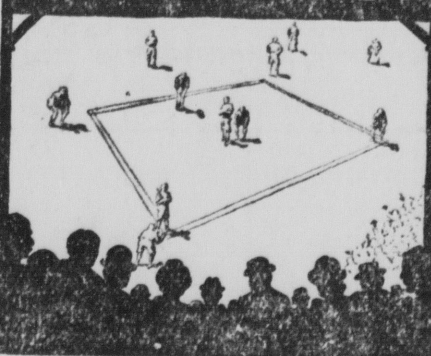

Two Fatalities.

DuBois, Pa., May 25.—Roy Moody, 17-year-old boy, of Driftwood, was killed by a train of cars running over him. Frank Alexander was killed at the Falls Creek stone quarry by a falling derrick.

Slight Fire in a Capitol.

Albany, N. Y., May 25.—Great excitement was caused at the capitol by the discovery of a fire in a room filled with waste paper. A part of the Albany fire department was called out to extinguish the blaze. The damage was trifling.

BASEBALL

Many of the critics are talking this year of the lack of team work so plainly noticeable in many of the games played by both the National and American league clubs. It is a fact and is largely due to the backward spring and consequent lack of preliminary practice as well as the fact that the frequent changing about of players has been a drawback to scientific ball playing.

The team work will, however, improve as the season advances. At the same time this feature in baseball plays a more important part in the success of a team than many people seem to think.

There never has been a team in any of the great leagues which succeeded in winning a championship unless team work played an important part in the

his friends are not frightened by his spring coquetting.

Another feature which has made friends for Johnson's league this year is the fact that the games have been conducted in a sportsmanlike manner and there has been little rowdiness among the players either on or off the field. Johnson, even when he was a scribe in Cincinnati, was a stickler for clean ball, and now that he is the czar of an organization he finds that it pays to stick to his early convictions. He certainly saw enough of the tough side of baseball when he was recording base hits from the reporters' stand.

Baltimore is well satisfied with the conditions as they are, and American league ball is sure to be popular there. McGraw and Robinson are popular idols, and it is doubtful if an opposition team there would have much of a chance. There is one thing, however, that the Orioles will not stand for, and that is a losing team, not even for "Mugsy" and "Robby."

Hanlon has taught the Baltimore fans what first class baseball is, and they don't want anything else. So long as McGraw can keep his men somewhere near the front he will have clear sailing. If he falls behind, his woes will multiply amazingly.

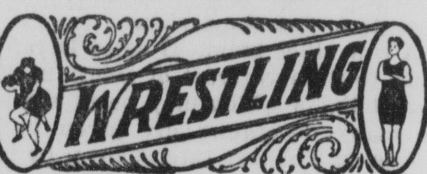

It looks now as if the Orioles are weak in pitchers. Two first class twirlers are held by few teams, but two men are not enough. If McGraw does not strengthen his pitching department before the interchange of games with the western teams, he is likely to have trouble on his hands. He has in McGinnity one of the greatest pitchers that ever lived and a man of iron constitution. McGinnity made the mistake of doing too much work last year, but I don't think he will do it again this year, much as he likes the extra envelope on pay day.

New York has a pitcher who promises to do excellent work this year, if he, too, is not called to pitch his arm off early in the race. Matthewson seems to be a natural twirler. His command is good and his speed terrific. It is that terrific speed which has caught my eye. Some of his friends maintain that he can send the ball over the plate with even more speed than Amos Rusie ever did. I question that, but he certainly has speed to burn.

Veterans are glad to see Jack Meneff back in pitching harness. When Meneff goes to Pittsburg, the natives of his home town shut up shop and talk nothing but ball. When not in one of the big leagues, Meneff plays with the Meneff team at Monessen, near Pittsburg, where seven of the Meneff brothers play.

Detroit is making some famous ninth inning rallies, which reminds one of the sensational finishes of the New York team in 1894. New York that year batted out more victories in the last two innings than any other professional team ever did in this country. Ward's men were always dangerous until the last man had been put out.

GEORGE E. STACKHOUSE.

Nourouh, the huge Turk who recently defeated Tom Jenkins, the Cleveland mill worker, in Madison Square Garden, New York, for the world's wrestling championship, is a unique figure among athletes. The sultan's formidable subject is probably the largest man who ever entered a wrestling competition in this country. He weighs 346 pounds, is a giant in stature, and his strength is enormous.

Nourouh fulfilled the general expectation when he won the match by the sheer force of his weight. He literally smothered Jenkins, who thereby lost the champion's title, which he had wrested from Ernest Roebber but a few weeks before.

From the viewpoint of experts on wrestling the Turk does not possess a very marked amount of knowledge of the fine points of the art. He counterbalances this failing, however, with his brute force. While this latter quality does not, as a rule, prove to be so valuable to a wrestler as a thorough understanding of the scientific side, yet the overwhelming advantage held by Nourouh in this respect has made him the peer of all other performers on the mat.

Martin Julian, the former manager of Bob Fitzsimmons, takes care of Nourouh's business arrangements and will probably take his cumbersome charge on an exhibition throughout the larger cities of the country.

Kid Gleason's Revival.

Kid Gleason is playing fast ball. He has been working wonders for the Detroit American league team both at the bat and in his position at second base.

HOWEWORTH OIL FIELD

Excitement Increased by the Showing Made by Wells Lately Drilled.

Homeworth, May 25.—The Homeworth oil field is still attracting a large number of oil operators and the excitement is not abating. Last Saturday three new wells were drilled immediately south of the former producing wells. One of these is pronounced the best well yet struck and estimates are from 30 to 65 barrels per day. Another one is reported good for from 10 to 15 barrels, while the third and the one farthest west is a small producer and good for from 3 to 5 barrels when pumped. These new wells are within perhaps 100 yards of the former producing wells.

At the wells formerly reported, there is a great showing for oil. At one of these two 250-barrel tanks are full at each well and their capacity has not been tested. Some means for conveying it to a point for shipment is now wanting. Leases are in great demand, and while they do not command the fabulous prices of the Texas field, nevertheless they have a big commercial value, and are daily advancing. The theory now advanced is that the pool is in the northwest course from the nest of wells now producing.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer $100 for any case it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. 1,000,000 WOMEN RELIEVED

Reports received show that Wine of Cardui has brought permanent relief to 1,000,000 suffering women in the last few years. Because of Wine of Cardui, thousands of sufferers, seemingly on the way to premature graves, are now healthy women taking an active interest in the duties of life. Mrs. Mitchell was declining in health when Wine of Cardui "performed a miraculous cure" in her case. She suffered terribly with the agonies of falling of the womb, leucorrhoea and profuse menstruation. The weekly appearance of the menses for two months sapped her vitality until she was little better than a physical wreck. Her nervous system gave way under the terrible pain and aggravation. Then came the trial of Wine of Cardui and the cure. Mrs. Mitchell's experience ought to commend Wine of Cardui to suffering women in words of burning eloquence. The Wine is within the reach of all. Woman who try it are relieved. You can get as much benefit as Mrs. Mitchell received. Ask your druggist for Wine of Cardui. Send to the laboratory for the medicine if he tenders you a substitute.

WINE of CARDUI

South Gaston, N. C., May 22, 1899. Wine of Cardui and Theodor's Black-Dracht have performed a miraculous cure in my case. I have been a great sufferer from falling of the womb and leucorrhoea, and my menses came every week for two months and became very painful. I was in a bad condition. My husband induced me to try Wine of Cardui and Black-Dracht, and now I have no pain. The leucorrhoea has disappeared and now I am in perfect health. Mrs. WILLIE MITCHELL.

MEMORIAL SERVICES.

In many of the churches in this city and in all other cities tomorrow services will be preached to the surviving veterans of the civil war, in memory of their deeds and the deeds of those soldiers who have answered the final roll call. On Thursday next, in every town, village and hamlet and in almost every country district the graves of a great, silent army will be strewn with flowers, and the national colors will float above the dead. It is a beautiful custom, well observed. The orations and the impressive exercises teach the youth of the land a lesson in patriotism and impress upon young minds the great facts of history and the story of the sacrifices of the preservers of the union. No more touching sight can be witnessed than that of gray-haired men, some with empty sleeves and some with crutches, all past the prime of life, scattering flowers with reverent hands above the earth where rest the bones of the comrades of their youth, who shared their perils and pleasures in days that tried men's souls.

It is just and eminently proper that a day be set aside for honoring the memories of the tens of thousands of dead American soldiers. It is also proper that the living soldiers receive thoughtful care and attention. None of them are young, while many are past the allotted age of three score and ten. Not a few of them are enfeebled and not a few are poor. The dead soldiers can suffer no more; the living can. Pay all honor to the dead, but remember that duty does not end there. See that none of the living are in want, and make smooth their pathway to the grave in the few years that remain for them.

FOOLING WITH DRUGS.

Because he happened to have a headache, John P. Beal, a Pittsburgh business man, is dead. To relieve the ache he went to a drug store and had some powders compounded. He took the powders and his funeral has been arranged for. Whether he got the drug he called for or another makes no difference now. He is only one of many victims of powders that cure aches with unexpected suddenness and completeness. Had he consulted a physician, instead of prescribing for himself, he would be alive now.

Men who know nothing of medicine had best let it alone. They will live longer and be happier and have fewer aches, if they never swallow a dose that has not been prescribed by a qualified physician. There is plenty of law against the sale of poisonous and dangerous drugs, except on prescriptions, but it does not stop the traffic. If every man were a law unto himself and would buy nothing in the drug line except on a physician's advice, there would soon be a great falling off in the number of sudden deaths daily chronicled.

PUNISHMENT FOR FRAUD.

Three army officers, convicted of frauds in connection with the management of the commissary department at Manila, have just been committed to prison to serve long terms for their crimes. Simultaneously with the report of their incarceration comes a dispatch from Washington, telling of a movement undertaken with the confident purpose of securing an early pardon. This is disgraceful and disgusting. We cannot believe the scheme will succeed. If the men are guilty, as a military court has declared, they deserve their punishment, and we cannot believe that either President McKinley, Secretary Root, or any army officer of standing and influence, can be brought to think otherwise. The men have violated their oaths, disgraced their uniforms and brought reproach upon their country. Let them suffer for it.

AGUINALDO'S COMING.

Aguinaldo, if other engagements will permit him, will come to this country next fall. He wants to be here in time to see congress open and to learn something of how a great nation is run. There is a chance for Aguinaldo to learn a lot, and he will doubtless receive enough of a welcome to flatter his egotism. Let him come. He will return home a better American. When he has gained an idea of the greatness and resources of this land, he will be impressed with the folly of single-handed revolution against its authority.

The Presbyterian general assembly, having voted down a proposition to drop the subject of creed revision, will now proceed to dispose of the vexed question as the progressive element in the church has long desired it to do. Veneration for ancient things is right and proper, but a church, like a political party, cannot afford to publish to the world a platform which a majority of its members do not indorse.

Philadelphia is indicting election officers in blocks of 20 or more. From reports emanating from that city there is plenty of work ahead if the political purification of Quakerdom is to be accomplished.

Mrs. Potter Palmer, not satisfied with social conquests, seeks political honors, and will try to gain them by pushing forward her son, Honore, for a seat in congress.

Kentucky women have now taken to dueling. Women's rights advocates are evidently making gains in the Dark and Bloody ground.

FRIENDS AND VISITORS.

Mrs. J. E. Farrell left yesterday for a visit to relatives at Pittsburg.

Alfred Cartwright, of the West End, was in Salineville on business yesterday.

Mrs. Nellie Skelton has returned to her home in Alliance after a visit to Mrs. W. W. Bagley.

J. C. Cain went to Pittsburg yesterday to attend the funeral of his nephew, Elmer Cain.

Miss Carrie Stapleton is very ill at her home on West Market street, suffering from peritonitis.

Mrs. Enoch Jones and Miss Anna Jones, of Jethro, will leave Monday for a short visit at Salineville.

Miss Nellie Wells, of Steubenville, was a recent visitor. She attended the dance given by the Belmont club.

C. Berger and Miss Helen Dorrance, of Irondale, were in attendance at the dance given by the Belmont club on Thursday night.

Mrs. P. King, of Canton, arrived in this city yesterday for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lowe, Washington street.

Arthur Campbell, who has been off duty for a few days on account of illness, has resumed his duties of carrying the mail from the station to the postoffice.

Sister Flora Oppelt, of Milwaukee, who has been in the city the guest of her brother, Edwin Oppelt, left yesterday for a visit to relatives at Martin's Ferry.

Mrs. Lewis Hardwick and Mrs. John Woodburn and son Howard, of Third street, are spending several days in Pittsburg with their sister, Miss Hattie Woodburn, who is in the Passavant hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Anderson yesterday received a telegram announcing the serious illness of their daughter, Mrs. Nellie Foltz, at her home in Ford City, Pa. They left on the afternoon train for that place.

F. G. Hogue, of Lincoln avenue, returned yesterday from Pittsburg. He went there Monday to be treated at Mercy hospital for a disease from which he has suffered for some time. The physicians were unable to locate the trouble and would not attempt an operation.

WELLSVILLE

STUDENTS' BANQUET

CLASSES OF '01 AND '02 SPEND A MOST DELIGHTFUL EVENING.

Music, Feasting, Games And Dancing Make the Affair a Delightful One.

Bunting's parlors were the scene last evening of one of the most enjoyable affairs of the season. It was the reception and banquet of the class of '01 by the class of '02 of Wellsville high school.

The exercises started with an excellent little musical program upon which were the names of the Misses Emily Brooke, Edna Dugan, Flora Kampman and Harriet Silver and the Messrs. Frank E. Workman and Henry W. Blackburn.

The guests were then seated and for an hour they regaled themselves on choice viands. After dinner guessing games and a contest in pronunciation was engaged in, and Miss Helen Wells as victor received the first prize—a handsome book. The booby prize—a late edition of the Primer—was given to Miss Nellie Davis. Then dancing was indulged in until a late hour. Those from out of town were Miss Margaret Elder, of Wooster, and Henry L. Goetz, who has just arrived home from Berlin, and Guy P. Ohliger, of Richmond, Ind.

SEWER COMMISSION

Accepts Irwin Bros.' Bond And Awards a Contract to S. T. Dennis.

At the sewer commission meeting a communication from Consulting Engineer Riggs was read, saying that he would be present at the final acceptance of the sanitary sewer. The bid of Samuel T. Dennis to furnish material and labor and make connection from the water mains to flush tanks on the sanitary sewer for $289.50 was read and the contract awarded to Dennis at that figure. The new bond of Irwin Bros. was received and filed and the mayor and clerk ordered to enter into a contract with that firm for the construction of the sewer.

The entire commission, together with Solicitor Wells, was appointed a committee to confer with Solicitor Carey and Chief Engineer Hamilton, of the C. & P. railroad, relative to tunneling under the depot for the storm water sewer. The committee will meet the representatives of the railroad on the ground of the proposed tunnel Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

MINOR NEWS OF WELLSVILLE.

Mrs. H. C. Wooster, of the West End, is ill.

Miss Margaret Elder, of Wooster, is visiting friends in town.

Mr. Springer, of Coal street, is in Beaver attending the funeral of his brother.

Miss Beulah Wells is spending a few days with Miss Mabel Hewitt, of Arroyo, W. Va.

Guy Ohliger, of Richmond, Ind., was here yesterday attending the junior-senior banquet.

The city seems to be getting busier than is its wont. The Hotel Metropole on more than one occasion this week has been compelled to turn people away.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

At East Palestine Will Be Attended by East Liverpool Persons.

Invitations are out announcing the graduating exercises of the East Palestine high school on Thursday evening, May 30. Following are the names of the graduates: Floyd W. McKee, Adda M. Watt, Stella S. Thorpe, Edna F. Faller, William A. Fleming.

The baccalaureate sermon will be preached in the Presbyterian church Sunday evening by Rev. George S. Swezey. A number of people from East Liverpool will attend the commencement exercises.

The Cannon and Science.

The president of the French Academy of Sciences remarked in a recent address that the cannon is one of the most instructive laboratories that science possesses. It was the modern cannon, he said, which suggested the application of explosive gases to the driving of engines. The experience of the immense pressures obtained in cannon also led to the use of pressures in steam machines which a few years ago would have been regarded as impracticable. Thus experiments intended primarily for the purposes of war had resulted in the advance of the triumphs of peace.

PRICES HELD FIRMLY

Capacity in Producing Plants in Leading Industries Well Employed. Crop Advances Satisfactory.

New York, May 25.—R. G. Dun's Weekly Review of Trade, issued today, said in part:

The labor situation is the cloud hovering over the business world, but the difficulties are not sufficiently widespread at present to seriously interfere with the progress of manufacture and distribution. Some settlements of strikes have been effected during the week, and others seem probable at an early date. Meanwhile prices hold firm, the capacity of producing plants in the leading industries is well employed and crop advances are satisfactory.

A feeling of confidence in the permanence of values appears to have settled in all divisions of the iron and steel manufacture. To this may be attributed the decrease in orders for distant delivery, purchasers merely contracting for order requirements from one to two months in advance. Tranquillity regarding the future is undoubtedly due to the action of the large combination, which has made no effort to secure exorbitant prices, but manifests an intention to maintain quotations at the current level. Independent producers show a disposition to work along the same lines, and the result is less scrambling to get orders placed, but no indication that the actual demand is any smaller. Notwithstanding much talk of dullness in pig iron, Bessemer is firmly held at $16.75, delivered at Pittsburg, or $16 at Valley furnaces. Foundry irons are somewhat easier. All lines of finished steel are crowded to the limit of productive capacity, and machinery houses at Chicago are granting machinists' demands rather than risk delay. At some other points, however, employers appear more stubborn, and there is prospect of serious interruption to business.

Correspondents report the winter wheat outlook steadily improving, and there is every reason to anticipate an abundant harvest. A few sections have slightly reduced acreage, and losses by drought in Texas may amount to the original area planted. Production in this state, however, is never sufficiently heavy to be an important factor in the total for the whole country. The most encouraging feature is the decrease in the amount of harm done by Russian flies, which earlier in the season threatened to be severe. In the face of better domestic crop prospects quotations continue firm, injury in Germany affecting foreign markets. Atlantic exports have been large for the past week, including flour, amounting to 3,692,413 bushels, against 2,173,356 in the same week last year and 1,646,024 in 1899. Speculation in May corn has quieted down, but the general level of this cereal continues far above normal prices, and more liberal receipts have been attracted to interior cities; for the week 3,667,042 bushels were received, against 1,694,786 last year. On the other hand, foreign buying is restricted, Atlantic exports being only 1,136,899 bushels, against 3,534,673 a year ago. Failures for the week numbered 180 in the United States, against 185 last year, and 22 in Canada, against 20 last year.

Just As Scores of East Liverpool People Have.

Waiting doesn't pay. If you neglect the aching back. Urinary troubles, diabetes, surely follow.

East Liverpool citizens endorse them.

Mr. Thomas Laughlin, of 172 Sophia street, engineer, says: "I caught cold and neglected it. It settled in my back and kidneys and forced me to quit work and almost cost me my life. I could not move without suffering, and often could neither sit, stand or lie for pain. The secretions of the kidneys went wrong and distressed and annoyed me both night and day. I took medicines for two years, but did not get well. When I read of Doan's Kidney Pills I got a box at the W. & W. pharmacy. Noticing some improvement by the time I had taken the first half of the box, I continued until I had taken four boxes and my back was all right, as well as the urinary trouble. I will substantiate my statement of Doan's Kidney Pills if any one will come to my house to investigate for themselves. My wife had some backache; she took Doan's Kidney Pills and was cured."

SECRET SOCIETIES

Question Considered by United Presbyterian Assembly, but Action Was Postponed.

Des Moines, Ia., May 25.—Discussion of changes offered by the committee on revision to article 15 of the creed of the church with regard to the admission of candidates for membership belonging to secret societies occupied the morning session of the United Presbyterian general assembly. No vote was reached. The matter came up in the form of the following resolution:

That while the fifteenth article of our testimony defines in a manner sufficiently explicit the general law of our church on the subject of secret societies, sessions possess and are expected to exercise a wise discretion in the administration of the law dealing with such cases as may arise upon their merit and in such a way as may best promote God's glory and the Final decision was postponed.

A FIGHTING TEACHER.

Miss Grace Rose Tried to Shoot Two School Board Members.

Detroit, Mich., May 25.—Grace Rose, a teacher in the Wilkins school here, drew a revolver on Dr. Thomas Henderson, chairman of the school board committee on teachers, and threatened to shoot him if his report recommending her dismissal were adopted by the board. The board delayed action. Miss Rose was refused permission to continue teaching.

She visited the office of Dr. Sherill, another member of the board, and again drew her revolver, this time reinforced by a bottle of vitrol, which she tried to throw on the doctor. She was disarmed after a brief struggle and locked up.

CAPT. HALL IS CLEARED.

Record of the Court Martial Reached Washington.

Washington, May 25.—The record of the court martial in the case of Captain Newton Hall, United States marine corps, who was charged by Minister Conger with cowardice in connection with the defense of the legations at Peking, has just reached Washington.

Admiral Remy has promulgated the finding in a special order, which completely exonerates Captain Hall from the charge, and finds that the only matter of substance sustained in the charge is an error of judgment in connection with the withdrawal of his troops at a critical moment from the Tartar wall.

TO STUDY OUR INDUSTRIES.

Constructor Schwarz and Prof. Von Halle in United States.

New York, May 25.—Chief Constructor Schwarz, of the German navy, and Professor Ernest von Halle have arrived in this country for the purpose of studying American shipbuilding and general industrial methods. They represent the imperial government.

In the course of their tour they will visit the Cramps and Newport News shipbuilding plants, the Brown Hoisting and Conveying company, in Cleveland; the Baldwin Locomotive works, Philadelphia, and the Carnegie Steel company, Pittsburg.

Director Zeltz, of Bremen, has come to the United States to purchase machinery for a new shipbuilding plant.

Killed Girl and Suicided.

New York, May 25.—William Woodhull, a farmer, residing at Laurel, Long Island, shot and killed Martha Williamson, a neighbor, and then committed suicide. What led to the tragedy has not yet been made clear, but it is said that the woman had been gossiping a good deal about Woodhull and a young lady living at Sayville, to whom he was engaged.

CAPTAIN GREEN TALKS OF SUING WELLSVILLE.

Interesting Talk With the Captain of the Greenwood—The Smallpox Scare.

Health Officer Ogden received word from the health authorities at Pittsburgh yesterday afternoon that the passengers and crew of the steamer Greenwood had all been vaccinated and the boat thoroughly fumigated. It was also stated that Captain Green had been given a clean bill of health and that there was no need of fear from disease.

The Greenwood reached Pittsburgh at 4 o'clock Friday morning. The city physician, Dr. R. L. Taylor, and his assistants met the boat at the wharf and vaccinated all on board, 75 persons, including 45 of the crew, Captain Green, his wife and little boy, who were awakened from their slumbers. The boat left Pittsburgh yesterday afternoon and reached East Liverpool at about 8:30 o'clock last evening. The freight for this point, which had been carried past on the upward trip, was unloaded.

Captain Green was greatly pleased with the treatment he received at the hands of the health officials at Pittsburgh. He says if they had suspected a case of genuine smallpox had been on his boat, they would not have given him a clean bill of health until a rigid investigation had been made.

In speaking of the alleged smallpox case to a News Review reporter, Captain Green said:

"When we left Charleston there was a colored man on board whose face was covered with pimples. A lady passenger seeing him said he had the smallpox, and I suppose she circulated the report. The negro got off at West Wheeling.

"All went well until we reached Steubenville. I was in bed at the time and as there was a number of officers at the landing armed with revolvers. The crew would not land, but came on up the river. We met the same kind of a mob at Wellsville, but in spite of the threats to shoot us we unloaded what freight we had for that city."

The captain stated that one of his crew went to a saloon in company with two of the Wellsville officers and that all drank together. He says he is seriously thinking of bringing a damage suit against that city.

Information sent out from Wheeling is to the effect that a colored man, whose name is Jackson, and thought to be identical with the suspect put off the Greenwood at St. Mary's, is in a pethouse at Wheeling. Jackson is said to have boarded a train at St. Mary's after leaving the boat and made his way to Wheeling by rail.

On the upward trip after having been forced to pass Steubenville without landing, the Greenwood made an effort to tie up at Toronto. Health Officer Thomas was on hand in time to balk the attempt, but the boat landed at the Black Horse works, where Mrs. William Rainey and children, residents of Toronto, were let off. They went to New Cumberland Thursday night, but later crossed the river again and are now in their home. The health officer has taken every precaution to avoid contagion.

BASEBALL NOTES

The members of the base ball team known as the "Hot Air Highfliers" hied themselves to Rock Springs park last evening for practice. There were two star players among the aggregation, namely Henry Bullock and M. K. Zimmerman, but Alex Stevenson, another member of the club, proved himself to be a full moon and nothing less.

At the beginning of the game, when the players were assigned their positions, Stevenson was told to hold down second base. Alex did so admirably. He rolled on it, sat down on it and even tried to stand on his head on the base—or rather, an alleged base, which was nothing other than a large and juicy batch of Hancock county mud.

The rain which had fallen in the afternoon moistened the ground to a depth of several inches, and Alex found the softest spot on the diamond, as did also the seat of his trousers. His troubles came about through his eagerness to head off a hot liner which was sent from a bat down across the diamond. He made a frantic plunge after the swiftly moving sphere, and just as he was reaching for it his feet went out from under him. Then followed a series of highly original and intensely interesting flip-flops, which brought forth voluminous applause from the grand stand. The manager was so delighted by the brilliancy of the play Alex made he raised his wages, while Henry Bullock raised Alex from the mud.

On returning to the city on a trolley car which was filled with lady passengers, Alex occupied a rear seat, and on reaching his destination disap-

REVISION IN DEMAND

Presbyterian Assembly Decides in Favor of It.

BAKER AMENDMENT BEATEN

Decided to Continue Consideration of the Great Question—Among Others, Dewitt Spoke For Dismissal and Dickey For It.

Philadelphia, May 25.—The Presbyterian general assembly, by a rising vote, which showed conclusively that a revision of the confession of faith is desired by the church, defeated the amendment dismissing the whole subject offered Thursday by Rev. George D. Baker, of Philadelphia. The assembly decided by an overwhelming majority to continue consideration of the great question. After about two days of debate, during which leading exponents of the Presbyterian doctrine throughout the country thoroughly analyzed the creed and gave their reasons for their positions regarding the subject. At the opening of the afternoon session Friday the assembly decided to vote on the amendment at 4:30 o'clock, and speeches were limited to 10 minutes. The time, however, was extended in order to give a number of commissioners who wished to be heard an opportunity of speaking.

The principal addresses of the day were made by Rev. Dr. John Dewitt, in the morning, and Rev. Dr. Charles A. Dickey, closing the debate. Rev. Dr. Dewitt favored dismissal, declaring that though there might be slight divergence of opinion on the confession, the church was united on the word of God.

Dr. Dickey took a decided stand against dismissal. He said as the question of revision was not before the assembly no evil could result from a further consideration of the committee's report.

Rev. Dr. W. H. Roberts made a plea for a declarative statement, asserting the supremacy of Holy Scripture as the only source of doctrine; that the system of the confession is the same as Holy Scripture teaches, and that infants are saved by God's electing grace.

The discussion at times was lively, but without bitterness.

Meeting of the Welsh Presbyterian Church Synod Held in Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh, May 25.—The synod of Western Pennsylvania and Ohio of the Welsh Presbyterian church opened in the Welsh Presbyterian church, Second avenue and Cherry alley. The moderator, the Rev. D. M. Jones, of Venedocia, O., presided. The Rev. D. J. Davis, of Youngstown, O., is stated clerk.

The meeting was conducted almost wholly in the Welsh tongue. Two new members of the synod were admitted from other synods, the Rev. Robert Hymphres, now of Johnstown, but formerly of Wisconsin, and the Rev. W. J. Lewis, of Eastern Pennsylvania, who is now in the territory covered by the synod.

Consideration of a number of overtures from the different presbyteries of the synod occupied considerable time. They were mostly appeals for aid from churches unable to sustain themselves. Appropriations from the home mission fund of the church were made for this purpose.

LIGHT AND SHADE.

Why the Pretty Paper Does Not Look Well When on the Wall.

A very essential feature, and a subject worthy of more study than is usually accorded it, is the treatment of light and shade in decorative art. In the selection of wall hangings the goods are placed generally where a strong light prevails. This may be very well in some cases, but how often is it we hear that the paper looks better in the piece than on the wall!

What is the reason? Is it the pattern? No. The mistake is caused by the fact that the customer has not considered the light in the room. The same defect may occur once in awhile to the decorator. For example, a room may appear to be very light when devoid of curtains, shades, furniture, etc., and in this condition the work may indeed look very satisfactory when completed. But when the room is furnished it lacks one thing—decision. What appeared to be a delicate design is now so delicate that it would like a pair of opera glasses to find the design.

A few other practical notes in reference to the treatment of colors in different lights which may be of service to many decorators are given by a writer in The Art Interchange, as follows:

Let me give a scheme of color for a room with a south or southwestern exposure, having at least two good sized windows. Let the ceiling be treated with a groundwork of light cinnamon, frescoed in outline with a medium shade of old gold color, the high lights to be tipped with gold leaf. Let the side walls be grounded in a sage color as high as picture molding. For frieze, make a slightly darker shade and introduce ornament in colors of old gold, deep crimson and dull pink. The cornice should be treated with special care, and I suggest that the cove should have main portion tinted in the body color of ceiling and blended down into gold at the completion of the arc. The members of the cornice above the cove should be in the lighter shades, so that the whole may blend together toward the ceiling. Woodwork should be ivory white, rubbed to a dead finish. In furnishing this room I should suggest white and gold furniture, with upholstery of light amber tint, or otherwise old rose. Carpet should be of light fawn color, with just sufficient color in relief to show design. This would make a very desirable reception room or parlor.

We will take, as another example, a music room with a western outlook—a shady retreat, as it were. Let the ceiling be of a medium shade of old rose color, with stile about 18 inches around it in peacock blue. Let ornamentation be in the main body of the ceiling and consist of corners, breaks and lines of geometrical figures, to be in darker shade of body color, with strong lines of deep brown between center and stile. Let the side walls be in a dull and distinct shade of terra cotta, leaving space for frieze about 14 inches. Let 2½ inches on top and bottom of frieze be tinted in freestone color, the remaining nine inches in purple brown. Now take a double stencil of Grecian key border with eight inch figure and use light freestone color for same. As a relief, make a panel, or break, each three feet around room, the same height in full as frieze.

Let 2½ inches on top and bottom of frieze be tinted in freestone color, the remaining nine inches in purple brown. Now take a double stencil of Grecian key border with eight inch figure and use light freestone color for same. As a relief, make a panel, or break, each three feet around room, the same height in full as frieze.

HOME AFFAIRS.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature And of Matters About Town.

A Son Born—Born to Mr. and Mrs. George Crawford, Franklin street, a son.

Auction Sale In Progress—The auction sale of lots begun this week at Grandview, is being continued this afternoon. A large crowd of bidders are present.

Justice Married Them—Miss Ida B. Reed was married to W. M. Calhoun, Justice McCarron performing the ceremony at his office. Both are residents of the city, but will make their future home on a farm.

Ready to Build—Preparations are being made to commence work on the new 24-room double dwelling to be erected by Dr. C. B. Ogden at the corner of Fifth and Jefferson streets. Work upon the foundation will likely be started next week.

Making a Protest—Residents of Jackson street are complaining of the blockading of that thoroughfare between Fourth and Fifth streets, by old wagon beds, wheels, etc. Chief Thompson made an inspection and will report the matter to the street commissioner.

Officers' Kind Act—Through the kindness of Officers Davidson and Aufdeheide, a young girl was saved from arrest and disgrace last night. The girl was found in a bad state of intoxication on Second street. She was just able to walk, and the officers through pity gave her an opportunity to get home.

Attended a Horse Sale—Mayor Davidson has returned from Cleveland, where he was in attendance for two days at the horse sale in the Forest City. He states that all horses sold brought enormous prices and that a bid on any of the animals less than $300 was scarcely given consideration. Several other local horsemen were present, but made no purchases.

Trouble Soon Settled—Teamsters in charge of six teams hauling dirt from the new reservoir went on strike yesterday at noon. When they began work they were informed that all would be expected to assist in loading the wagons. This they refused to do. No work was done yesterday afternoon, but this morning the trouble was settled by the water works people putting an additional force to work.

The National's Dance—The National Social club opened their dancing season last night at Rock Springs. The affair was a complete success, and was the largest in point of attendance held there this season. Nowling's orchestra furnished the music and an enjoyable time was spent by all. It is the intention of the club to give a series of these events throughout the summer, and lovers of the pastime are promised a season of rare enjoyment.

He Let Him Out.

The king of Naples, in the plenitude of his absolutism, paid one day a visit to the Neapolitan prisons in order to see for himself what sort of men his criminals were and whether they really deserved the punishments they were undergoing.

"What is your sentence?" he said to one. "Fifteen years, your majesty." "And what had you done?" "Nothing whatever," "Quite innocent?" "Entirely so, your majesty." "And you?" he asked another. "Thirty years, sire. Victim of false accusation." "And you?" to a third. "In for life, my king." "And what had you done?" "Everything you can think of, my king; theft, burglary, highway robbery, manslaughter, murder. I only wonder they did not sentence me to death." "What is your name?" asked the king. "My name," replied the first class criminal, "since I have been here has been 912." After finishing his tour of inspection the king said to the governor: "All the prisoners here seem to be perfectly innocent. There is only one bad man among them, No. 912. You had better let him out, lest he corrupt the others."—Argonaut.

Ups and Downs of the Browns.

Brown has a cozy office On the twenty-second floor Of a modern office building, With conveniences galore— Electric lights and mail shoots And everything first rate And an elevator starter Who is strictly up to date.

Now, Mrs. Brown came in one day, A smile upon her face; Took elevator No. 6— And launched forth into space, 'Tis safe to say she'd hardly gone Beyond the second floor When Mr. Brown came sailing down Serene in No. 4.

"Hey, Mr. Brown," the starter cried, "Your wife went up this minute." A car was just about to start, And Mr. Brown jumped in it. "You'd better wait till she comes back!" The starter tried to shout, But up went Brown—a car came down, And Mrs. Brown stepped out!

The starter shook with hidden mirth, He didn't dare display, "Your husband, mum, went back!" he said, "But passed you on the way. Just take a chair and rest awhile; He'll surely come right down." She wouldn't listen; up she went, While down came Mr. Brown.

He went back up; his wife came down And headed for the door, While Brown ransacked in wild despair The twenty-second floor, As out into the street she passed, With proud, uplifted chin, "I hope they'll meet in heaven," said The starter, with a grin.

BAPTISTS CELEBRATE

A Distinguished Guest Was Rev. J. M. Gwynne-Owen, of England.

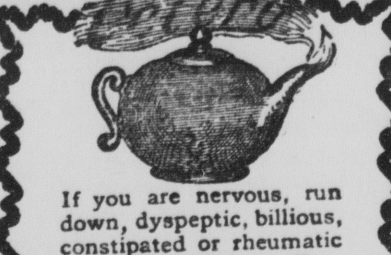

Springfield, Mass., May 25.—The fifth day of the Baptist May anniversary began in the Highland Baptist church with the second session of the American Baptist Home Mission society. The Rev. Dr. D. B. Palmer, of Pennsylvania, spoke on "A Visit to Porto Rico," and the Rev. Dr. William M. Lawrence, of Illinois, spoke on "Home Missions in the Twentieth Century."

A distinguished guest of the society at this meeting was Rev. J. M. Gwynne-Owen, pastor of the Hagley Road Baptist church, of Birmingham, England, who is in the United States as a representative of the National Council of Evangelical Free Churches of England and Wales.

Farmer Found Murdered.

Schenectady, N. Y., May 25.—David Reynolds, a farmer, living about two miles from this city, has been found murdered in his barn. His head was smashed to a pulp by an ax, which was found nearby. Reynolds was miserly and wealthy, and it has always been believed that he carried large sums about him, and a report was circulated that he was in the habit of carrying large sums of money in his boots. When the body was found the boots were missing.

NEW PROPOSAL LIKELY

Hay Said Another Might Be Made as to Chinese Indemnity—Attitude of Russia.

San Francisco, May 25.—Secretary Hay, in an interview, said that another proposal might be made to the powers on the Chinese indemnity matter.

Washington, May 25.—Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador, spent about an hour with Acting Secretary Hill Friday and it was assumed that the Chinese negotiations was the burden of their talk. It has become apparent that Russia will find it inexpedient to close with the proposition to accept Chinese bonds at any of the interest figures mentioned, as indemnity, unless there is an international guaranty, and the United States finds it quite impossible to assent to the latter.

It is now nearly certain that by China's own action in so weakly opposing the demands of the ministers for an indemnity amounting to $337,000,000, the United States' effort to secure an abatement of the claim has failed completely, and China must submit to pay the total, or at least to agree to pay it, for there is grave doubt entertained here of her ability to do so.

Since the reduction of the indemnity has been abandoned it is assumed in the best posted Chinese quarters that authority will now be given China to raise her customs duties.

TO GET INTO NEW YORK

Gould Likely to Make Merely Traffic Arrangement.

New York, May 25.—The Mail and Express Friday printed the following article on the much-discussed question as to how the Gould system of railroads will reach the seaboard:

"George Gould is negotiating for an entrance for his railroads into this city. This information came from banking interests in a position to know what is going on. He will not build, and, according to a good authority, will probably not seek to get control of any existing trunk line. It will be a traffic deal."

"Opinions were expressed today that, except so far as the Pittsburgh extension of the Wheeling and Lake Erie and Wabash is concerned, Mr. Gould will not disturb the present conditions. He intends, however, to build into Pittsburgh."

"A strong reason why Mr. Gould wants this road is that he has a contract for 25 per cent of the tonnage of the Carnegie company, which will reduce the freight which the Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio receive. The latter desire to prevent the construction of the new road, and have offered inducements to Mr. Gould not to build."

"A story was current today that the controversy might result in Mr. Gould securing satisfactory traffic connections with either the Pennsylvania or Baltimore and Ohio, instead of Erie or Lackawanna."

THE HOMEWARD TRIP

Of the McKinleys Was Begun This Morning.

RECEPTION TO THE PRESIDENT

It Was Given Under Auspices of Loyal Legion and Others—Oakland School Children Reviewed—Foreign Consular Representatives Received.

San Francisco, May 25.—President McKinley completed the program in this city, having met every organization included in the original schedule. Mrs. McKinley's health has so far improved that the president and his party will begin the return journey to the national capital about 10 a. m. today.

The president's public functions Friday included a reception at the Scott residence to the members of the foreign consular representatives in this city, a reception at the Palace hotel by the Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution and the Loyal Legion, in honor of the president, and a review of the school children of Oakland. The president spent the evening quietly at the Scott residence, resting and superintending arrangements for today's departure.

NATIVES DISCONTENTED.

Manila, May 25.—The discontent among the natives at the appointment of American judges and alleged discriminations in the civil service in favor of Americans was finding expression, encouraged by some of the native judges, who are aware that the reorganization of the judiciary will result in the loss of their positions.

Judge Ner, of the court of first instance, of Tondo, one of the leaders of what is beginning to be called the radical wing of the federalists, declared that if such things continue there will be a second revolution. Some of the prominent federalists ridicule the prediction.

The Philippine commission's selections of judges were thoroughly considered. It is undeniable that most of the native judges lack the competence required. One of them has been removed for malfeasance and others are suspected of irregularities. The classifications of the civil service avoid discrimination, but native and Spanish qualifications are not equal to those of capable Americans. Some departments are employing natives at the risk of temporary inconvenience.

After a conference with General MacArthur, General Trías has undertaken negotiations at Luchan for the surrender of General Calles, which is daily expected.

CONTINUOUS SCALE.

Proposition Under Consideration by the Amalgamated Committee.

Milwaukee, May 25.—The continuous scale, which shall be in force year after year, is the proposition which the wage committee of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers is now working upon. If this plan should meet with success it will do away with much friction between the manufacturers and the association in the future. A member of the wage committee stated that the continuous scale scheme is being worked out slowly and probably will include a provision calling for a notice of 60 or 90 days from a certain period by either party desiring a readjustment of any special feature.

Expelled Cadets Declined Places.

New York, May 25.—Three of the five West Point cadets recently expelled for insubordination, Mahaffey, Linton and Cleveland, who were offered places by General Francis Vinton Greene, president of the New York and Bermudez Asphalt company, declined to accept the positions offered them. They told General Greene and General Avery D. Andrews, both of them West Pointers, that it was their intention to go to Washington today and there try to bring about a reversal of the decision.

Strike Became General.

Reading, Pa., May 25.—The strike at the tube works of the Reading Iron company, inaugurated some three weeks ago, is now general as far as the mills of that company are concerned in this city. A communication was sent to President Baer, in which a general increase of 10 to 15 per cent in the wages was demanded at all of the mills. No answer was given and the joint committee issued orders calling out all of the men at the sheet, Oley street and Ninth street mills.

Elected a Pittsburger.

Columbus, O., May 25.—The National Association of Car Inspectors elected James Jackson, of Pittsburg, supreme inspector, and selected Philadelphia for the meeting of May, 1903.

Lost Manuscript Found.

London, May 25.—The full score of Purcell's "Fair Queen," which had been missing for 200 years, has been discovered in the library of the Royal Academy of Music, among a pile of manuscripts.

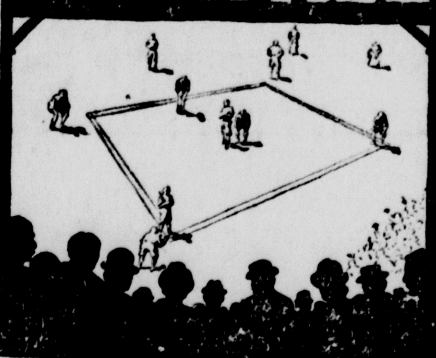

Two Fatalities.

DuBois, Pa., May 25.—Roy Moody, a 17-year-old boy, of Driftwood, was killed by a train of cars running over him. Frank Alexander was killed at the Falls Creek stone quarry by a falling derrick.

Slight Fire in a Capitol.

Albany, N. Y., May 25.—Great excitement was caused at the capitol by the discovery of a fire in a room filled with waste paper. A part of the Albany fire department was called out to extinguish the blaze. The damage was trifling.

BASEBALL

Many of the critics are talking this year of the lack of team work so plainly noticeable in many of the games played by both the National and American league clubs. It is a fact and is largely due to the backward spring and consequent lack of preliminary practice as well as the fact that the frequent changing about of players has been a drawback to scientific ball playing.

The team work will, however, improve as the season advances. At the same time this feature in baseball plays a more important part in the success of a team than many people seem to think.

There never has been a team in any of the great leagues which succeeded in winning a championship unless team work played an important part in the battle, with the exception of the old Detroit club of a score of years ago. When the Wolverines captured the championship, they simply batted it out. Hanlon was a member of the team at that time, and he was one of the few men in the aggregation who really paid any attention to team work and scientific ball. The others simply went up to the plate, sized up the opposition pitcher and tried to knock the cover off the ball. The records show that they did it too. Since then the hit and run system has been introduced, coaching methods have been improved on, and base running has been brought to a science.

I believe that it would be impossible at this time to get together a team composed only of sluggers and win a championship. The Philadelphia League team has worked upon that line for years, and pennants have been as scarce in the Quaker City as sprinters of the first order.

And that same Philadelphia promises to cut more or less of a figure in the present controversy between the warring leagues. That National league agreement has only the present year to run, and as Reach and Rogers do not stand any too well with the powers that be in the older organization there is no telling which way the cat will jump when the agreement expires. Rogers is the lawyer of the League, but he has not the following that he had a few years ago. Reach is more popular, but he is not in the business for his health, and some of his friends would not be surprised to see him cast his lot with the American league next year.

The new organization undoubtedly has the best of it at present in that city. During the rest of the season it will be simply a case of which Quaker team does the better work. The Americans made a ten strike when they induced Napoleon Lajoie to desert the National and take his place with the opposition. Here is the man who can be rated as a natural ball player. He is great in every department of the game, and it is doubtful if a better all around ball player ever lived. Above all, he is in addition a quick thinker, a quality as necessary in the up to date ball tosser as the ability to hit the ball. Captain Lajoie covers the key of the field at second base, and his aptness in seeing a point serves his team just as well as does his ability to tear the cover off the ball or do his throwing and springing.

Little Keeler of the Brooklyn team is a sort of pocket edition of Lajoie. And there is considerable uneasiness in that same Brooklyn team at present. The champions are weak in the infield and need Jennings badly. Hugh continues at Cornell and says that he will remain there until June is well advanced. He would help out the Brooklyn immensely, and some of his friends believe that he will yet join his old club. They predict that the red topped first base man is only flirting with the American league team at Philadelphia. It is a favorite pastime with Jennings in the springtime. He has been threatening to quit baseball for so many years that his friends are not frightened by his spring coquetting.

Another feature which has made friends for Johnson's league this year is the fact that the games have been conducted in a sportsmanlike manner and there has been little rowdyism among the players either on or off the field. Johnson, even when he was a scribe in Cincinnati, was a stickler for clean ball, and now that he is the czar of an organization he finds that it pays to stick to his early convictions. He certainly saw enough of the tough side of baseball when he was recording base hits from the reporters' stand.

Baltimore is well satisfied with the conditions as they are, and American league ball is sure to be popular there. McGraw and Robinson are popular idols, and it is doubtful if an opposition team there would have much of a chance. There is one thing, however, that the Orioles will not stand for, and that is a losing team, not even for "Mugsy" and "Robby."

Hanlon has taught the Baltimore fans what first class baseball is, and they don't want anything else. So long as McGraw can keep his men somewhere near the front he will have clear sailing. If he falls behind, his woes will multiply amazingly.

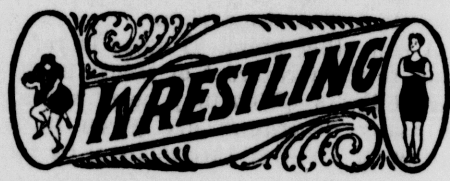

It looks now as if the Orioles are weak in pitchers. Two first class twirlers are held by few teams, but two men are not enough. If McGraw does not strengthen his pitching department before the interchange of games with the western teams, he is likely to have trouble on his hands. He has in McGinnity one of the greatest pitchers that ever lived and a man of iron constitution. McGinnity made the mistake of doing too much work last year, but I don't think he will do it again this year, much as he likes the extra envelope on pay day.

New York has a pitcher who promises to do excellent work this year, if he, too, is not called to pitch his arm off early in the race. Matthewson seems to be a natural twirler. His command is good and his speed terrific. It is that terrific speed which has caught my eye. Some of his friends maintain that he can send the ball over the plate with even more speed than Amos Rusie ever did. I question that, but he certainly has speed to burn.

Veterans are glad to see Jack Menefee back in pitching harness. When Menefee goes to Pittsburg, the natives of his home town shut up shop and talk nothing but ball. When not in one of the big leagues, Menefee plays with the Menefee team at Monessen, near Pittsburg, where seven of the Menefee brothers play.

Detroit is making some famous ninth inning rallies, which reminds one of the sensational finishes of the New York team in 1894. New York that year batted out more victories in the last two innings than any other professional team ever did in this country. Ward's men were always dangerous until the last man had been put out.

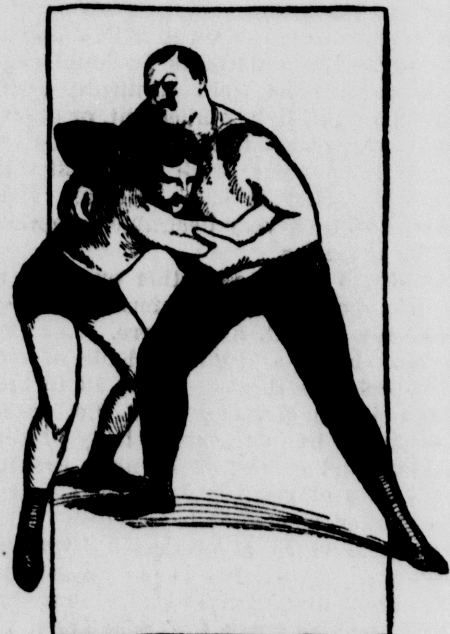

GEORGE E. STACKHOUSE.

Nourouhah, the huge Turk who recently defeated Tom Jenkins, the Cleveland mill worker, in Madison Square Garden, New York, for the world's wrestling championship, is a unique figure among athletes. The sultan's formidable subject is probably the largest man who ever entered a wrestling competition in this country. He weighs 346 pounds, is a giant in stature, and his strength is enormous.

Nourouhah fulfilled the general expectation when he won the match by the sheer force of his weight. He literally smothered Jenkins, who thereby lost the champion's title, which he had wrested from Ernest Roeber but a few weeks before.

From the viewpoint of experts on wrestling the Turk does not possess a very marked amount of knowledge of the fine points of the art. He counterbalances this falling, however, with his brute force. While this latter quality does not, as a rule, prove to be so valuable to a wrestler as a thorough understanding of the scientific side, yet the overwhelming advantage held by Nourouhah in this respect has made him the peer of all other performers on the mat.

Martin Julian, the former manager of Bob Fitzsimmons, takes care of Nourouhah's business arrangements and will probably take his cumbersome charge on an exhibition throughout the larger cities of the country.

Kid Gleason's Revival.

Kid Gleason is playing fast ball. He has been working wonders for the Detroit American league team both at the bat and in his position at second base.

HOWEWORTH OIL FIELD

Excitement Increased by the Showing Made by Wells Lately Drilled.

Homeworth, May 25.—The Homeworth oil field is still attracting a large number of oil operators and the excitement is not abating. Last Saturday three new wells were drilled immediately south of the former producing wells. One of these is pronounced the best well yet struck and estimates are from 30 to 65 barrels per day. Another one is reported good for from 10 to 15 barrels, while the third and the one farthest west is a small producer and good for from 3 to 5 barrels when pumped. These new wells are within perhaps 100 yards of the former producing wells.

At the wells formerly reported, there is a great showing for oil. At one of these two 250-barrel tanks are full at each well and their capacity has not been tested. Some means for conveying it to a point for shipment is now wanting. Leases are in great demand, and while they do not command the fabulous prices of the Texas field, nevertheless they have a big commercial value, and are daily advancing. The theory now advanced is that the pool is in the northwest course from the nest of wells now producing.

1,000,000 WOMEN RELIEVED

Reports received show that Wine of Cardui has brought permanent relief to 1,000,000 suffering women in the last few years. Because of Wine of Cardui, thousands of sufferers, seemingly on the way to premature graves, are now healthy women taking an active interest in the duties of life. Mrs. Mitchell "performed a miraculous cure" in her case. She suffered terribly with the agonies of falling of the womb, leucorrhoea and profuse menstruation. The weekly appearance of the menses for two months sapped her vitality until she was little better than a physical wreck. Her nervous system gave way under the terrible pain and aggravation. Then came the trial of Wine of Cardui and the cure. Mrs. Mitchell's experience ought to commend Wine of Cardui to suffering women in words of burning eloquence. The Wine is within the reach of all. Woman who try it are relieved. You can get as much benefit as Mrs. Mitchell received. Ask your druggist for Wine of Cardui. Send to the laboratory for the medicine if he tenders you a substitute.

WINE OF CARDUI

South Gaston, N. C., May 29, 1899.
Wine of Cardui and Theodor's Black-Dracht have performed a miraculous cure in my case. I have been a great sufferer from falling of the womb and leucorrhoea, and my menses came every week for two months and became very painful. I was in a bad condition. My husband induced me to try Wine of Cardui and Black-Dracht, and now I have no pain. The leucorrhoea has disappeared and now I am in perfect health. Mrs. WILLIE MITCHELL.

THE HOMEWARD TRIP

Of the McKinleys Was Begun This Morning.

It Was Given Under Auspices of Loyal Legion and Others—Oakland School Children Reviewed—Foreign Consular Representatives Received.

San Francisco, May 25.—President McKinley completed the program in this city, having met every organization included in the original schedule. Mrs. McKinley's health has so far improved that the president and his party will begin the return journey to the national capital about 10 a. m. today.

The president's public functions Friday included a reception at the Scott residence to the members of the foreign consular representatives in this city, a reception at the Palace hotel by the Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution and the Loyal Legion, in honor of the president, and a review of the school children of Oakland. The president spent the evening quietly at the Scott residence, resting and superintending arrangements for today's departure.

NATIVES DISCONTENTED.

Manila, May 25.—The discontent among the natives at the appointment of American judges and alleged discriminations in the civil service in favor of Americans was finding expression, encouraged by some of the native judges, who are aware that the reorganization of the judiciary will result in the loss of their positions.

Judge Ner, of the court of first instance, of Tondo, one of the leaders of what is beginning to be called the radical wing of the federalists, declared that if such things continue there will be a second revolution. Some of the prominent federalists ridicule the prediction.

The Philippine commission's selections of judges were thoroughly considered. It is undeniable that most of the native judges lack the competence required. One of them has been removed for malfeasance and others are suspected of irregularities. The classifications of the civil service avoid discrimination, but native and Spanish qualifications are not equal to those of capable Americans. Some departments are employing natives at the risk of temporary inconvenience.

After a conference with General MacArthur, General Trias has undertaken negotiations at Lucban for the surrender of General Calles, which is daily expected.

CONTINUOUS SCALE.

Proposition Under Consideration by the Amalgamated Committee.

Milwaukee, May 25.—The continuous scale, which shall be in force year after year, is the proposition which the wage committee of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers is now working upon. If this plan should meet with success it will do away with much friction between the manufacturers and the association in the future. A member of the wage committee stated that the continuous scale scheme is being worked out slowly and probably will include a provision calling for a notice of 60 or 90 days from a certain period by either party desiring a readjustment of any special feature.

Expelled Cadets Declined Places.

New York, May 25.—Three of the five West Point cadets recently expelled for insubordination, Mahaffey, Linton and Cleveland, who were offered places by General Francis Vinton Greene, president of the New York and Bermudez Asphalt company, declined to accept the positions offered them. They told General Greene and General Avery D. Andrews, both of them West Pointers, that it was their intention to go to Washington today and there try to bring about a reversal of the decision.

Strike Became General.

Reading, Pa., May 25.—The strike at the tube works of the Reading Iron company, inaugurated some three weeks ago, is now general as far as the mills of that company are concerned in this city. A communication was sent to President Baer, in which a general increase of 10 to 15 per cent in the wages was demanded at all of the mills. No answer was given and the joint committee issued orders calling out all of the men at the sheet, Oley street and Ninth street mills.

Elected a Pittsburger.

Columbus, O., May 25.—The National Association of Car Inspectors elected James Jackson, of Pittsburg, supreme inspector, and selected Philadelphia for the meeting of May, 1903.

Lost Manuscript Found.

London, May 25.—The full score of Purcell's "Fairy Queen," which had been missing for 200 years, has been discovered in the library of the Royal Academy of Music, among a pile of manuscripts.

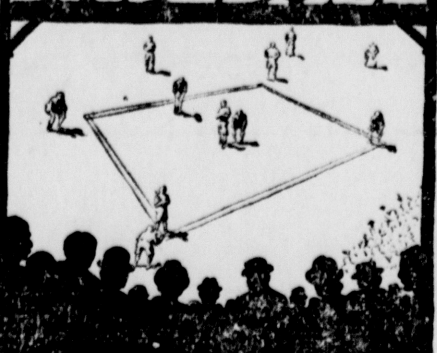

Two Fatalities.

Slight Fire in a Capitol.

Albany, N. Y., May 25.—Great excitement was caused at the capitol by the discovery of a fire in a room filled with waste paper. A part of the Albany fire department was called out to extinguish the blaze. The damage was trifling.

BASEBALL

Many of the critics are talking this year of the lack of team work so plainly noticeable in many of the games played by both the National and American league clubs. It is a fact and is largely due to the backward spring and consequent lack of preliminary practice as well as the fact that the frequent changing about of players has been a drawback to scientific ball playing.

The team work will, however, improve as the season advances. At the same time this feature in baseball plays a more important part in the success of a team than many people seem to think.

There never has been a team in any of the great leagues which succeeded in winning a championship unless team work played an important part in the

his friends are not frightened by his spring coquetting.

Another feature which has made friends for Johnson's league this year is the fact that the games have been conducted in a sportsmanlike manner and there has been little rowdyism among the players either on or off the field. LOST ON THE LAKE

Steamer Baltimore Foundered Near Au Sable, Mich.

Two Rescued After a Terrible Experience—One of Them Went Crazy and Tried Several Times to Drown His Companion.

East Tawas, Mich., May 25.—The wooden steamer Baltimore foundered in Lake Huron, near Au Sable, and 12 of her crew of 14 were drowned. The men were tossed about in the lake for some hours, lashed to a piece of wreckage, and were finally picked up by the Columbia, a deckhand, one of George McGinnis, the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, the Duke and Duchess of Fife and the Duke of Cambridge witnessed the function from a window overlooking the parade grounds, which was thronged with a fashionable gathering, including Joseph H. Choate, the United States ambassador, and Mrs. Choate, Henry White, the secretary of the embassy; John R. Carter, the second secretary, and Mrs. Carter, and Commander Richardson Glover, the United States naval attaché, and Mrs. Glover.

Thought To Have Perished.
M. H. Place, captain, of Cleveland. Mrs. M. H. Place, his wife, stewardess.

Michael Brethen, first mate. Edward Owen, wheelman. C. W. Sears, wheelman. G. W. Scott, watchman. Herbert Wining, watchman. August Anderson, deckhand. George McGinnis, deckhand. John Delders, second steward. P. Marcoux, chief engineer. William Barker, fireman. P. Krueger, fireman.

The Baltimore was built at Gibraltar, Mich., in 1881, rates $1½, and was valued at $10,000. Her cargo was valued at about $5,000.

Finally Able to Talk.
It was some time after the Columbia had brought the shipwrecked men into port before Murphy was revived sufficiently to tell his story. The Baltimore foundered about 8 o'clock in the morning Friday, and he was in the water until late in the afternoon, exposed to the buffeting of a furious northeast sea, but when revived he said:

"We were bound from Lorain to Sault Ste. Marie, and had in tow a large steam drill and scow. When off Thunder Bay last night Captain Place saw that the steamer was making bad weather, for the waves had smashed in the engineers' quarters and the washrooms and the water was running into the hold.

"Captain Place decided to turn about and run for Tawas for shelter. Everything went all right until we were off Au Sable, when the steamer struck heavily on the bottom. The seas broke over her at the same time and carried away the deck house, then the after cabin, and finally the smokestack fell. Both rails forward broke in two just aft of the forward deck house and we knew that it was only a few minutes before the steamer would go to pieces," continued Murphy.

Every Man For Himself.
"It is every man for himself now," shouted Capt. Place," continued the engineer. "The look of despair on Mrs. Place's face was something I shall never forget. It was awful. We took the captain's advice and every man started to save himself as best he could. Some of the boys took to the rigging, but McGinnis and I lashed ourselves to a ring bolt in a piece of the after cabin and we were washed overboard shortly afterward.

"The strain was too much for McGinnis and he went crazy before we had been in the water very long. He tried to throw me off the wreckage, but I talked to him and encouraged him to hold on. Twice he got loose and tried to drown us both, but each time I succeeded in quieting him. I told him a boat was coming to take us off and then I would get him tied fast again.

Help Near, Yet So Far.
"The passenger steamer City of Holland passed by us this morning, but we were too far away for her crew to see us, I believe. It made me feel pretty despondent for a time, for I was getting very weak and the seas broke over my head so as to drive the breath out of my body at times.

"The Columbia finally came along and picked us up, just as I was about to give up hope. I am afraid all of the rest of the crew were drowned, including Mrs. Place. I only wonder now it was that we lived through it all. Our wreckage was big enough to make a raft, but it was small, and the seas swept it constantly."

Murphy lives at 325 Bartlett street, Milwaukee. The tug Columbia lost a drill scow, with six men on board, just before she picked up the men from the Baltimore. The Columbia went out again and found the drill making good weather. The men were taken off and they were badly frightened, as the scow had neither boat nor life preservers. The scow was then towed in here. The scow with timber on it was not recovered and it is thought it went ashore.

ITALY AFTER TURKEY.
Reparation Is Demanded For an Insult.

Constantinople, May 25.—In consequence of the arrest of an Italian post agent at Preveza, the Italian mediator demanded from the port warships to Preveza to exact satisfaction.

The officials of the Ottoman embassy at Paris have telegraphed to the sultan threatening to leave their posts unless their salaries are paid.

TWELVE BOERS KILLED.

Thirteen Others Were Wounded and 12 Captured Near Brandford. Cape Town, May 25.—The Highland Light Infantry recently surprised a Boer laager near Brandford, and in the fighting which ensued 12 Boers were killed, 13 injured and 12 were taken prisoners.

YACHT RACE POSTPONED

New York Yacht Club Committee Decided to Extend Time One Month.

New York, May 25.—The challenge committee of the New York Yacht club, at a meeting, decided to extend the time for the international yacht race one month, in accordance with a wish for this length of time expressed by Sir Thomas Lipton.

REVIEWED SCOTS GUARDS.

King Edward Then Witnessed the Ceremony of Trooping the Colors.

London, May 25.—King Edward presented a new color to the Scots Guards, on the Horse Guards parade. Subsequently his majesty witnessed the ceremony of trooping the color, so long associated with the anniversary of the birth of Queen Victoria. Queen Alexandra, the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, the Duke and Duchess of Fife and the Duke of Cambridge witnessed the function from a window overlooking the parade grounds, which was thronged with a fashionable gathering, including Joseph H. Choate, the United States ambassador, and Mrs. Choate, Henry White, the secretary of the embassy; John R. Carter, the second secretary, and Mrs. Carter, and Commander Richardson Glover, the United States naval attaché, and Mrs. Glover.

The approach of the king, who was surrounded by a brilliant cavalcade of the headquarters' staff and the foreign military attaches, including Major Edward B. Cassatt, of the United States embassy, was signaled by rounds of cheers, and as the royal cortege reached the saluting point, the massed bands of the guards played the national anthem. The king, who wore the uniform of a colonel of the Scots Guards, inspected the line of troops, returning to the saluting point, where the ceremony of the presentation of the color proceeded.

There was a general observance of Queen Victoria's birthday. The law courts and government offices were closed, the pupils of the various schools had a holiday, and there was the usual ringing of bells, and the firing of salutes at Windsor and at the military and naval stations. There were special observances of the day in Australia, at the Cape and in India.

DOWIE WAS ARRESTED.

He and Judd Held In $10,000 Each For the Grand Jury.

Chicago, May 25.—John Alexander Dowie, "Overseer of the Christian Catholic Church," was arrested here pursuant to the action of the corner's jury, which declared him "criminally responsible" for the death of Mrs. Emma Lucy Judd. H. Worthington Judd, a disciple of Dowie, and husband of the alleged victim, also was arrested, having appeared at the criminal court building in company with Dowie. The men were taken before Judge Tuley, who admitted them to bail.

Henrikka Bratsch and Mary B. Speicher, "maternity" nurses, who are said to have attended Mrs. Judd, were arrested Thursday night and later released under bonds.

Mrs. Judd died about a week ago at Dowie's "Zion," after about 16 hours of suffering. Her infant also died, and on expert medical testimony before the coroner that the ordinary treatment given by medical practitioners would have saved her life. Judd, the two nurses and Dowie are held to await the action of the grand jury.

For Dowie and Judd bonds were fixed at $10,000 each, while the women were released on sureties of $5,000 each.

BRAVE WOMEN.

If Your House Should Suddenly Take Fire, What Would You Do?

Constant drilling in company makes soldiers mechanically fearless. Training will do correspondingly as much for women and children as for men. Women are believed to be cowardly and excitable. They are not. When they have been trained by drill, they are both cool headed and heroic. They have proved it lately in several different parts of the country, even in the case of a house on fire and themselves in two instances surrounded by helpless children.

There was that great mission building fire in New York on the east side. Sunday school was in session. There were 3,000 pupils, gathered from the city's slums and poverty stricken tenements. The building was several stories high, and the primary pupils, 6 to 8 years old, were on the top floor.

Miss Stressler was the superintendent of this top floor room. A lesson was progressing when the janitor came in and whispered something to Miss Stressler. She smiled, looked at the children and rapped for attention. How were they to know what that smile hid?

"Children," said Miss Stressler, "we will play the fire drill."

She went to the piano and began the fire march—tummy-tum, tummy-tum. The young ones knew what to do. They left their seats in exactly the order in which they had been drilled, marched in perfect step, part to the staircase, part to the fire escape outside the windows. Calmly, even merrily, the little ones went down, one detachment by the stairs, another by the fire escape. They were so perfectly trained that they hardly noticed the unusual feature of the march—that this time they met as they descended big, helmeted firemen running up the fire escapes with scaling ladders and with a line of hose over their shoulders. They did not know it, but the play was in earnest that time.

The great building with the 3,000 children had caught fire in the gymnasium lockers upon the top floor, the very floor where the primary pupils were at their lessons. In every other room the women teachers were as calm and brave as Miss Stressler. Each time the superintendent said:

"Let us play the fire drill."

The teacher played; the children marched out to safety, keeping time to the tune beats. That was all. But the brave teacher's heart must have been beating a quicker time than her music.

An incident almost identical occurred in another place, near the same time. Flames burst out in a children's hospital in the dead of night. Many of the little ones were ill, confined to their cots. But the ones that could walk about had also been trained in that invaluable fire drill. There was here no piano to lead the march, but the brave women nurses issued their commands like generals. The children were awakened and directed to march down stairs. They obeyed mechanically almost before they were awake. Those unable to walk were carried in the nurses' arms and at length every one of the 100 little waifs and invalids was safe in a building in another part of their grounds, while the flames ate up their tiny white cots in the house from which they had escaped.

Yet one more instance of how trained women—trained girls, this time—keep their heads on and are full of resources in danger.

One of the buildings of Bryn Mawr college, the only wooden one on the grounds, took fire at night. The girl students were awakened at once. Did they scream and drop over in a faint, as men, novelists and reporters are so fond of representing? No; they did not. These fine, athletic Bryn Mawr students have a fire brigade, with captains and squads and hose and buckets and extinguishers, every mother's daughter of them having her own particular assignment and filling it. Within ten minutes from the time the bell sounded alarm that brigade of girl firemen was on hand with hose pipe and extinguishers, and very quickly the flames were out. Hall and welcome to the Bryn Mawr girls' fire brigade! Let the other women's colleges go and do likewise.

In country schoolhouses—yes, in every family in this land—that invaluable fire drill ought to be instituted. Mothers and women teachers, if the house should take fire, what would you do?

SUSAN PEPPER.

He Doesn't Like Aquariums.

Why any one should ever have desired to own or to visit an aquarium is a mystery. The view of fish, except when nicely grilled or when suspended at the end of a fishing line, is one of the most uninteresting of sights. The other animals when in confinement display traits which are more or less interesting. The lion has a sense of humor and displays it in the most pleasing way when he devours the lion tamer who has entered too often into his cage. The bear in his thirst for buns seems so much like the human boy that the spectator of his antics frequently feels an irresistible desire to hit him with a stick.

But the fish has not a single interesting trait. He will swim around the tank in which he is confined with a persistence which is maddening to the nervous spectator. He never engages in a genuine fight, but contents himself with an occasional surreptitious bite of an enemy's tail, which gives no true satisfaction to the beholder. If he happens to be a large snake thinly disguised as an eel or an octopus or some other alarmingly ugly fish, he will sometimes swim directly at the glass through which the visitor is looking at him and thereby give the latter a momentary sensation of horror, but the average fish cares nothing for the public and treats his visitors with calm contempt. An aquarium without fish, like a seashore resort without the sea, is unobjectionable, but an aquarium with real water and real fish is the dreariest object in nature.—W. L. Alden in Pearson's Magazine.

The Paris Cab Driver.

Outside of many wine shops in Paris and in the principal cities of France a sign is often to be seen bearing the words, Au cocher fidele ("To the faithful cocher"); beneath it a driver is pictured, hat in hand, restoring to a gentleman and lady, the hirers of the coach, a purse forgotten on the cushions of the vehicle. This is not a conception of the artist, nor vile flattery of the restaurant or wine shop to draw thither the coachman with a foible for the bottle, but a reality which often occurs and of which the cocher has every right to be proud.

Anybody who has lived any length of time in Paris will indorse the statement. Who has not forgotten an umbrella, a walking stick, a small satchel or some little object on the seat or floor of a public vehicle? And who has not had his property restored without even having taken the number of the vehicle, without any remembrance of the physiognomy of the driver? By a simple application to a special office at the prefecture of police, where all objects found in public carriages are deposited and arranged according to the date and hour at which they were brought in, one is able promptly to regain possession of his lost property.

This reflects great credit on the Paris "cabbies," few of whom, by the way, are born Parisians.—Harper's Weekly.

He Concentrated.

Professor Countenast is a small man with a large mentality. His wife is a tall woman, who believes in the power of matter over mind. The professor had been absorbed the whole evening in a profound paper on the mental characteristics of people who were unhappily married. Suddenly looking up, he remarked:

"My dear, are you aware of the fact that a man's brain weighs about 3½ pounds?"

"Humph! You've just read that, haven't you?"

"Er—er—why—er—oh, yes; certainly, of course."

"Well, that article says a woman's brain is not so heavy, eh?"

"Er—er—yes, it certainly does, but—"

"And it also states that a woman's brain is of much finer quality, doesn't it?"

"Er—er—well, yes; you are quite right, my dear."

"Now, listen to me. Just concentrate your 3½ pound brain on that settle and figure out how much it will weigh after you bring it full of coal from the cellar." The professor meekly bowed his great head, and, as he departed for the lower regions in search of abstract information, he murmured:

"The man who thinks that mind is superior to matter is an illustrious idiot!"—London Tit-Bits.

The Trunk Paid.

Some years ago a man ran up a bill of $200 in the Tremont House, Chicago, and then ran away without settling it. The trunk which remained in his room was unusually heavy and when opened after his departure was found to contain specimens of ore, brought from the gold and silver mines of Colorado, where presumably he had lost all his money. After waiting out the legal time Mr. Gage sent the contents of the trunk to an assayer, who returned two bits of metal valued at more than $100 in excess of the bill after deducting his own fees.

"Mr. Maximum."

The result of an examination was put up on the notice board of a well known cramming establishment, and one of the attendants was scanning the list with as much interest as any of the breathless students. At the head of the list was written, "Maximum 500," and when the attendant's eyes rested thereon he exclaimed, "Why, that Mr. Maximum, he's always top, he is."—London Globe.

Not a Good Conductor.

"Well, sir," remarked the observant passenger, after watching the conductor collect eight fares and ring up five, "you need never be afraid of being struck by lightning."

"Why not?" asked the trusted employee.

"Because," replied the observant passenger, "it is evident you are not a good conductor."—Philadelphia Press.

What Is It?

A man who has been running a race with steam and electricity for years, finds himself suddenly stopped. It seems as if a cold hand clutched his heart. His brain whirls; he can hardly see. "What is it?" he asks himself as the attack passes.

If his question meets a right answer, he'll be told that his seizure is a warning to pay more attention to his stomach, which is already deranged by irregular meals and rich foods.

Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. It eliminates from the blood disease breeding poisons. It makes the blood rich and pure, and furnishes a foundation for sound, physical health.

"About ten years ago I began to have trouble with my stomach," writes Mr. Wm. Connolly, of 555 Walnut Street, Lorain, Ohio. "I got so bad that I had to lay off quite often—two and three days in a week. I have been treated by the best doctors in this city, but got no help. Some said I had cancer of the stomach, others catarrh, others dyspepsia. Then I wrote to you for advice. You advised the use of your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets.' These medicines I have taken as directed. I commenced to get better from the start, and have not lost a day this summer on account of my stomach. I feel tip-top, and better than I have for ten years."

Keep the bowels healthy by using Dr. Pierce's Pellets. They don't gripe.

WILD ANIMALS

Strange Beasts a Nuisance to Farmers and a Terror to Children.

Minerva, O., May 25.—Great excitement prevails in this vicinity, caused by a trio of wild animals about as large as a full grown fox. They are pure white and have been seen in the day time by several reputable farmers. They are playing havoc with poultry, young lambs and small pigs.

A large number of farmers report losses caused by these animals. Small children are afraid to go and come from school alone. The farmers have not time to hunt them down and would almost furnish ammunition and board to hunters who would rid the neighborhood of these pests.

Four Ministers

Tell of Magical Results Brought About in Burning, Itching, Bleeding Skin Troubles by Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment draws more praise from ministers, physicians and lawyers than any other medicine in the world. It is endorsed by every profession.

Extracts from their Letters.

Rev. W. N. Edwards, Baptist minister, 109 Trinity Place, Buffalo, N. Y., writes: "For over fifteen years the itching piles have been a source of constant annoyance to me, and frequently, too, the suffering has become intense. At times there was bleeding and the itching and burning was beyond endurance. The results I have derived from Dr. Chase's Ointment have been magical and the benefits lasting. I feel it a duty to fellow sufferers to recommend it."

Rev. J. N. Van Natter, Methodist minister, Albion, Wis., writes: "My wife was terribly afflicted with protruding piles and contemplated a surgical operation when her notice was drawn to Dr. Chase's Ointment, and less than one box effected a cure."

"I then used it for an unsightly and troublesome skin affection, which had baffled medical skill for twenty-five years. Dr. Chase's Ointment thoroughly cured it. For piles and skin disease it is worth its weight in gold."

Rev. J. A. Baldwin, Baptist minister, Arkona, Ont., writes: "For over twenty years I was a great sufferer from itching and protruding piles. I used many remedies and underwent three very painful surgical operations, all without obtaining any permanent benefit. When about to give up in despair I was told to use Dr. Chase's Ointment and did so, finding relief at once. I used three boxes, and am entirely cured. The itching is all gone. I have advised others to use it, believing it would cure them as it has me."

Rev. Chas. Fish, Methodist minister, 109 Dunn avenue, Toronto, Ont., writes: "Ten years ago eczema began on my ears and spread over my head and hands. During that time I was a great sufferer. I tried many remedies, and some of the best physicians—specialists on skin diseases—treated me. The first box of Dr. Chase's Ointment gave much relief and five boxes completely cured me. I think my cure a marvel, and gladly recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment." Just as good for every form of skin trouble, no matter how long standing, 50 cents a box, all dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Sold in East Liverpool by Charles T. Larkins.

TWELVE OF HER CREW DROWNED

Two Rescued After a Terrible Experience—One of Them Went Crazy and Tried Several Times to Drown His Companion.

East Tawas, Mich., May 25.—The wooden steamer Baltimore foundered in Lake Huron, near Au Sable, and 12 of her crew of 14 were drowned. The men were tossed about in the lake for some hours, lashed to a piece of wreckage, and were finally picked up by the Columbia and brought here. George McGinnis, a deckhand, one of the rescued, became insane from his experience. The other survivor, Thomas Murphy, was able to tell the story of the disaster.

Those thought to have perished were:
Thought To Have Perished.
M. H. Place, captain, of Cleveland.
Mrs. M. H. Place, his wife, stewardess.

Michael Brethren, first mate.
Edward Owen, wheelman.
C. W. Scott, watchman.
Herbert Wining, watchman.
August Anderson, deckhand.
John Delgers, chief engineer.
P. Marcoux, fireman.
William Barker, fireman.
P. Krueger, fireman.
The Baltimore was built at Gibraltar, Mich., in 1881, rates A1½, and was valued at $40,000. Her cargo was valued at about $5,000.

Finally Able to Talk.
It was some time after the Columbia had brought the shipwrecked men into port before Murphy was revived sufficiently to tell his story. The steamer foundered about 8 o'clock in the morning Friday, and he was in the water until late in the afternoon, exposed to the buffeting of a furious northeast sea, but when revived he said:

"We were bound from Lorain to Sault Ste. Marie, and had in tow a large steam drill and scow. When off Thunder Bay last night Captain Place saw that the steamer was making bad weather, for the waves had smashed in the engineers' quarters and the washrooms, and the water was running into the hold.

"Captain Place decided to turn about and run for Tawas for shelter. Everything went all right until we were off Au Sable, when the steamer struck heavily on the bottom. The scow broke over her at the same time and carried away the deck house, then the after cabin, and finally the smokestack fell. Both rails forward broke in two just aft of the forward deck house and we knew that it was only a few minutes before the steamer would go to pieces," continued Murphy.

Every Man For Himself.
"It is every man for himself now," shouted Capt. Place," continued the engineer. "The look of despair on Mrs. Place's face was something I shall never forget. It was awful. We took the captain's advice and every man started to save himself as best he could. Some of the boys took to the rigging, but McGinnis and I lashed ourselves to a ring bolt in a piece of the after cabin and we were washed overboard shortly afterward. "The strain was too much for McGinnis and he went crazy before we had been in the water very long. He tried to throw me off the wreckage, but I talked to him and encouraged him to hold on. Twice he got loose and tried to drown us both, but each time I succeeded in quieting him. I told him a boat was coming to take us off and then I would get him tied ast-again.

Help Near, Yet So Far.
"The passenger steamer City of Holland passed by us this morning, but we were too far away for her rescue to see us, I believe. It made me feel pretty despondent for a time, for we were getting very weak and the seas broke over my head so as to drive me breath out of my body at times. "The Columbia finally came along and picked us up, just as I was about to give up hope. I am afraid all of the rest of the crew were drowned, including Mrs. Place. I only wonder now it was that we lived through it. Our wreckage was big enough to make a raft, but it was small, and we were swept it constantly." Murphy lives at 235 Bartlett street, Milwaukee. The tug Columbia lost a life scow, with six men on board, just before she picked up the men on the Baltimore. The Columbia went out again and found the drill sinking good weather. The men were taken off and they were badly frightened, as the scow had neither oil nor life preservers. The scow was then towed in here. The scow with timber on it was not recovered and it is thought it went ashore.

ITALY AFTER TURKEY.

Reparation Is Demanded For an Insult.
Constantinople, May 25.—In consequence of the arrest of an Italian post agent at Preveza, the Italian chargé d'affaires has demanded immediate reparation from the porte. This is not accorded. Italy will send troops to Preveza to exact satisfaction.

The officials of the Ottoman embassy at Paris have telegraphed to the Italian threatening to leave their posts unless their salaries are paid.

TWELVE BOERS KILLED.

Twelve Others Were Wounded and 12 Captured Near Brandford.
Cape Town, May 25.—The Highland Light Infantry recently surprised a Boer laager near Brandford, and in the fighting which ensued 12 Boers were killed, 13 injured and 12 were taken prisoners.

YACHT RACE POSTPONED

New York Yacht Club Committee Decided to Extend Time One Month.

New York, May 25.—The challenge committee of the New York Yacht Club, at a meeting, decided to extend the time for the international yacht race one month, in accordance with a wish for this length of time expressed by Sir Thomas Lipton.

REVIEWED SCOTS GUARDS.

King Edward Then Witnessed the Ceremony of Trooping the Colors.

London, May 25.—King Edward presented a new color to the Scots Guards, on the Horse Guards parade. Subsequently his majesty witnessed the ceremony of trooping the color, so long associated with the anniversary of the birth of Queen Victoria. Queen Alexandra, the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, the Duke and Duchess of Fife and the Duke of Cambridge witnessed the function from a window overlooking the parade grounds, which was thronged with a fashionable gathering, including Joseph H. Choate, the United States ambassador, and Mrs. Choate, Henry White, the secretary of the embassy; John R. Carter, the second secretary, and Mrs. Carter, and Commander Richardson Glover, the United States naval attaché, and Mrs. Glover.

The approach of the king, who was surrounded by a brilliant cavalcade of the headquarters' staff and the foreign military attaches, including Major Edward B. Cassatt, of the United States embassy, was signaled by rounds of cheers, and as the royal cortege reached the saluting point, the massed bands of the guards played the national anthem. The king, who wore the uniform of a colonel of the Scots Guards, inspected the line of troops, returning to the saluting point, where the ceremony of the presentation of the color proceeded.

There was a general observance of Queen Victoria's birthday. The law courts and government offices were closed, the pupils of the various schools had a holiday, and there was the usual ringing of bells, and the firing of salutes at Windsor and at the military and naval stations. There were special observances of the day in Australia, at the Cape and in India.

DOWIE WAS ARRESTED.

He and Judd Held in $10,000 Each For the Grand Jury.

Chicago, May 25.—John Alexander Dowie, "Overseer of the Christian Catholic Church," was arrested here pursuant to the action of the coroner's jury, which declared him "criminally responsible" for the death of Mrs. Emma Lucy Judd, H. Worthington Judd, a disciple of Dowie, and husband of the alleged victim, also was arrested, having appeared at the criminal court building in company with Dowie. The men were taken before Judge Tuley, who admitted them to bail.

Henrikka Bratsch and Mary B. Speicher, "maternity" nurses, who are said to have attended Mrs. Judd, were arrested Thursday night and later released under bonds.

Mrs. Judd died about a week ago at Dowie's "Zion," after about 16 hours of suffering. Her infant also died, and on expert medical testimony before the coroner that the ordinary treatment given by medical practitioners would have saved her life, Judd, the two nurses and Dowie are held to await the action of the grand jury.

For Dowie and Judd bonds were fixed at $10,000 each, while the women were released on sureties of $5,000 each.

BRAVE WOMEN.

If Your House Should Suddenly Take Fire, What Would You Do?

Constant drilling in company makes soldiers mechanically fearless. Training will do correspondingly as much for women and children as for men. Women are believed to be cowardly and excitable. They are not. When they have been trained by drill, they are both cool headed and heroic. They have proved it lately in several different parts of the country, even in the case of a house on fire and themselves in two instances surrounded by helpless children.

There was that great mission building fire in New York on the east side. Sunday school was in session. There were 3,000 pupils, gathered from the city's slums and poverty stricken tenements. The building was several stories high, and the primary pupils, 6 to 8 years old, were on the top floor.

Miss Stressler was the superintendent of this top floor room. A lesson was progressing when the janitor came in and whispered something to Miss Stressler. She smiled, looked at the children and rapped for attention. How were they to know what that smile hid?

"Children," said Miss Stressler, "we will play the fire drill." She went to the piano and began the fire march—tummy-tum, tummy-tum. The young ones knew what to do. They left their seats in exactly the order in which they had been drilled, marched in perfect step, part to the staircase, part to the fire escape outside the windows. Calmly, even merrily, the little ones went down, one detachment by the stairs, another by the fire escape. They were so perfectly trained that they hardly noticed the unusual feature of the march—that this time they met as they descended big, helmeted firemen running up the fire escapes with scaling ladders and with a line of hose over their shoulders. They did not know it, but the play was in earnest that time.

The great building with the 3,000 children had caught fire in the gymnasium lockers upon the top floor, the very floor where the primary pupils were at their lessons. In every other room the women teachers were as calm and brave as Miss Stressler. Each time the superintendent said:

"Let us play the fire drill."

The teacher played; the children marched out to safety, keeping time to the tone beats. That was all. But the brave teacher's heart must have been beating a quicker time than her music.

An incident almost identical occurred in another place, near the same time. Flames burst out in a children's hospital in the dead of night. Many of the little ones were ill, confined to their cots. But the ones that could walk about had also been trained in that invaluable fire drill. There was here no piano to lead the march, but the brave women nurses issued their commands like generals. The children were awakened and directed to march down stairs. They obeyed mechanically almost before they were awake. Those unable to walk were carried in the nurses' arms and at length every one of the 100 little waifs and invalids was safe in a building in another part of their grounds, while the flames ate up their tiny white cots in the house from which they had escaped.

Yet one more instance of how trained women—trained girls, this time—keep their heads on and are full of resources in danger.

One of the buildings of Bryn Mawr college, the only wooden one on the grounds, took fire at night. The girl students were awakened at once. Did they scream and drop over in a faint, as men-novelists and reporters are so fond of representing? No; they did not. These fine, athletic Bryn Mawr students have a fire brigade, with captains and squads and hose and buckets and extinguishers, every mother's daughter of them having her own particular assignment and filling it. Within ten minutes from the time the bell sounded alarm that brigade of girl firemen was on hand with hose pipe and extinguishers, and very quickly the flames were out. Hail and welcome to the Bryn Mawr girls' fire brigade! Let the other women's colleges go and do likewise.

In country schoolhouses—yes, in every family in this land—that invaluable fire drill ought to be instituted. Mothers and women teachers, if the house should take fire, what would you do?

SUSAN PEPPER.

He Doesn't Like Aquariums.

Why any one should ever have desired to own or to visit an aquarium is a mystery. The view of fish, except when nicely grilled or when suspended at the end of a fishing line, is one of the most uninteresting of sights. The other animals when in confinement display traits which are more or less interesting. The lion has a sense of humor and displays it in the most pleasing way when he devours the lion tamer who has entered too often into his cage. The bear in his thirst for buns seems so much like the human boy that the spectator of his antics frequently feels an irresistible desire to hit him with a stick.

But the fish has not a single interesting trait. He will swim around the tank in which he is confined with a persistence which is maddening to the nervous spectator. He never engages in a genuine fight, but contents himself with an occasional surreptitious bite of an enemy's tail, which gives no true satisfaction to the beholder. If he happens to be a large snake thinly disguised as an eel or an octopus or some other alarmingly ugly fish, he will sometimes swim directly at the glass through which the visitor is looking at him and thereby give the latter a momentary sensation of horror, but the average fish cares nothing for the public and treats his visitors with calm contempt. An aquarium without fish, like a seashore resort without the sea, is unobjectionable, but an aquarium with real water and real fish is the dreariest object in nature.—W. L. Alden in Pearson's Magazine.

The Paris Cab Driver.

Outside of many wine shops in Paris and in the principal cities of France a sign is often to be seen bearing the words, Au cocher fidele ("To the faithful cocher"); beneath it a driver is pictured, hat in hand, restoring to a gentleman and lady, the hirers of the coach, a purse forgotten on the cushions of the vehicle. This is not a conception of the artist, nor vile flattery of the restaurant or wine shop to draw thither the coachman with a foible for the bottle, but a reality which often occurs and of which the cocher has every right to be proud.

Anybody who has lived any length of time in Paris will indorse the statement. Who has not forgotten an umbrella, a walking stick, a small satchel or some little object on the seat or floor of a public vehicle? And who has not had his property restored without even having taken the number of the vehicle, without any remembrance of the physiognomy of the driver? By a simple application to a special office at the prefecture of police, where all objects found in public carriages are deposited and arranged according to the date and hour at which they were brought in, one is able promptly to regain possession of his lost property.

This reflects great credit on the Paris "cabbies," few of whom, by the way, are born Parisians.—Harper's Weekly.

He Concentrated.

Professor Countess was a small man with a large mentality. His wife is a tall woman, who believes in the power of matter over mind. The professor had been absorbed the whole evening in a profound paper on the mental characteristics of people who were unhappily married. Suddenly looking up, he remarked:

"My dear, are you aware of the fact that a man's brain weighs about 3½ pounds?"

"Humph! You've just read that, haven't you?"

"Er—er—why—er—oh, yes; certainly, of course."

"Well, that article says a woman's brain is not so heavy, eh?"

"Er—er—yes, it certainly does, but—"

"And it also states that a woman's brain is of much finer quality, doesn't it?"

"Er—er—well, yes; you are quite right, my dear."

"Now, listen to me. Just concentrate your 3½ pound brain on that scuttle and figure out how much it will weigh after you bring it full of coal from the cellar." The professor meekly bowed his great head, and, as he departed for the lower regions in search of abstract information, he murmured:

"The man who thinks that mind is superior to matter is an illustrious idiot!"—London Tit-Bits.

The Trunk Paid.

Some years ago a man ran up a bill of $200 in the Tremont House, Chicago, and then ran away without settling it. The trunk which remained in his room was unusually heavy and when opened after his departure was found to contain specimens of ore, brought from the gold and silver mines of Colorado, where presumably he had lost all his money. After waiting out the legal time Mr. Gage sent the contents of the trunk to an assayer, who returned two bits of metal valued at more than $100 in excess of the bill after deducting his own fees.

"Mr. Maximum."

The result of an examination was put up on the notice board of a well known cramming establishment, and one of the attendants was scanning the list with as much interest as any of the breathless students. At the head of the list was written, "Maximum 500," and when the attendant's eyes rested thereon he exclaimed, "Why, that Mr. Maximum, he's always top, he is!"—London Globe.

Not a Good Conductor.

"Well, sir," remarked the observant passenger, after watching the conductor collect eight fares and ring up five, "you need never be afraid of being struck by lightning."

"Why not?" asked the trusted employee.

"Because," replied the observant passenger, "it is evident you are not a good conductor."—Philadelphia Press.

What Is It?

A man who has been running a race with steam and electricity for years, finds himself suddenly stopped. It seems as if a cold hand clutched his heart. His brain whirls; he can hardly see. "What is it?" he asks himself as the attack passes. If his question meets a right answer, he'll be told that his seizure is a warning to pay more attention to his stomach, which is already deranged by irregular meals and rich foods.

Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. It eliminates from the blood disease breeding poisons. It makes the blood rich and pure, and furnishes a foundation for sound, physical health.

"About ten years ago I began to have trouble with my stomach," writes Mr. Wm. Connolly, of 535 Walnut Street, Lorain, Ohio. "It got so bad that I had to lay off quite often—two and three days in a week. I have been treated by the best doctors in this city, but got no help. Some said I had cancer of the stomach, others catarrh, others dyspepsia. Then I wrote to you for advice. You advised the use of your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets.' These medicines I have taken as directed. I commenced to get better from the start, and have not lost a day this summer on account of my stomach. I feel tip-top, and better than I have for ten years."

Keep the bowels healthy by using Dr. Pierce's Pellets. They don't gripe.

WILD ANIMALS

Strange Beasts a Nuisance to Farmers and a Terror to Children.

Minerva, O., May 25.—Great excitement prevails in this vicinity, caused by a trio of wild animals about as large as a full grown fox. They are pure white and have been seen in the day time by several reputable farmers. They are playing havoc with poultry, young lambs and small pigs.

A large number of farmers report losses caused by these animals. Small children are afraid to go and come from school alone. The farmers have not time to hunt them down and would almost furnish ammunition and board to hunters who would rid the neighborhood of these pests.

Four Ministers

Tell of Magical Results Brought About in Burning, Itching, Bleeding Skin Troubles by Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment draws more praise from ministers, physicians and lawyers than any other medicine in the world. It is endorsed by every profession.

Extracts from their Letters.

Rev. W. N. Edwards, Baptist minister, 100 Trinity Place, Buffalo, N. Y., writes: "For over fifteen years the itching piles have been a source of constant annoyance to me, and frequently, too, the suffering has become intense. At times there was bleeding and the itching and burning was beyond endurance. The results I have derived from Dr. Chase's Ointment have been magical and the benefits lasting. I feel it a duty to fellow sufferers to recommend it."

Rev. J. N. Van Natter, Methodist minister, Albion, Wis., writes: "My wife was terribly afflicted with protruding piles and contemplated a surgical operation when her notice was drawn to Dr. Chase's Ointment, and less than one box effected a cure."

"I then used it for an unsightly and troublesome skin affection, which had baffled medical skill for twenty-five years. Dr. Chase's Ointment thoroughly cured it. For piles and skin disease it is worth its weight in gold."

Rev. J. A. Baldwin, Baptist minister, Arkona, Ont., writes:

"For over twenty years I was a great sufferer from itching and protruding piles. I used many remedies and underwent three very painful surgical operations, all without obtaining any permanent benefit. When about to give up in despair I was told to use Dr. Chase's Ointment and did so, finding relief at once. I used three boxes, and am entirely cured. The itching is all gone. I have advised others to use it, believing it would cure them as it has me."

Rev. Chas. Fish, Methodist minister, 193 Dunn avenue, Toronto, Ont., writes:

"Ten years ago eczema began on my ears and spread over my head and hands. During that time I was a great sufferer. I tried many remedies, and some of the best physicians—specialists on skin diseases—treated me. The first box of Dr. Chase's Ointment gave me much relief and five boxes completely cured me. I think my cure a marvel, and gladly recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment."

Just as good for every form of skin trouble, no matter how long standing. 50 cents a box, all dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Sold in East Liverpool by Charles T. Larkin.

HOME AFFAIRS.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature And of Matters About Town.

A Son Born—Born to Mr. and Mrs. George Crawford, Franklin street, a son.

Auction Sale In Progress—The auction sale of lots begun this week at Grandview, is being continued this afternoon. A large crowd of bidders are present.

Justice Married Them—Miss Ida B. Reed was married to W. M. Calhoun, Justice McCarron performing the ceremony at his office. Both are residents of the city, but will make their future home on a farm.

Ready to Build—Preparations are being made to commence work on the new 24-room double dwelling to be erected by Dr. C. B. Ogden at the corner of Fifth and Jefferson streets. Work upon the foundation will likely be started next week.

Making a Protest—Residents of Jackson street are complaining of the blockading of that thoroughfare between Fourth and Fifth streets, by old wagon beds, wheels, etc. Chief Thompson made an inspection and will report the matter to the street commissioner.

Officers' Kind Act—Through the kindness of Officers Davidson and Aufderheide, a young girl was saved from arrest and disgrace last night. The girl was found in a bad state of intoxication on Second street. She was just able to walk, and the officers through pity gave her an opportunity to get home.

Attended a Horse Sale—Mayor Davidson has returned from Cleveland, where he was in attendance for two days at the horse sale in the Forest City. He states that all horses sold brought enormous prices and that a bid on any of the animals less than $300 was scarcely given consideration. Several other local horsemen were present, but made no purchases.

Trouble Soon Settled—Teamsters in charge of six teams hauling dirt from the new reservoir went on strike yesterday at noon. When they began work they were informed that all would be expected to assist in loading the wagons. This they refused to do. No work was done yesterday afternoon, but this morning the trouble was settled by the water works people putting an additional force to work.

The National's Dance—The National Social club opened their dancing season last night at Rock Springs. The affair was a complete success, and was the largest in point of attendance held there this season. Nowling's orchestra furnished the music and an enjoyable time was spent by all. It is the intention of the club to give a series of these events throughout the summer, and lovers of the pastime are promised a season of rare enjoyment.

He Let Him Out.

The king of Naples, in the plenitude of his absolutism, paid one day a visit to the Neapolitan prisons in order to see for himself what sort of men his criminals were and whether they really deserved the punishments they were undergoing.

"What is your sentence?" he said to one. "Fifteen years, your majesty." "And what had you done?" "Nothing whatever." "Quite innocent?" "Entirely so, your majesty." "And you?" he asked another. "Thirty years, sire, victim of false accusation." "And you?" to a third. "In for life, my king." "And what had you done?" "Everything you can think of, my king; theft, burglary, highway robbery, manslaughter, murder. I only wonder they did not sentence me to death." "What is your name?" asked the king. "My name," replied the first class criminal, "since I have been here has been 912." After finishing his tour of inspection the king said to the governor: "All the prisoners here seem to be perfectly innocent. There is only one bad man among them, No. 912. You had better let him out, lest he corrupt the others."—Argonaut.

Ups and Downs of the Browns.

Brown has a cozy office on the twenty-second floor of a modern office building, with conveniences galore—Electric lights and mail shoots and everything first rate and an elevator starter who is strictly up to date.

Now, Mrs. Brown came in one day, A smile upon her face; Took elevator No. 6— And launched forth into space, 'Tis safe to say she'd hardly gone Beyond the second floor When Mr. Brown came sailing down Scene in No. 4.

"Hey, Mr. Brown," the starter cried, "Your wife went up this minute." A car was just about to start, And Mr. Brown jumped in it. "You'd better wait till she comes back!" The starter tried to shout, But up went Brown—a car came down, And Mrs. Brown stepped out!

The starter shook with hidden mirth He didn't dare display, "Your husband, mum, went back," he said, "But passed you on the way. Just take a chair and rest awhile; He'll surely come right down." She wouldn't listen; up she went, While down came Mr. Brown.

He went back up; his wife came down And heated for the door, While Brown ransacked in wild despair The twenty-second floor, As out into the street she passed, With proud, uplifted chin, "I hope they'll meet in heaven," said The starter, with a grin.

BAPTISTS CELEBRATE

A Distinguished Guest Was Rev. J. M. Gwynne-Owen, of England.

Springfield, Mass., May 25.—The fifth day of the Baptist May anniversary began in the Highland Baptist church with the second session of the American Baptist Home Mission society. The Rev. Dr. D. B. Palmer, of Pennsylvania, spoke on "A Visit to Porto Rico," and the Rev. Dr. William M. Lawrence, of Illinois, spoke on "Home Missions in the Twentieth Century."

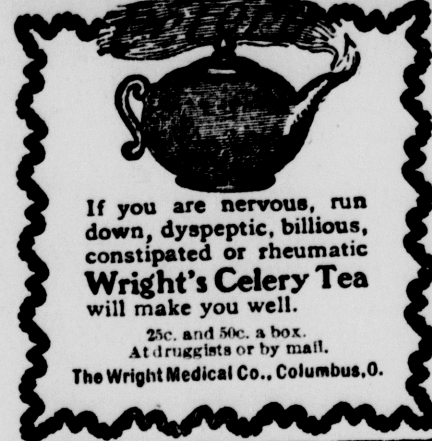

A distinguished guest of the society at this meeting was Rev. J. M. Gwynne-Owen, pastor of the Hagley Road Baptist church, of Birmingham, England, who is in the United States as a representative of the National Council of Evangelical Free Churches of England and Wales.

Farmer Found Murdered.

Rehoboth, N. Y., May 25.—David Schenck, a farmer, living about two miles from this city, has been found murdered in his barn. His head was smashed to a pulp by an ax, which was found nearby. Reynolds was miserly and wealthy, and it has always been believed that he carried large sums about him, and a report was circulated that he was in the habit of carrying large sums of money in his boots. When the body was found the boots were missing.

NEW PROPOSAL LIKELY

Hay Said Another Might Be Made as to Chinese Indemnity—Attitude of Russia.

San Francisco, May 25.—Secretary Hay, in an interview, said that another proposal might be made to the powers on the Chinese indemnity matter.

Washington, May 25.—Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador, spent about an hour with Acting Secretary Hill Friday and it was assumed that the Chinese negotiations was the burden of their talk. It has become apparent that Russia will find it inexpedient to close with the proposition to accept Chinese bonds at any of the interest figures mentioned, as indemnity, unless there is an international guaranty, and the United States finds it quite impossible to assent to the latter.

It is now nearly certain that by China's own action in so weakly opposing the demands of the ministers for an indemnity amounting to $337,000,000, the United States' effort to secure an abatement of the claim has failed completely, and China must submit to pay the total, or at least to agree to pay it, for there is grave doubt entertained here of her ability to do so.

Since the reduction of the indemnity has been abandoned it is assumed in the best posted Chinese quarters that authority will now be given China to raise her customs duties.

TO GET INTO NEW YORK

Gould Likely to Make Merely Traffic Arrangement.

New York, May 25.—The Mail and Express Friday printed the following article on the much-discussed question as to how the Gould system of railroads will reach the seaboard:

"George Gould is negotiating for an entrance for his railroads into this city. This information came from banking interests in a position to know what is going on. He will not build, and, according to a good authority, will probably not seek to get control of any existing trunk line. It will be a traffic deal."

"Opinions were expressed today that, except so far as the Pittsburg extension of the Wheeling and Lake Erie and Wabash is concerned, Mr. Gould will not disturb the present conditions. He intends, however, to build into Pittsburg."

"A strong reason why Mr. Gould wants this road is that he has a contract for 25 per cent of the tonnage of the Carnegie company, which will reduce the freight which the Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio receive. The latter desire to prevent the construction of the new road, and have offered inducements to Mr. Gould not to build."

"A story was current today that the controversy might result in Mr. Gould securing satisfactory traffic connections with either the Pennsylvania or Baltimore and Ohio, instead of Erie or Lackawanna."

HOME AFFAIRS.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature And of Matters About Town.

A Son Born—Born to Mr. and Mrs. George Crawford, Franklin street, a son.

Auction Sale In Progress—The auction sale of lots begun this week at Grandview, is being continued this afternoon. A large crowd of bidders are present.

Justice Married Them—Miss Ida B. Reed was married to W. M. Calhoun, Justice McCarron performing the ceremony at his office. Both are residents of the city, but will make their future home on a farm.

Ready to Build—Preparations are being made to commence work on the new 24-room double dwelling to be erected by Dr. C. B. Ogden at the corner of Fifth and Jefferson streets. Work upon the foundation will likely be started next week.

Making a Protest—Residents of Jackson street are complaining of the blockading of that thoroughfare between Fourth and Fifth streets, by old wagon beds, wheels, etc. Chief Thompson made an inspection and will report the matter to the street commissioner.

Officers' Kind Act—Through the kindness of Officers Davidson and Aufderheide, a young girl was saved from arrest and disgrace last night. The girl was found in a bad state of intoxication on Second street. She was just able to walk, and the officers through pity gave her an opportunity to get home.

Attended a Horse Sale—Mayor Davidson has returned from Cleveland, where he was in attendance for two days at the horse sale in the Forest City. He states that all horses sold brought enormous prices and that a bid on any of the animals less than $300 was scarcely given consideration. Several other local horsemen were present, but made no purchases.

Trouble Soon Settled—Teamsters in charge of six teams hauling dirt from the new reservoir went on strike yesterday at noon. When they began work they were informed that all would be expected to assist in loading the wagons. This they refused to do. No work was done yesterday afternoon, but this morning the trouble was settled by the water works people putting an additional force to work.

The National's Dance—The National Social club opened their dancing season last night at Rock Springs. The affair was a complete success, and was the largest in point of attendance held there this season. Nowling's orchestra furnished the music and an enjoyable time was spent by all. It is the intention of the club to give a series of these events throughout the summer, and lovers of the pastime are promised a season of rare enjoyment.

He Let Him Out.

The king of Naples, in the plenitude of his absolutism, paid one day a visit to the Neapolitan prisons in order to see for himself what sort of men his criminals were and whether they really deserved the punishments they were undergoing.

"What is your sentence?" he said to one. "Fifteen years, your majesty." "And what had you done?" "Nothing whatever." "Quite innocent?" "Entirely so, your majesty." "And you?" he asked another. "Thirty years, sire. Victim of false accusation." "And you?" to a third. "In for life, my king." "And what had you done?" "Everything you can think of, my king; theft, burglary, highway robbery, manslaughter, murder. I only wonder they did not sentence me to death." "What is your name?" asked the king. "My name," replied the first class criminal, "since I have been here has been 912." After finishing his tour of inspection the king said to the governor: "All the prisoners here seem to be perfectly innocent. There is only one bad man among them, No. 912. You had better let him out, lest he corrupt the others."—Argonaut.

Ups and Downs of the Browns.

Brown has a cozy office. On the twenty-second floor. Of a modern office building. With conveniences galore—Electric lights and mail shoots. And everything first rate. And an elevator starter. Who is strictly up to date.

Now, Mrs. Brown came in one day, A smile upon her face; Took elevator No. 6— And launched forth into space. "This safe to say she'd hardly gone Beyond the second floor. When Mr. Brown came sailing down. Scene in No. 4.

"Hey, Mr. Brown," the starter cried, "Your wife went up this minute." A car was just about to start, And Mr. Brown jumped in. "You'd better wait till she comes back!" The starter tried to shout. But up went Brown—a car came down, And Mrs. Brown stepped out!

The starter shook with hidden mirth. He didn't dare display. "Your husband, mum, went back," he said, "But passed you on the way. Just take a chair and rest awhile; He'll surely come right down." She wouldn't listen; up she went, While down came Mr. Brown.

He went back up; his wife came down And hoisted for the door. While Brown ransacked in wild despair The twenty-second floor. As out into the street she passed, With proud, uplifted chin, "I hope they'll meet in heaven," said The starter, with a grin.

"A strong reason why Mr. Gould wants this road is that he has a contract for 25 per cent of the earnings of the Carnegie company, which will reduce the freight which the Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio receive. The latter desire to prevent the construction of the new road, and have offered inducements to Mr. Gould not to build."

SOLICITOR TAKES APPEAL ON THE SCREEN DECISION

WANTS JUDGMENT REVERSED

The Metzger Case Still Before the Probate Court at Lisbon.

The Defendant Proved an Excellent Witness in His Own Behalf—Interesting Statements Made By B. S. Ambler—Court Matters.

Lisbon, May 25.—(Special.)—A petition in error was filed in circuit court today by City Solicitor Gaston, of East Liverpool, and Judge P. M. Smith, in behalf of the city of East Liverpool in the case of J. C. Walsh against the city. It is alleged that there is error in the record of the court; that the court erred in reversing the judgment of the mayor; also in permitting the petition in error to be filed; also that the judgment of the common pleas court is contrary to the law and evidence. It is asked that the judgment be reversed. Petitions in error will also be filed in the cases of East Liverpool against R. Guthrie and David A. Devine. The cases were those recently tried to test the legality of the East Liverpool screen ordinance.

The case of Charles E. Zimmerman, of Salem, against Hamilton Howell, was tried in common pleas court today and judgment rendered in favor of the plaintiff for $244.19, due for labor.

The case of Addie Walker versus I. Hughes was tried and judgment rendered for $136 for the plaintiff. The amount was due on a judgment note. In the case of Elizabeth Bretz, administrator of the estate of O. E. Bretz, against J. W. Kinnear, the defendant in court confessed himself indebted to the plaintiff in the sum of $348.50. The suit was filed to recover

NOW BEING ARGUED BEFORE PROBATE JUDGE BOONE.

Likely to Reach the Jury This Evening—The Defendant's Testimony.

Lisbon, May 25.—(Special.)—The Metzger case has reached the argument stage. It is not likely to reach the jury before 5 o'clock this evening.

The final evidence was submitted at 10:30 a. m. today, when B. S. Ambler and L. P. Metzger were called in rebuttal. By an arrangement between counsel two and one-half hours will be allowed for arguments on each side.

The evidence given by Metzger was the same as that given at the former trial, in direct, in cross-examination and in rebuttal. He made a good witness and his testimony must have made an impression upon the jury.

Mr. Ambler, in rebuttal, testified that he had received $15,500 from the firm of Stetson, Jennings & Russell, of New York; also an additional $1,000, to be paid to Mr. Metzger, according to his arrangement. Mr. Ambler followed up this statement by saying that Metzger would not dare to accept the money, as, if he should do so, he could be sent to the penitentiary. Another statement not introduced by Ambler at the former trial was that when Metzger declined to accept the $50 check sent to him, he considered his action quite manly, and he, together with Mrs. Ambler, presented him a gold watch chain. He said the check was not offered to Metzger as a bribe, but in good faith, as he knew that he was in hard luck at the time.

The opening argument was made by prosecuting Attorney J. H. Brookes, who will be followed by Hon. R. W. Taylor for the defense. Attorney S. W. Ramsey will follow Mr. Taylor, and Hon. C. S. Speaker will make the final argument.

A $500 Fire Near Lisbon. Lisbon, May 25.—(Special.)—Fire

destroyed the stove mill and cooper shop of the Ohio Cement company, two miles northwest of Lisbon, last evening. The blaze is supposed to have started in the stove mill from a spark from the engine. Loss, $500. The buildings will at once be re-erected.

ABSRUDLY FALSE

HEALTH OFFICERS OGDEN AND BURGESS DENY REPORTS.

Say the Rumor That Tuberculosis Is Suspected in Cattle Hereabouts Is Ridiculous.

The attempt in some quarters to trump up a sensation as to the probability of the milch cows in the surrounding country being infected with tuberculosis, is as ridiculous as it has been fruitless of result.

Health Officers Ogden and Burgess were interviewed by a reporter concerning the hub-bub being made, and in reply to a direct question whether there was any evidence of tuberculosis in the cattle hereabouts, the officers both smiled and said they had not heard of any sick cows here at the present time.

A question was then asked as to the truthfulness of the report that the dairy cows were to be examined, and both Dr. Ogden and Mr. Burgess said the rumor was absolutely false. It was also denied that a special meeting of the board of health would be called, and in fact the health officers denied each and every report relative to the suspected prevalence of tuberculosis as being devoid of any foundation whatever and emanating from an irresponsible source.

Dr. Ogden stated that in case the disease was suspected in this or any other territory it would be the duty of the state health department to act, and not he or Mr. Burgess.

EXTREME TORTURE

Suffered By the Dog Which Was Shot on Second Street Thursday Night.

Late last night Officers Davidson and Aufderheide received information that the dog which had been shot on Second street Thursday night, was lying in an alley near Jackson street in terrible agony. Though the brute's right side was almost completely shot away, death did not result and all of yesterday the dog lay under a stable suffering extreme pain.

The officers went to the stable where the animal had been seen, but it had then disappeared. Residents in the vicinity where the dog was shot are much worked up over the manner of its killing.

SHE BECAME SCARED

Wellsville Woman Gave Chief Thompson a Counterfeit Half Dollar as a Present.

A Wellsville woman called at the city hall and made Chief Thompson a present of a counterfeit half dollar. She said it had been given to her in change, but she could not remember who gave it to her.

The woman told the chief she was afraid to carry the coin for fear she would pass it by mistake. The officer will make an effort to learn the original owner.

WONDERS WROUGHT BY LIQUID AIR

A Marvelous Exhibition of the Power of Liquefied Atmosphere.

PROF. WOODLAND'S LECTURE

Interested a Large Audience And Some of the Experiments Performed Were Wonderful—The Great Energy of the New Marvel.

To a large and interested audience at the Grand Opera House last evening Prof. J. E. Woodland explained and exemplified the wonders of liquid air. It was a deeply instructive lecture, and with so little use of scientific terms as to be readily intelligible to every hearer.

The lecturer was introduced by School Superintendent Rayman and began his talk by explaining the efforts of scientists for a hundred years to turn gases to liquids and solids and back again, liquid air being one of the results of these researches.

He described the process of manufacturing, preserving and shipping this marvelous substance. Its strange and contradictory properties were clearly set forth. While it is a liquid and looks just like water, it will not wet anything it is poured upon. He told about its intense cold—a degree of cold absolutely beyond our power to comprehend, and illustrated this property by many wonderful experiments.

Among the many interesting experiments were the following: A handful of cranberries were placed in an aluminum cup, a little liquid air poured over them, and in an instant they were frozen as hard as marbles, breaking into pieces when thrown upon the floor, as if made of glass; a piece of potato, after a moment's immersion in the liquid, broke under the stroke of a hammer into scores of pieces, and a piece of beefsteak similarly treated was rendered as brittle as a cracker; mercury was poured into a paper mold, a small stick inserted in the mercury, and liquid air poured on; in a minute or two the mercury was frozen solid, and using it as a hammer the professor drove nails into a board.

Mercury freezes at a temperature of 40 degrees below zero, and the lecturer's next experiment was the freezing of 95 per cent pure alcohol, for which a temperature of 202 degrees below zero is required; putting several spoonfuls of alcohol into a glass, he poured over it liquid air, and almost instantly the alcohol was frozen into the shape of a solid ball of ice.

No one in the audience failed to note the haste with which the professor placed the glass on the table some distance from the chair he occupied. Rubber balls were bounced upon the floor, to show their resistance, then dipped into the liquid, thrown upon the floor again and broke.

The lecturer then showed the contrast between two temperatures. Filling a glass with liquid air, he dipped it into water, and in a short time an ice mold of the glass was formed; into this mold liquid air was poured, and a piece of carbon, the end of which had been heated to the burning point by the use of an oxygen blower, was thrust into the air; the carbon burned fiercely (a heat of 3,000 degrees being required), and at the same time cranberries were frozen in the cup. Felt cloth, dipped in the liquid, was instantly consumed when brought in contact with a flame, and there was no odor of burning hair.

Many other experiments were made, all of which were thoroughly enjoyed by all present. In conclusion the lecturer referred to the commercial value of the discovery, and predicted that it would eventually be in common use in the arts and sciences.

Prof. Woodland stated that liquid air would soon be an important rival of glycerine and dynamite and by way of illustration saturated a very small particle of cotton that was hardly visible to the audience, with oil, placed it in a strong tube, pouring a little liquid air over it and when a light was applied it exploded, the report resembling that made by the discharge of a cannon. It is impossible to confine the liquid on account of its tendency to expand, and it is carried about in open-mouthed vessels, because neither steel tubes nor anything else known are strong enough to contain it otherwise. The professor's experiments showed the possibilities of great future usefulness for this new and marvelous force.

POISON NEARLY CAUSED DEATH

Mrs. Fletcher Massey, of Pleasant Heights, Swallowed a Quantity of Laudanum.

FOUND LYING UNCONSCIOUS

Believed the Woman Took the Drug With Suicidal Intent—She Was Resuscitated With Difficulty—Jealousy Thought to Be the Cause.

Mrs. Fletcher Massey, residing on Pleasant Heights, was found at her home by a neighbor woman Thursday evening in an unconscious state. Lying by her side was an empty vial which had been filled with laudanum. It is believed Mrs. Massey took the poison with suicidal intent.

Assistance was promptly summoned and with great difficulty the woman was restored to consciousness. It was Mrs. Herbert Smith who first learned of Mrs. Massey's act. She stepped into the latter's room for a friendly call and was startled by the sight which met her gaze.

Mr. Massey had left home just a short while before and had been given no inkling whatever of what was about to take place. Mrs. Smith was quick to apprehend the situation and lost no time in administering to the suffering woman. There is little doubt but that Mr. Massey would have found his wife a corpse had not Mrs. Smith happened to call at his home. She revived, however, and is now fully recovered.

It is not known why she took the poison, but it is said it was her purpose to take her life. Neighbors say that Mrs. Massey has been jealous of her husband without cause and given herself considerable worry as a result. This is believed to have prompted the act.

Mr. Massey is a well known potter and has been married only a few months.

MADE FOR THE $3,000 TO SUPPORT LIBRARY.

Wants of the Carnegie Institution Overlooked By the School Board.

In making the tax levy for city and school purposes a very important matter seems to have been overlooked. The finance committee has already made the levy for the city, and it is understood the committee appointed by the school board some time ago had decided upon a levy of 10 mills and would so report to the board Monday night.

The council committee in fixing the rate either intentionally or by accident neglected to make any provision for the maintenance of the Carnegie library, which the council or municipality had obligated themselves to do. Members of the finance committee claim this is a matter that the board of education should look after, as it comes under the same head as the public library.

The committee making the levy for the school board, in fixing up the necessary amount required, provided three-tenths of a mill for library purposes, as had been customary in former years. This is included in the 10-mill rating, but will only provide an income of $1,500 per year. The city is obligated to furnish $3,000 a year for the Carnegie institution, making the fact obvious that the remainder will necessarily have to come from some source. It is more than probable that the board of education at its meeting Monday night will rectify the mistake by either reducing the apportionment for some of the purposes already provided for in the 10-mill levy, or raise it to a point sufficient to secure the additional $1,500.

The levy being made at this time will be effective next December, and as the Carnegie library will have reached a point in its erection by that time where it will need the money, it can be seen how important it is that some provision be made for its maintenance at this time.

HAND BADLY CUT

Bert Byers Sustained a Serious Injury While at Work in a Pottery.

Bert Byers, employed in the ware-room of the Cartwright pottery, met with an accident yesterday afternoon

which may cause him serious trouble. He was carrying ware on his head and in his left hand was holding a ewer. The young man accidentally lost his footing and stumbled, the ware on his head falling in a heap.

A large wash bowl alighted with great force on the back of the hand holding the ewer, inflicting a deep gash. The wound bled profusely and the injured boy was hurriedly taken to a surgeon. It was suspected the leaders of the hand were cut, but the doctor was unable to state positively. If such proves true the injury may result in the disablement of one or more of the fingers.

This is the second time Bert has been hurt within a few months. He is very popular among the employees of the pottery where he is working, and his mishap is much deplored.

SUCCESS AT LAST

MRS. GRAY PROVES HERSELF TO BE A GOOD DETECTIVE.

Has Obtained Information Whereby She Expects to Easily Locate Her Missing Husband.

Chief Thompson was again called on last night by Mrs. William Gray, the woman whose husband is missing and in company with another female. Mrs. Gray, as exclusively announced in Thursday evening's News Review, learned where her husband had last boarded during his stay in this city and that a trunk had been shipped to him.

During the past few days the woman has been busy in an effort to learn her husband's present location, and she believes she has now succeeded. Through the assistance of friends she has learned where Gray went from here, and although it is known he has again moved, Mrs. Gray anticipates no further trouble in finding him.

She informed Chief Thompson that she had obtained other information which had so convinced her of Gray's unfaithfulness and deceit that she had resolved to reject him forever. She plainly manifested her sincerity and stated she had overcome the timidity which had deterred her in carrying out her purpose to have him placed behind the bars. Mrs. Gray says if she ever gets the chance to lay hands on the woman her husband is now with she will strangle her.

Gray's arrest is now thought to be but a matter of a few days.

EYTRA POLICEMEN

Will Be Put On to Maintain Order And Quell Lawlessness Tonight.

Two extra policemen will be added to the force tonight. This will be done for the purpose of quelling disturbances which have become intolerable to citizens all over the city, and which the small boys have been causing.

Dozens of complaints have been filed with the mayor and he has determined to haul the troublesomeurchins over the coals. A resident of the West End stated this morning that three boys, Tom and Jerry Hester and Homer Amos, had been guilty of throwing stones and otherwise annoying his family, and that he wanted a stop put to the practice. The mayor will call the youngsters to account.

The officers have been kept busy endeavoring to hold the lads within the bounds of the law, but have more than they can attend to. It is the intention of the mayor to check the lawlessness on the part of the youngsters if he has to put 50 extra policemen on the force.

EQUALIZATION BOARD

Its Regular Meeting Scheduled for Next Monday—Much Work Ahead.

Next Monday, May 27, is the date fixed by law on which the board of equalization shall meet, and it is likely the board will get together at that time.

The board will have a great deal of work to attend to at this session.

Fine New Building.

Ground will be broken on Tuesday morning for the new brick business block, to be erected by Dr. Hobbs on Fifth street. The building will be 45x130, three stories in height, and will contain an elevator.

Men Rendered Unconscious and a Horse Killed by Lightning.

Causing Great Damage to Farmers in Portions of Beaver County.

OVER IN WEST VIRGINIA

Buildings Were Struck By Lightning And a Young Lady Was Stunned. Hail Lay on the Ground Several Inches in Depth.

The worst wind and hailstorm that has occurred near here in many years passed over the lower part of Beaver county, Pa., last evening. The storm also wrought great damage in West Virginia, near here.

Whitman Erwin and Lacey Cisco were both rendered unconscious for more than an hour by a stroke of lightning, which killed one of the horses they were driving and set fire to the barn in which they were sheltered. Eight head of cattle were also stunned by the same bolt.

Cisco and Erwin had just driven their team into the barn which belongs to James Hanley, near Shippingport, and had not yet left the wagon when the barn was struck. The fire was extinguished before any damage was done, but the men are still suffering from the effects of the shock. Hundreds of yards of fence were blown down and the fruit trees over the entire section covered by the storm were greatly damaged.

Hail stones as large as walnuts fell for an hour and a half, and all the plants which had been set out by the gardeners near Shippingport were destroyed. The growing wheat was also beaten into the ground, and it is thought the local crop has been greatly damaged.

The storm did considerable damage at Freedom, Pa., where a cloudburst was reported, tying up the street cars and delaying traffic on the Ft. Wayne railroad, which was covered with great piles of dirt carried down by the torrents.

The storm struck the ridge near Gas Valley and Fairview, in Hancock county, with full force. The entire roof was blown off a barn belonging to Ebenezer Langfitt and a part of the roof was blown off a barn belonging to Mrs. Laura Glass. Smiley Stuart's house was struck by lightning and Miss Maud Stuart was stunned for a few minutes by the shock. A chimney was blown off William Spivey's residence in Fairview and most of the fences in the path of the storm were blown down. The hail was several inches deep at Fairview when the storm subsided.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

A. S. Young will address the 4 o'clock men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow, taking for his subject "Things Worth Knowing." It is planned to hold the Sunday services in the gymnasium during the summer, as this room is delightfully cool. The audiences at the Sunday services have been quite satisfactory so far as numbers are concerned, but the secretary hopes to be able to interest more of the young men who are not in the habit of attending any service.

The roll of the Boys' Band now numbers 109, with an average attendance of 64. The boys seem to enjoy the new departure of two weeks free in the gymnasium. Numbers 1 to 20 have the privileges of the baths and gym this and next week, 21 to 40 the following two weeks, and in like manner until all have been favored.

The new parlor furniture is nearly all in place, and the parlor is made very attractive. The association has been able to do this by the means of contributions on the part of the young people's societies in four of the churches.

That the young men appreciate this is evidenced by the delight they take in the room as it now is.

CLEANINGS OF A DAY In and About THE LOCAL POTTERIES

The officers of the two committees dealing with the new printers' scale met in the rooms of the Potters' club last night, and wound up a few details of the work.

It was the intention of those in charge to have matters in shape to present to the main bodies of the Brotherhood and Manufacturers' association this morning, but a few minor matters yet remain to be adjusted before the list is ready for ratification. This will be attended to this evening in time for the parent organization to sign p tonight.

The list will not be ready for publication until Monday, although the committees have agreed upon the prices to govern the work on dinner sets. This part of the scale was one of the first matters taken up, and will be made a part of the completed list in about the following shape: 18 to 24 sprigg, copper plate, 4½ cents per print; 25 to 27, 4½ cents; 28 to 30, 5 cents; 31 to 33, 5½ cents; 34 to 36, 5½ cents; 37 to 40, 6 cents. No set to be lower than the following: 3 sprigg pattern, 47½ cents; four sprigg pattern, 50 cents; five sprigg pattern, 58 cents; six sprigg pattern, 60 cents; seven sprigg pattern, 65 cents; eight sprigg pattern, 68 cents.

Five, six and seven-inch plates shall be the basis for distinguishing a three-sprigg pattern from a four-sprigg pattern. For instance three spriggs on plates shall be a three-sprigg pattern, and four spriggs on plates shall be a four sprigg pattern.

The Globe pottery clay hands crossed bats with the motormen at Columbian park yesterday afternoon. The street car men had evidently profited by their defeat at the hands of the Southside team, and to regain lost laurels they put up a pretty stiff game. At the close the score stood 13 to 9 in favor of the motormen. The East End pottery team had arranged to play the motormen this afternoon, but the game was postponed until Monday afternoon. Next Friday afternoon the Globe pottery team will go up against the East End pottery nine at Columbian park. Both sides are willing to stake money on the result and the game promises to be an interesting one. The Laughlin No. 2 team are very anxious to meet the West End pottery team. At the Klondike plant the boys have been unable to form a team so far and at the National a cycling team has been formed in place of a ball team. The National boys say they are not much for base ball, but will be glad to arrange for bicycle races with the employees of any other plant in the city.

Local Union No. 30, of Akron, will present several resolutions at the national convention. One of them will be that the 1 per cent assessment be increased from 1 to 2 per cent. The other resolution is one that should meet the hearty approval of the different delegations. They feel that an increase in more than one of the branches has been accomplished, and those who have devoted their time to the advancement of the general trade should be rewarded. It is only proper remuneration for their services, and in the language of one of the potters here, it is merit recognized in a very substantial manner. The resolution will call for an increase in the salaries of both the national officials, the president and national secretary. They place the salary of national president at $1,800 per year, and the national secretary at $1,200 or possibly $1,400.

A Trenton correspondent, writing to a trade paper from Trenton, does not seem to agree with a number of statements sent out from there in regard to what the eastern members of the Brotherhood expect to ask at the coming convention. He says:

"There has been some talk of putting up Frank Hutchins for president of the Brotherhood at the coming convention, but it is understood that Mr. Hutchins is opposed to this. Al S. Hughes, of East Liverpool, the present head of the organization, seeks re-election, and he will undoubtedly have the support of the west. Trenton is likely to get none of the national officers, except, perhaps a vice president."

The Globe pottery base ball club went down to defeat yesterday in a game with the motormen of the East Liverpool railway. The contest was hard-fought from start to finish and was anybody's game until the last inning was played. The score was 12 to 9. Batteries — Motormen, Crawford and Deitz; Globe, Herbert and Ber-man. "Rube" Crawford played a great game for the street railway men, and is fast developing a speed which may land him in professional ranks.

Yesterday a force of men were put to work tearing our the frame wall of the old slip house at the C. C. Thompson pottery, and a brick wall will be erected in its stead. They will also fill in and raise it to the level of the new slip house, which will not be used until the first of July.

A report is current in the Dresden pottery that a young man, employed there as a decorated kiln placer, is to be married within the next few days. His chums are looking forward to the event with the anticipation of giving him a royal charivari.

James Early, who struck the thumb of his left hand with a hatchet while nailing casks at the Vodrey pottery, Monday, returned to work yesterday after a loaf of three days on account of the accident.

James Saxton has resigned his position as yellow ware slip maker at the C. C. Thompson pottery, and returned to his farm near Salineville to spend the summer farming.

William Conkle this morning stated that he did not fall into a glaze tub while at work at the Thompson pottery. Some were fell into the tub and splashed him a little, however.

Miss Cecilia DeTemple has resigned her position as finisher at the C. C. Thompson pottery company and taken a position at the Knowles plant at Chester.

Joe Simpson resigned his position as cup handler at the Taylor, Lee & Smith pottery and yesterday went to work at a similar job at the Thompson pottery.

Thomas Croxall Thursday resigned his position as handler at the C. C. Thompson pottery and yesterday accepted a berth at the E. M. Knowles pottery at Chester.

Thomas Lownds, who has been pressing at the old end of the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles, will resign tonight and return Monday to McNicols.

The East End pottery shipped two carloads of ware to the west this morning. This is one of the largest shipments tver made at this plant.

The new handling department recently erected by the C. C. Thompson pottery company is now in operation and is in charge of Albert Rigby.

Henry Wiebel and William Terrence, Jr., who were formerly employed at the East End plant, have accepted positions at the National.

The Northside baseball team would like to have a game with the Wells-ville pottery team for love or money at any time or place.

Miss Laura Schmidt, of Long Bottom, W. Va., has accepted a position in the biscuit warehouse at the National pottery.

The Vodrey Pottery company yesterday packed a car of ware for I. Levi, and it was shipped to New York today.

The new yellow ware turning shop at the Thompson pottery will be completed and placed in operation in one week.

Robert Cooley yesterday resigned his position as batter out and Sam Wilkins his as mould runner at the Thompson plant.

Frank Price has resigned as presser at Laughlin No. 2 and has gone to Wallace & Chetwynd's to stick up.

K. W. Irwin left yesterday for a trip to Cleveland in the interest of the E. M. Knowles China company.

The printers and transferrers at the Sevrès loafed yesterday, there being a shortage of ware.

Harry Smith, of Akron, has accepted a position pressing at Wallace & Chetwynd's.

A FOUR-BARREL WELL

Struck at Smith's Ferry Encourages Oil Prospectors in That Vicinity.

Affairs in the oil field about Smith's Ferry yesterday were greatly enlivened when the well on the Richard Fisher farm came in as a four-barrel producer. The well is located about two miles southwest of Smith's Ferry. The oil is of a good quality and is flowing steadily.

A number of other test wells are being drilled in this vicinity and also the proposed line of the B. & O. railroad. If the wells turn out to be even small producers, Smith's Ferry will experience a considerable revival of the oil business.

LUMBER OFFICE ROBBED

Thieves Broke Into Kerr Brothers Building And Stole Tools.

The building at Kerr Bros.' lumber yard was broken into last night and a hand saw and several other tools stolen. It was necessary to break a large padlock in order to get into the building, and it is the belief of Mr. Kerr that was done by drunks who wanted a place to sleep.

Mr. Kerr says he has a well defined idea who got the tools, and if they are not returned he will make an effort to bring the culprits to justice.

SEVERAL BONES BROKEN

Mrs. Greene, an Aged Lady of Klondike, Badly Hurt by a Fall.

Mrs. Greene, Sr., of Klondike, fell in a faint last evening and was severely injured. Her right shoulder was broken and the arm bone was fractured in several places.

CAPTAIN GREEN TALKS OF SUEING WELLSVILLE.

Interesting Talk With the Captain of the Greenwood—The Smallpox Scare.

Health Officer Ogden received word from the health authorities at Pittsburgh yesterday afternoon that the passengers and crew of the steamer Greenwood had all been vaccinated and the boat thoroughly fumigated. It was also stated that Captain Green had been given a clean bill of health and that there was no need of fear from disease.

The Greenwood reached Pittsburgh at 4 o'clock Friday morning. The city physician, Dr. R. L. Taylor, and his assistants met the boat at the wharf and vaccinated all on board, 75 persons, including 45 of the crew, Captain Green, his wife and little boy, who were awakened from their slumbers. The boat left Pittsburgh yesterday afternoon and reached East Liverpool at about 8:30 o'clock last evening. The freight for this point, which had been carried past on the upward trip, was unloaded.

Captain Green was greatly pleased with the treatment he received at the hands of the health officials at Pittsburgh. He says if they had suspected a case of genuine smallpox had been on his boat, they would not have given him a clean bill of health until a rigid investigation had been made.

In speaking of the alleged smallpox case to a News Review reporter, Captain Green said:

"When we left Charleston there was a colored man on board whose face was covered with pimples. A lady passenger seeing him said he had the smallpox, and I suppose she circulated the report. The negro got off at West Wheeling.

"All went well until we reached Steubenville. I was in bed at the time and as there was a number of officers at the landing armed with revolvers. The crew would not land, but came on up the river. We met the same kind of a mob at Wellsville, but in spite of the threats to shoot us we unloaded what freight we had for that city."

The captain stated that one of his crew went to a saloon in company with two of the Wellsville officers and that all drank together. He says he is seriously thinking of bringing a damage suit against that city.

Information sent out from Wheeling is to the effect that a colored man, whose name is Jackson, and thought to be identical with the suspect put off the Greenwood at St. Mary's, is in a pesthouse at Wheeling. Jackson is said to have boarded a train at St. Mary's after leaving the boat and made his way to Wheeling by rail.

On the upward trip after having been forced to pass Steubenville without landing, the Greenwood made an effort to tie up at Toronto. Health Officer Thomas was on hand in time to balk the attempt, but the boat landed at the Black Horse works, where Mrs. William Rainey and children, residents of Toronto, were let off. They went to New Cumberland Thursday night, but later crossed the river again and are now in their home. The health officer has taken every precaution to avoid contagion.

BASEBALL NOTES

The members of the base ball team known as the "Hot Air Highfivers" bled themselves to Rock Springs park last evening for practice. There were two star players among the aggregation, namely Henry Bullock and M. K. Zimmerman, but Alex Stevenson, another member of the club, proved himself to be a full moon and nothing less.

At the beginning of the game, when the players were assigned their positions, Stevenson was told to hold down second base. Alex did so admirably. He rolled on it, sat down on it and even tried to stand on his head on the base—or rather, an alleged base, which was nothing other than a large and juicy batch of Hancock county mud.

The rain which had fallen in the afternoon moistened the ground to a depth of several inches, and Alex found the softest spot on the diamond, as did also the seat of his trousers. His troubles came about through his eagerness to head off a hot liner which was sent from a bat down across the diamond. He made a frantic plunge after the swiftly moving sphere, and just as he was reaching for it his feet went out from under him. Then followed a series of highly original and intensely interesting flip-flops, which brought forth voluminous applause from the grand stand. The manager was so delighted by the brilliancy of the play Alex made he raised his wages, while Henry Bullock raised Alex from the mud.

On returning to the city on a trolley car which was filled with lady passengers, Alex occupied a rear seat, and on reaching his destination disap-

A FINAL SPURT

Saved Market From Being Dullest In Amount of Business Since Election.

New York, May 25.—A final spurt of activity and strength in the stock market was all that saved the day from being the dullest in the amount of business done since the November election. As it was, business was well down towards the minimum, and was, besides, largely congested in a few stocks. The Tobacco stocks, American and Continental, were the features of the market. The volume of business in them grew as the advance progressed, and all of the room traders, hungry for a stock that would move easily, tailed on to the movement. By bidding up prices smartly they ascertained that very few selling orders for the stock were in the market above the prevailing price level. These technical conditions were responsible for the movement of the stocks so far as any news that was published would indicate.

The Eries, the Wabash, Missouri Pacific and Atchison were good points of resistance all day. The story persisted that efforts were making to secure a trunk line outlet for the Gould Southwestern railroads and Wabash; that the great trunk line proprietors had protested against this project, and that it had been threatened that Atchison would be absorbed by the Pennsylvania in retaliation. This story and its variations will be found closely related to whatever strength was shown in the day's market. The movement of Union Pacific was a notable influence on the whole market, its break to 98 being the principal factor in the early weakness of the market and its recovery at the close largely relieving the depression. The forecast of a strong bank statement, promising a recuperation in cash by the banks of nearly $5,000,000, was a revivifying influence, although there has been no lack of money to loan. The fact that no further gold was engaged for export was also a strengthening factor, not only for its immediate bearing upon the situation, but in its largest significance as indicating a relaxation in the whole foreign money situation. Cessation of the urgent demand for Northern Pacific also relieved apprehension. The result was an active and firm close in the stock market after a day of feeble and desultory fluctuations.

The bond market was irregular and only moderately active. Total sales, par value, $4,790,000. U. S. new 4s advanced 3/4 per cent on the last call.

Collars and Fichus.

Collars will be worn more than ever both on our coats and on our dresses, and fichus, too, will be as much as ever in favor, while the old fashioned embroidery collars and vests will be seen as a trimming to the Quaker gray and black cashmeres. Those possessed of really good specimens of this embroidery will have the advantage in the construction of their new frocks.

REVISION IN DEMAND

Presbyterian Assembly Decides in Favor of It.

BAKER AMENDMENT BEATEN

Decided to Continue Consideration of the Great Question—Among Others, Dewitt Spoke For Dismissal and Dickey For It.

Philadelphia, May 25.—The Presbyterian general assembly, by a rising vote, which showed conclusively that a revision of the confession of faith is desired by the church, defeated the amendment dismissing the whole subject offered Thursday by Rev. George D. Baker, of Philadelphia. The assembly decided by an overwhelming majority to continue consideration of the great question. After about two days of debate, during which leading exponents of the Presbyterian doctrine throughout the country thoroughly analyzed the creed and gave their reasons for their positions regarding the subject. At the opening of the afternoon session Friday the assembly decided to vote on the amendment at 4:30 o'clock, and speeches were limited to 10 minutes. The time, however, was extended in order to give a number of commissioners who wished to be heard an opportunity of speaking.

The principal addresses of the day were made by Rev. Dr. John Dewitt, in the morning, and Rev. Dr. Charles A. Dickey, closing the debate. Rev. Dr. Dewitt favored dismissal, declaring that though there might be slight divergence of opinion on the confession, the church was united on the word of God.

Dr. Dickey took a decided stand against dismissal. He said as the question of revision was not before the assembly no evil could result from a further consideration of the committee's report.

Rev. Dr. W. H. Roberts made a plea for a declarative statement, asserting the supremacy of Holy Scripture as the only source of doctrine; that the system of the confession is the same as Holy Scripture teaches, and that infants are saved by God's electing grace.

The discussion at times was lively, but without bitterness.

WELSH TONGUE USED

Meeting of the Welsh Presbyterian Church Synod Held in Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh, May 25.—The synod of Western Pennsylvania and Ohio of the Welsh Presbyterian church opened in the Welsh Presbyterian church, Second avenue and Cherry alley. The moderator, the Rev. D. M. Jones, of Venedocia, O., presided. The Rev. D. J. Davis, of Youngstown, O., is stated clerk.

The meeting was conducted almost wholly in the Welsh tongue. Two new members of the synod were admitted from other synods, the Rev. Robert Hymphres, now of Johnstown, but formerly of Wisconsin, and the Rev. W. J. Lewis, of Eastern Pennsylvania, who is now in the territory covered by the synod.

Consideration of a number of overtures from the different presbyteries of the synod occupied considerable time. They were mostly appeals for aid from churches unable to sustain themselves. Appropriations from the home mission fund of the church were made for this purpose.

LIGHT AND SHADE.

Why the Pretty Paper Does Not Look Well When on the Wall.

A very essential feature, and a subject worthy of more study than is usually accorded it, is the treatment of light and shade in decorative art. In the selection of wall hangings the goods are placed generally where a strong light prevails. This may be very well in some cases, but how often is it we hear that the paper looks better in the piece than on the wall!

What is the reason? Is it the pattern? No. The mistake is caused by the fact that the customer has not considered the light in the room. The same defect may occur once in awhile to the decorator. For example, a room may appear to be very light when devoid of curtains, shades, furniture, etc., and in this condition the work may indeed look very satisfactory when completed. But when the room is furnished it lacks one thing—decision. What appeared to be a delicate coloring is now so delicate that it would like a pair of opera glasses to find its design.

A few other practical notes in reference to the treatment of colors in different lights which may be of service to many decorators are given by a writer in The Art Interchange, as follows:

Let me give a scheme of color for a room with a south or southwestern exposure, having at least two good sized windows. Let the ceiling be treated with a groundwork of light cinnamon, frescoed in outline with a medium shade of old gold color, the high lights to be tipped with gold leaf. Let the side walls be grounded in a sage color as high as picture molding. For frieze, make a slightly darker shade and introduce ornament in colors of old gold, deep crimson and dull pink. The cornice should be treated with special care, and I suggest that the cove should have main portion tinted in the body color of ceiling and blended down into gold at the completion of the arc. The members of the cornice above the cove should be in the lighter shades, so that the whole may blend together toward the ceiling. Woodwork should be ivory white, rubbed to a dead finish. In furnishing this room I should suggest white and gold furniture, with upholstery of light amber tint, or otherwise old rose. Carpet should be of light fawn color, with just sufficient color in relief to show design. This would make a very desirable reception room or parlor.

We will take, as another example, a music room with a western outlook—a shady retreat, as it were. Let the ceiling be of a medium shade of old rose color, with stile about 18 inches around it in peacock blue. Let ornamentation be in the main body of the ceiling and consist of corners, breaks and lines of geometrical figures, to be in darker shade of body color, with strong lines of deep brown between center and stile. Let the side walls be in a dull and distinct shade of terra cotta, leaving space for frieze about 14 inches. Let 2 1/2 inches on top and bottom of frieze be tinted in freestone color, the remaining nine inches in purple brown. Now take a double stencil of Grecian key border with eight inch figure and use light freestone color for same. As a relief, make a panel, or break, each three feet around room, the same height in full as frieze.

MEMORIAL SERVICES.

In many of the churches in this city and in all other cities tomorrow sermons will be preached to the surviving veterans of the civil war, in memory of their deeds and the deeds of those soldiers who have answered the final roll call. On Thursday next, in every town, village and hamlet and in almost every country district the graves of a great, silent army will be strewn with flowers, and the national colors will float above the dead. It is a beautiful custom, well observed. The orations and the impressive exercises teach the youth of the land a lesson in patriotism and impress upon young minds the great facts of history and the story of the sacrifices of the preservers of the union. No more touching sight can be witnessed than that of gray-haired men, some with empty sleeves and some with crutches, all past the prime of life, scattering flowers with reverent hands above the earth where rest the bones of the comrades of their youth, who shared their perils and pleasures in days that tried men's souls.

It is just and eminently proper that a day be set aside for honoring the memories of the tens of thousands of dead American soldiers. It is also proper that the living soldiers receive thoughtful care and attention. None of them are young, while many are past the allotted age of three score and ten. Not a few of them are enfeebled and not a few are poor. The dead soldiers can suffer no more; the living can. Pay all honor to the dead, but remember that duty does not end there. See that none of the living are in want, and make smooth their pathway to the grave in the few years that remain for them.

FOOLING WITH DRUGS.

Because he happened to have a headache, John P. Beal, a Pittsburgh business man, is dead. To relieve the ache he went to a drug store and had some powders compounded. He took the powders and his funeral has been arranged for. Whether he got the drug he called for or another makes no difference now. He is only one of many victims of powders that cure aches with unexpected suddenness and completeness. Had he consulted a physician, instead of prescribing for himself, he would be alive now.

Men who know nothing of medicine had best let it alone. They will live longer and be happier and have fewer aches, if they never swallow a dose that has not been prescribed by a qualified physician. There is plenty of law against the sale of poisonous and dangerous drugs, except on prescriptions, but it does not stop the traffic. If every man were a law unto himself and would buy nothing in the drug line except on a physician's advice, there would soon be a great falling off in the number of sudden deaths daily chronicled.

PUNISHMENT FOR FRAUD.

Three army officers, convicted of frauds in connection with the management of the commissary department at Manila, have just been committed to prison to serve long terms for their crimes. Simultaneously with the report of their incarceration comes a dispatch from Washington, telling of a movement undertaken with the confident purpose of securing an early pardon. This is disgraceful and disgusting. We cannot believe the scheme will succeed. If the men are guilty, as a military court has declared, they deserve their punishment, and we cannot believe that either President McKinley, Secretary Root, or any army officer of standing and influence, can be brought to think otherwise. The men have violated their oaths, disgraced their uniforms and brought reproach upon their country. Let them suffer for it.

AGUINALDO'S COMING.

Aguinaldo, if other engagements will permit him, will come to this country next fall. He wants to be here in time to see congress open and to learn something of how a great nation is run. There is a chance for Aguinaldo to learn a lot, and he will doubtless receive enough of a welcome to flatter his egotism. Let him come. He will return home a better American. When he has gained an idea of the greatness and resources of this land, he will be impressed with the folly of single-handed revolution against its authority.

The Presbyterian general assembly, having voted down a proposition to drop the subject of creed revision, will now proceed to dispose of the vexed question as the progressive element in the church has long desired it to do. Veneration for ancient things is right and proper, but a church, like a political party, cannot afford to publish to the world a platform which a majority of its members do not indorse.

Philadelphia is indicting election officers in blocks of 20 or more. From reports emanating from that city there is plenty of work ahead if the political purification of Quakerdom is to be accomplished.

Mrs. Potter Palmer, not satisfied with social conquests, seeks political honors, and will try to gain them by pushing forward her son, Honore, for a seat in congress.

Kentucky women have now taken to dueling. Women's rights advocates are evidently making gains in the Dark and Bloody ground.

WELLSVILLE

STUDENTS' BANQUET

CLASSES OF '01 AND '02 SPEND A MOST DELIGHTFUL EVENING.

Music, Feasting, Games And Dancing
Make the Affair a Delightful One.

Bunting's parlors were the scene last evening of one of the most enjoyable affairs of the season. It was the reception and banquet of the class of '01 by the class of '02 of Wellsville high school.

The exercises started with an excellent little musical program upon which were the names of the Misses Emily Brooke, Edna Dugan, Flora Kampman and Harriet Silver and the Messrs. Frank E. Workman and Henry W. Blackburn.

The guests were then seated and for an hour they regaled themselves on choice viands. After dinner guessing games and a contest in pronunciation was engaged in, and Miss Helen Wells as victor received the first prize—a handsome book. The booby prize—a late edition of the Primer—was given to Miss Nellie Davis. Then dancing was indulged in until a late hour. Those from out of town were Miss Margaret Elder, of Wooster, and Henry L. Goetz, who has just arrived home from Berlin, and Guy P. Ohliger, of Richmond, Ind.

SEWER COMMISSION

Accepts Irwin Bros.' Bond And Awards a Contract to S. T. Dennis.

At the sewer commission meeting a communication from Consulting Engineer Riggs was read, saying that he would be present at the final acceptance of the sanitary sewer. The bid of Samuel T. Dennis to furnish material and labor and make connection from the water mains to flush tanks on the sanitary sewer for $289.50 was read and the contract awarded to Dennis at that figure. The new bond of Irwin Bros. was received and filed and the mayor and clerk ordered to enter into a contract with that firm for the construction of the sewer.

The entire commission, together with Solicitor Wells, was appointed a committee to confer with Solicitor Carey and Chief Engineer Hamilton, of the C. & P. railroad, relative to tunneling under the depot for the storm water sewer. The committee will meet the representatives of the railroad on the ground of the proposed tunnel Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

MINOR NEWS OF WELLSVILLE.

Mrs. H. C. Wooster, of the West End, is ill.

Miss Margaret Elder, of Wooster, is visiting friends in town.

Mr. Springer, of Coal street, is in Beaver attending the funeral of his brother.

Miss Beulah Wells is spending a few days with Miss Mabel Hewitt, of Arroyo, W. Va.

Guy Ohliger, of Richmond, Ind., was here yesterday attending the junior-senior banquet.

The city seems to be getting busier than its wont. The Hotel Metropole on more than one occasion this week has been compelled to turn people away.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

At East Palestine Will Be Attended by East Liverpool Persons.

Invitations are out announcing the graduating exercises of the East Palestine high school on Thursday evening, May 30. Following are the names of the graduates: Floyd W. McKee, Adda M. Watt, Stella S. Thorpe, Edna F. Failer, William A. Fleming.

The baccalaureate sermon will be preached in the Presbyterian church Sunday evening by Rev. George S. Swezey. A number of people from East Liverpool will attend the commencement exercises.

The Cannon and Science.

The president of the French Academy of Sciences remarked in a recent address that the cannon is one of the most instructive laboratories that science possesses. It was the modern cannon, he said, which suggested the application of explosive gases to the driving of engines. The experience of the immense pressures obtained in cannon also led to the use of pressures in steam machines which a few years ago would have been regarded as impracticable. Thus experiments intended primarily for the purposes of war had resulted in the advance of the triumphs of peace.

PRICES HELD FIRMLY

Capacity in Producing Plants in Leading Industries Well Employed.
Crop Advances Satisfactory.

New York, May 25.—R. G. Dun's Weekly Review of Trade, issued today, said in part:

The labor situation is the cloud hovering over the business world, but the difficulties are not sufficiently widespread at present to seriously interfere with the progress of manufacture and distribution. Some settlements of strikes have been effected during the week, and others seem probable at an early date. Meanwhile prices hold firm, the capacity of producing plants in the leading industries is well employed and crop advances are satisfactory.

A feeling of confidence in the permanence of values appears to have settled in all divisions of the iron and steel manufacture. To this may be attributed the decrease in orders for distant delivery, purchasers merely contracting for order requirements from one to two months in advance. Tranquility regarding the future is undoubtedly due to the action of the large combination, which has made no effort to secure exorbitant prices, but manifests an intention to maintain quotations at the current level. Independent producers show a disposition to work along the same lines, and the net result is less scrambling to get orders placed, but no indication that the actual demand is any smaller. Notwithstanding much talk of dullness in pig iron, Bessemer is firmly held at $16.75, delivered at Pittsburg, or $16 at Valley furnaces. Foundry irons are somewhat easier. All lines of finished steel are crowded to the limit of productive capacity, and machinery houses at Chicago are granting machinists' demands rather than risk delay. At some other points, however, employers appear more stubborn, and there is prospect of serious interruption to business.

Correspondents report the winter wheat outlook steadily improving, and there is every reason to anticipate an abundant harvest. A few sections have slightly reduced acreage, and losses by drought in Texas may amount to the original area planted. Production in this state, however, is never sufficiently heavy to be an important factor in the total for the whole country. The most encouraging feature is the decrease in the amount of harm done by Russian flies, which earlier in the season threatened to be severe. In the face of better domestic crop prospects quotations continue firm, injury in Germany affecting foreign markets. Atlantic exports have been large for the past week, including flour, amounting to 3,692,413 bushels, against 2,173,356 in the same week last year and 1,646,024 in 1899. Speculation in May corn has quieted down, but the general level of this cereal continues far above normal prices, and more liberal receipts have been attracted to interior cities; for the week 3,667,042 bushels were received, against 1,694,786 last year. On the other hand, foreign buying is restricted, Atlantic exports being only 1,136,899 bushels, against 3,534,673 a year ago. Failures for the week numbered 180 in the United States, against 185 last year, and 22 in Canada, against 20 last year.

Doan's Kidney Pills relieve back-ache.

Cure every kidney ill.
East Liverpool citizens endorse them.

Mr. Thomas Laughlin, of 172 Sophia street, engineer, says: "I caught cold and neglected it. It settled in my back and kidneys and forced me to quit work and almost cost me my life. I could not move without suffering, and often could neither sit, stand or lie for pain. The secretions of the kidneys went wrong and distressed and annoyed me both night and day. I took medicines for two years, but did not get well. When I read of Doan's Kidney Pills I got a box at the W. & W. pharmacy. Noticing some improvement by the time I had taken the first half of the box, I continued until I had taken four boxes and my back was all right, as well as the urinary trouble. I will substantiate my statement of Doan Kidney Pills if any one will come to my house to investigate for themselves. My wife had some backache; she took Doan's Kidney Pills and was cured."

SECRET SOCIETIES

Question Considered by United Presbyterian Assembly, but Action Was Postponed.

Des Moines, Ia., May 25.—Discussion of changes offered by the committee on revision to article 15 of the creed of the church with regard to the admission of candidates for membership belonging to secret societies occupied the morning session of the United Presbyterian general assembly. No vote was reached. The matter came up in the form of the following resolution:

That while the fifteenth article of our testimony defines in a manner sufficiently explicit the general law of our church on the subject of secretism, sessions possess and are expected to exercise a wise discretion in the administration of the law dealing with such cases as may arise upon their merit and in such a way as may best promote God's glory and the Final decision was postponed.

A FIGHTING TEACHER.

Miss Grace Rose Tried to Shoot Two School Board Members.

Detroit, Mich., May 25.—Grace Rose, a teacher in the Wilkins school here, drew a revolver on Dr. Thomas Henderson, chairman of the school board committee on teachers, and threatened to shoot him if his report recommending her dismissal was adopted by the board. The board delayed action. Miss Rose was refused permission to continue teaching.

She visited the office of Dr. Sherill, another member of the board, and again drew her revolver, this time reinforced by a bottle of vitrol, which she tried to throw on the doctor. She was disarmed after a brief struggle and locked up.

CAPT. HALL IS CLEARED.

Record of the Court Martial Reached Washington.

Washington, May 25.—The record of the court martial in the case of Captain Newton Hall, United States marine corps, who was charged by Minister Conger with cowardice in connection with the defense of the legations at Peking, has just reached Washington.

Admiral Remy has promulgated the finding in a special order, which completely exonerates Captain Hall from the charge, and finds that the only matter of substance sustained in the charge is an error of judgment in connection with the withdrawal of his troops at a critical moment from the Tartar wall.

TO STUDY OUR INDUSTRIES.

Constructor Schwarz and Prof. Von Halle in United States.

New York, May 25.—Chief Constructor Schwarz, of the German navy, and Professor Ernest von Halle have arrived in this country for the purpose of studying American shipbuilding and general industrial methods. They represent the imperial government. In the course of their tour they will visit the Cramps and Newport News shipbuilding plants, the Brown Hoisting and Conveying company, in Cleveland; the Baldwin Locomotive works, Philadelphia, and the Carnegie Steel company, Pittsburg.

Director Zeltz, of Bremen, has come to the United States to purchase machinery for a new shipbuilding plant.

CAPTAIN GREEN TALKS OF SUI-
ING WELLSVILLE.Interesting Talk With the Captain of
the Greenwood—The Small-pox Scare.

Health Officer Ogden received word from the health authorities at Pittsburg yesterday afternoon that the passengers and crew of the steamer Greenwood had all been vaccinated and the boat thoroughly fumigated. It was also stated that Captain Green had been given a clean bill of health and that there was no need of fear from disease.

The Greenwood reached Pittsburg at 4 o'clock Friday morning. The city physician, Dr. R. L. Taylor, and his assistants met the boat at the wharf and vaccinated all on board, 75 persons, including 45 of the crew, Captain Green, his wife and little boy, who were awakened from their slumbers. The boat left Pittsburg yesterday afternoon and reached East Liverpool at about 8:30 o'clock last evening. The freight for this point, which had been carried past on the upward trip, was unloaded.

Captain Green was greatly pleased with the treatment he received at the hands of the health officials at Pittsburg. He says if they had suspected a case of genuine smallpox had been on his boat, they would not have given him a clean bill of health until a rigid investigation had been made.

In speaking of the alleged smallpox case to a News Review reporter, Captain Green said:

"When we left Charleston there was a colored man on board whose face was covered with pimples. A lady passenger seeing him said he had the smallpox, and I suppose she circulated the report. The negro got off at West Wheeling.

"All went well until we reached Steubenville. I was in bed at the time and as there was a number of officers at the landing armed with revolvers. The crew would not land, but came on up the river. We met the same kind of a mob at Wellsville, but in spite of the threats to shoot us we unloaded what freight we had for that city."

The captain stated that one of his crew went to a saloon in company with two of the Wellsville officers and that all drank together. He says he is seriously thinking of bringing a damage suit against that city.

Information sent out from Wheeling is to the effect that a colored man, whose name is Jackson, and thought to be identical with the suspect put off the Greenwood at St. Mary's, is in a pesthouse at Wheeling. Jackson is said to have boarded a train at St. Mary's after leaving the boat and made his way to Wheeling by rail.

On the upward trip after having been forced to pass Steubenville without landing, the Greenwood made an effort to tie up at Toronto. Health Officer Thomas was on hand in time to balk the attempt, but the boat landed at the Black Horse works, where Mrs. William Rainey and children, residents of Toronto, were let off. They went to New Cumberland Thursday night, but later crossed the river again and are now in their home. The health officer has taken every precaution to avoid contagion.

BASEBALL NOTES

The members of the base ball team known as the "Hot Air Highfliers" bled themselves to Rock Springs park last evening for practice. There were two star players among the aggregation, namely Henry Bullock and M. K. Zimmerman, but Alex Stevenson, another member of the club, proved himself to be a full moon and nothing less.

At the beginning of the game, when the players were assigned their positions, Stevenson was told to hold down second base. Alex did so admirably. He rolled on it, sat down on it and even tried to stand on his head on the base—or rather, an alleged base, which was nothing other than a large and juicy batch of Hancock county mud.

The rain which had fallen in the afternoon moistened the ground to a depth of several inches, and Alex found the softest spot on the diamond, as did also the seat of his trousers. His troubles came about through his eagerness to head off a hot liner which was sent from a bat down across the diamond. He made a frantic plunge after the swiftly moving sphere, and just as he was reaching for it his feet went out from under him. Then followed a series of highly original and intensely interesting flip-flops, which brought forth voluminous applause from the grand stand. The manager was so delighted by the brilliancy of the play Alex made he raised his wages, while Henry Bullock raised Alex from the mud.

On returning to the city on a trolley car which was filled with lady passengers, Alex occupied a rear seat, and on reaching his destination disap-

REVISION IN DEMAND

Presbyterian Assembly Decides in Favor of It.

BAKER AMENDMENT BEATEN

Decided to Continue Consideration of
the Great Question—Among Others,
Dewitt Spoke For Dismissal and
Dickey For It.

Philadelphia, May 25.—The Presbyterian general assembly, by a rising vote, which showed conclusively that a revision of the confession of faith is desired by the church, defeated the amendment dismissing the whole subject offered Thursday by Rev. George D. Baker, of Philadelphia. The assembly decided by an overwhelming majority to continue consideration of the great question. After about two days of debate, during which leading exponents of the Presbyterian doctrine throughout the country thoroughly analyzed the creed and gave their reasons for their positions regarding the subject. At the opening of the afternoon session Friday the assembly decided to vote on the amendment at 4:30 o'clock, and speeches were limited to 10 minutes. The time, however, was extended in order to give a number of commissioners who wished to be heard an opportunity of speaking.

The principal addresses of the day were made by Rev. Dr. John Dewitt, in the morning, and Rev. Dr. Charles A. Dickey, closing the debate. Rev. Dr. Dewitt favored dismissal, declaring that though there might be slight divergence of opinion on the confession, the church was united on the word of God.

Dr. Dickey took a decided stand against dismissal. He said as the question of revision was not before the assembly no evil could result from a further consideration of the committee's report.

Rev. Dr. W. H. Roberts made a plea for a declarative statement, asserting the supremacy of Holy Scripture as the only source of doctrine; that the system of the confession is the same as Holy Scripture teaches, and that infants are saved by God's electing grace.

The discussion at times was lively, but without bitterness.

WELSH TONGUE USED

Meeting of the Welsh Presbyterian Church Synod Held in Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, May 25.—The synod of Western Pennsylvania and Ohio of the Welsh Presbyterian church opened in the Welsh Presbyterian church, Second avenue and Cherry alley. The moderator, the Rev. D. M. Jones, of Venedocia, O., presided. The Rev. D. J. Davis, of Youngstown, O., is stated clerk.

The meeting was conducted almost wholly in the Welsh tongue. Two new members of the synod were admitted from other synods, the Rev. Robert Hymphres, now of Johnstown, and formerly of Wisconsin, and the Rev. W. J. Lewis, of Eastern Pennsylvania, who is now in the territory covered by the synod.

Consideration of a number of overtures from the different presbyteries of the synod occupied considerable time. They were mostly appeals for aid from churches unable to sustain themselves. Appropriations from the home mission fund of the church were made for this purpose.

LIGHT AND SHADE.

Well When on the Wall.

A very essential feature, and a subject worthy of more study than is usually accorded it, is the treatment of light and shade in decorative art. In the selection of wall hangings the goods are placed generally where a strong light prevails. This may be very well in some cases, but how often is it we hear that the paper looks better in the piece than on the wall!

What is the reason? Is it the pattern? No. The mistake is caused by the fact that the customer has not considered the light in the room. The same defect may occur once in awhile to the decorator. For example, a room may appear to be very light when devoid of curtains, shades, furniture, etc., and in this condition the work may indeed look very satisfactory when completed. But when the room is furnished it lacks one thing—decision. What appeared to be a delicate coloring is now so delicate that it would make a pair of opera glasses to find the design.

A few other practical notes in reference to the treatment of colors in different lights which may be of service to many decorators are given by a writer in The Art Interchange, as follows:

Let me give a scheme of color for a room with a south or southwestern exposure, having at least two good sized windows. Let the ceiling be treated with a groundwork of light cinnamon, frescoed in outline with a medium shade of old gold color, the high lights to be tipped with gold leaf. Let the side walls be grounded in a sage color as high as picture molding. For frieze, make a slightly darker shade and introduce ornament in colors of old gold, deep crimson and dull pink. The cornice should be treated with special care, and I suggest that the cove should have main portion tinted in the body color of ceiling and blended down into gold at the completion of the arc.

The members of the cornice above the cove should be in the lighter shades, so that the whole may blend together toward the ceiling. Woodwork should be ivory white, rubbed to a dead finish. In furnishing this room I should suggest white and gold furniture, with upholstery of light amber tint, or otherwise old rose. Carpet should be of light fawn color, with just sufficient color in relief to show design. This would make a very desirable reception room or parlor.

We will take, as another example, a music room with a western outlook—a shady retreat, as it were. Let the ceiling be of a medium shade of old rose color, with stile about 18 inches around it in peacock blue. Let ornamentation be in the main body of the ceiling and consist of corners, breaks and lines of geometrical figures, to be in darker shade of body color, with strong lines of deep brown between center and stile. Let the side walls be in a dull and distinct shade of terra cotta, leaving space for frieze about 14 inches. Let 2½ inches on top and bottom of frieze be tinted in freestone color, the remaining nine inches in purple brown. Now take a double stencil of Grecian key border with eight inch figure and use light freestone color for same. As a relief, make a panel, or break, each three feet around room, the same height in full as frieze.

THE HOMEWARD TRIP

Of the McKinleys Was Begun This Morning.

It Was Given Under Auspices of Loyal Legion and Others—Oakland School Children Reviewed—Foreign Consular Representatives Received.

San Francisco, May 25.—President McKinley completed the program in this city, having met every organization included in the original schedule. Mrs. McKinley's health has so far improved that the president and his party will begin the return journey to the national capital about 10 a. m. today.

The president's public functions Friday included a reception at the Scott residence to the members of the foreign consular representatives in this city, a reception at the Palace hotel by the Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution and the Loyal Legion, in honor of the president, and a review of the school children of Oakland. The president spent the evening quietly at the Scott residence, resting and superintending arrangements for today's departure.

NATIVES DISCONTENTED.

Manila, May 25.—The discontent among the natives at the appointment of American judges and alleged discriminations in the civil service in favor of Americans was finding expression, encouraged by some of the native judges, who are aware that the reorganization of the judiciary will result in the loss of their positions.

Judge Ner, of the court of first instance, of Tondo, one of the leaders of what is beginning to be called the radical wing of the federalists, declared that if such things continue there will be a second revolution. Some of the prominent federalists ridicule the prediction.

The Philippine commission's selections of judges were thoroughly considered. It is undeniable that most of the native judges lack the competence required. One of them has been removed for malfeasance and others are suspected of irregularities. The classifications of the civil service avoid discrimination, but native and Spanish qualifications are not equal to those of capable Americans. Some departments are employing natives at the risk of temporary inconvenience.

After a conference with General MacArthur, General Trias has undertaken negotiations at Lucban for the surrender of General Calles, which is daily expected.

CONTINUOUS SCALE.

Proposition Under Consideration by the Amalgamated Committee.

Milwaukee, May 25.—The continuous scale, which shall be in force year after year, is the proposition which the wage committee of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers is now working upon. If this plan should meet with success it will do away with much friction between the manufacturers and the association in the future. A member of the wage committee stated that the continuous scale scheme is being worked out slowly and probably will include a provision calling for a notice of 60 or 90 days from a certain period by either party desiring a readjustment of any special feature.

Expelled Cadets Declined Places.

New York, May 25.—Three of the five West Point cadets recently expelled for insubordination, Mahaffey, Linton and Cleveland, who were offered places by General Francis Vinton Greene, president of the New York and Bermuda Asphalt company, declined to accept the positions offered them. They told General Greene and General Avery D. Andrews, both of them West Pointers, that it was their intention to go to Washington today and there try to bring about a reversal of the decision.

Strike Became General.

Reading, Pa., May 25.—The strike at the tube works of the Reading Iron company, inaugurated some three weeks ago, is now general as far as the mills of that company are concerned in this city. A communication was sent to President Baer, in which a general increase of 10 to 15 percent in the wages was demanded at all of the mills. No answer was given and the joint committee issued orders calling out all of the men at the sheet, Oley street and Ninth street mills.

Elected a Pittsburger.

Columbus, O., May 25.—The National Association of Car Inspectors elected James Jackson, of Pittsburg, supreme inspector, and selected Philadelphia for the meeting of May, 1903.

Lost Manuscript Found.

London, May 25.—The full score of Purcell's "Fairy Queen," which had been missing for 200 years, has been discovered in the library of the Royal Academy of Music, among a pile of manuscript.

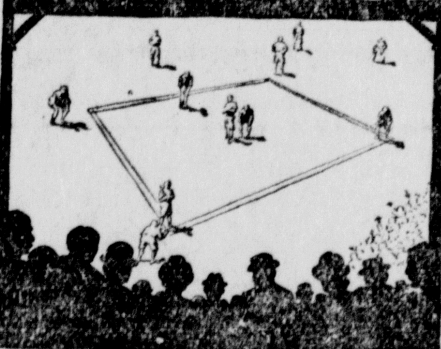

Two Fatalities.

Slight Fire in a Capitol.

Albany, N. Y., May 25.—Great excitement was caused at the capitol by the discovery of a fire in a room filled with waste paper. A part of the Albany fire department was called out to extinguish the blaze. The damage was trifling.

BASEBALL

Many of the critics are talking this year of the lack of team work so plainly noticeable in many of the games played by both the National and American league clubs. It is a fact and is largely due to the backward spring and consequent lack of preliminary practice as well as the fact that the frequent changing about of players has been a drawback to scientific ball playing.

The team work will, however, improve as the season advances. At the same time this feature in baseball plays a more important part in the success of a team than many people seem to think.

There never has been a team in any of the great leagues which succeeded in winning a championship unless team work played an important part in the

his friends are not frightened by his spring coquetting.

Another feature which has made friends for Johnson's league this year is the fact that the games have been conducted in a sportsmanlike manner and there has been little rowdiness among the players either on or off the field. Johnson, even when he was a scribe in Cincinnati, was a stickler for clean ball, and now that he is the czar of an organization he finds that it pays to stick to his early convictions. He certainly saw enough of the tough side of baseball when he was recording base hits from the reporters' stand.

Baltimore is well satisfied with the conditions as they are, and American league ball is sure to be popular there. McGraw and Robinson are popular idols, and it is doubtful if an opposition team there would have much of a chance. There is one thing, however, that the Orioles will not stand for, and that is a losing team, not even for "Mugsy" and "Robby."

Hanlon has taught the Baltimore fans what first class baseball is, and they don't want anything else. So long as McGraw can keep his men somewhere near the front he will have clear sailing. If he falls behind, his woes will multiply amazingly.

It looks now as if the Orioles are weak in pitchers. Two first class twirlers are held by few teams, but two men are not enough. If McGraw does not strengthen his pitching department before the interchange of games with the western teams, he is likely to have trouble on his hands. He has in McGinnity one of the greatest pitchers that ever lived and a man of iron constitution. McGinnity made the mistake of doing too much work last year, but I don't think he will do it again this year, much as he likes the extra envelope on pay day.

New York has a pitcher who promises to do excellent work this year, if he, too, is not called to pitch his arm off early in the race. Matthewson seems to be a natural twirler. His command is good and his speed terrific. It is that terrific speed which has caught my eye. Some of his friends maintain that he can send the ball over the plate with even more speed than Amos Rusie ever did. I question that, but he certainly has speed to burn.

Veterans are glad to see Jack Meneff back in pitching harness. When Meneff goes to Pittsburg, the natives of his home town shut up shop and talk nothing but ball. When not in one of the big leagues, Meneff plays with the Meneff team at Monessen, near Pittsburg, where seven of the Meneff brothers play.

Detroit is making some famous ninth inning rallies, which reminds one of the sensational finishes of the New York team in 1894. New York that year batted out more victories in the last two innings than any other professional team ever did in this country. Ward's men were always dangerous until the last man had been put out.

GEORGE E. STACKHOUSE.

Nouroulah, the huge Turk who recently defeated Tom Jenkins, the Cleveland mill worker, in Madison Square Garden, New York, for the world's wrestling championship, is a unique figure among athletes. The sultan's formidable subject is probably the largest man who ever entered a wrestling competition in this country. He weighs 346 pounds, is a giant in stature, and his strength is enormous.

Nouroulah fulfilled the general expectation when he won the match by the sheer force of his weight. He literally smothered Jenkins, who thereby lost the champion's title, which he had wrested from Ernest Roeber but a few weeks before.

From the viewpoint of experts on wrestling the Turk does not possess a very marked amount of knowledge of NOUROULAH TRYING FOR A HOLD. The fine points of the art. He counterbalances this falling, however, with his brute force. While this latter quality does not, as a rule, prove to be so valuable to a wrestler as a thorough understanding of the scientific side, yet the overwhelming advantage held by Nouroulah in this respect has made him the peer of all other performers on the mat.

Martin Julian, the former manager of Bob Fitzsimmons, takes care of Nouroulah's business arrangements and will probably take his cumbersome charge on an exhibition throughout the larger cities of the country.

Kid Gleason's Revival.

Kid Gleason is playing fast ball. He has been working wonders for the Detroit American league team both at the bat and in his position at second base.

HOWEORTH OIL FIELD

Excitement Increased by the Showing Made by Wells Lately Drilled.

Homeworth, May 25.—The Homeworth oil field is still attracting a large number of oil operators and the excitement is not abating. Last Saturday three new wells were drilled immediately south of the former producing wells. One of these is pronounced the best well yet struck and estimates are from 30 to 65 barrels per day. Another one is reported good for from 10 to 15 barrels, while the third and the one farthest west is a small producer and good for from 3 to 5 barrels when pumped. These new wells are within perhaps 100 yards of the former producing wells.

At the wells formerly reported, there is a great showing for oil. At one of these two 250-barrel tanks are full at each well and their capacity has not been tested. Some means for conveying it to a point for shipment is now wanting. Leases are in great demand, and while they do not command the fabulous prices of the Texas field, nevertheless they have a big commercial value, and are daily advancing. The theory now advanced is that the pool is in the northwest course from the nest of wells now producing.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The price of this cure is $1.00 for any case it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, E. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by all Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Reports received show that Wine of Cardui has brought permanent relief to 1,000,000 suffering women in the last few years. Because of Wine of Cardui, thousands of sufferers, seemingly on the way to premature graves, are now healthy women taking an active interest in the duties of life. Mrs. Mitchell was declining in health when Wine of Cardui "performed a miraculous cure" in her case. She suffered terribly with the agonies of falling of the womb, leucorrhoea and profuse menstruation. The weekly appearance of the menses for two months sapped her vitality until she was little better than a physical wreck. Her nervous system gave way under the terrible pain and aggravation. Then came the trial of Wine of Cardui and the cure. Mrs. Mitchell's experience ought to commend Wine of Cardui to suffering women in words of burning eloquence. The Wine is within the reach of all. Woman who try it are relieved. You can get as much benefit as Mrs. Mitchell received. Ask your druggist for Wine of Cardui. Send to the laboratory for the medicine if he tenders you a substitute.

WINE OF CARDUI

South Gaston, N. C., May 23, 1899. Wine of Cardui and Theodor's Black-Dracht have performed a miraculous cure in my case. I have been a great sufferer from falling of the womb and leucorrhoea, and my menses came every week for two months and became very painful. I was in a bad condition. My husband induced me to try Wine of Cardui and Black-Dracht, and now I have no pain. The leucorrhoea has disappeared and now I am in perfect health. Mrs. WILLIE MITCHELL.

HOME AFFAIRS.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature And of Matters About Town.

A Son Born—Born to Mr. and Mrs. George Crawford, Franklin street, a son.

Auction Sale In Progress—The auction sale of lots begun this week at Grandview, is being continued this afternoon. A large crowd of bidders are present.

Justice Married Them—Miss Ida B. Reed was married to W. M. Calhoun, Justice McCarron performing the ceremony at his office. Both are residents of the city, but will make their future home on a farm.

Ready to Build—Preparations are being made to commence work on the new 24-room double dwelling to be erected by Dr. C. B. Ogden at the corner of Fifth and Jefferson streets. Work upon the foundation will likely be started next week.

Making a Protest—Residents of Jackson street are complaining of the blockading of that thoroughfare between Fourth and Fifth streets, by old wagon beds, wheels, etc. Chief Thompson made an inspection and will report the matter to the street commissioner.

Officers' Kind Act—Through the kindness of Officers Davidson and Aufderheide, a young girl was saved from arrest and disgrace last night. The girl was found in a bad state of intoxication on Second street. She was just able to walk, and the officers through pity gave her an opportunity to get home.

Attended a Horse Sale—Mayor Davidson has returned from Cleveland, where he was in attendance for two days at the horse sale in the Forest City. He states that all horses sold brought enormous prices and that a bid on any of the animals less than $300 was scarcely given consideration. Several other local horsemen were present, but made no purchases.

Trouble Soon Settled—Teamsters in charge of six teams hauling dirt from the new reservoir went on strike yesterday at noon. When they began work they were informed that all would be expected to assist in loading the wagons. This they refused to do. No work was done yesterday afternoon, but this morning the trouble was settled by the water works people putting an additional force to work.

The National's Dance—The National Social club opened their dancing season last night at Rock Springs. The affair was a complete success, and was the largest in point of attendance held there this season. Nowling's orchestra furnished the music and an enjoyable time was spent by all. It is the intention of the club to give a series of these events throughout the summer, and lovers of the pastime are promised a season of rare enjoyment.

He Let Him Out.
The king of Naples, in the plenitude of his absolutism, paid one day a visit to the Neapolitan prisons in order to see for himself what sort of men his criminals were and whether they really deserved the punishments they were undergoing.

"What is your sentence?" he said to one. "Fifteen years, your majesty."
"And what had you done?" "Nothing whatever." "Quite innocent?" "Entirely so, your majesty." "And you?" he asked another. "Thirty years, sire. Victim of false accusation." "And you?" to a third. "In for life, my king." "And what had you done?" "Everything you can think of, my king; theft, burglary, highway robbery, manslaughter, murder. I only wonder they did not sentence me to death." "What is your name?" asked the king. "My name," replied the first class criminal, "since I have been here has been 912."
After finishing his tour of inspection the king said to the governor: "All the prisoners here seem to be perfectly innocent. There is only one bad man among them, No. 912. You had better let him out, lest he corrupt the others."

Ups and Downs of the Browns.

Brown has a cozy office
On the twenty-second floor
Of a modern office building,
With conveniences galore—
Electric lights and mail shoots
And everything first rate
And an elevator starter
Who is strictly up to date.

Now, Mrs. Brown came in one day,
A smile upon her face;
Took elevator No. 8—
And launched forth into space.
"Be safe to say she'd hardly gone
Beyond the second floor
When Mr. Brown came sailing down Scene in No. 4.

"Hey, Mr. Brown," the starter cried,
"Your wife went up this minute."
A car was just about to start.
And Mr. Brown jumped in it.
"You'd better wait till she comes back!"
The starter tried to shout,
But up went Brown—a car came down,
And Mrs. Brown stepped out!

The starter shook with hidden mirth
He didn't dare display.
"Your husband, mum, went back," he said,
"But passed you on the way.
Just take a chair and rest awhile;
He'll surely come right down."
She wouldn't listen; up she went,
While down came Mr. Brown.

He went back up; his wife came down
And heated for the door,
While Brown ransacked in wild despair
The twenty-second floor.
As out into the street she passed,
With peep, unlifted chin,
"I hope they'll meet in heaven," said
The starter, with a grin.

BAPTISTS CELEBRATE

A Distinguished Guest Was Rev. J. M. Gwynne-Owen, of England.

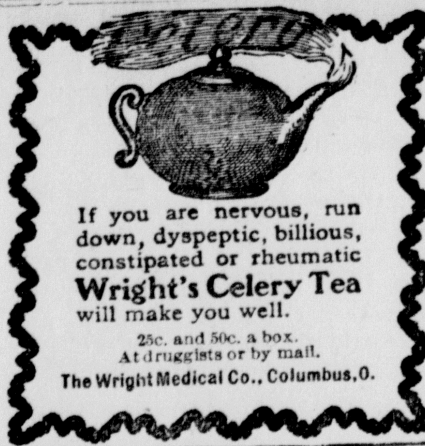

Springfield, Mass., May 25.—The fifth day of the Baptist May anniversary began in the Highland Baptist church with the second session of the American Baptist Home Mission society. The Rev. Dr. D. B. Palmer, of Pennsylvania, spoke on "A Visit to Porto Rico," and the Rev. Dr. William M. Lawrence, of Illinois, spoke on "Home Missions in the Twentieth Century."

A distinguished guest of the society at this meeting was Rev. J. M. Gwynne-Owen, pastor of the Hagley Road Baptist church, of Birmingham, England, who is in the United States as a representative of the National Council of Evangelical Free Churches of England and Wales.

Farmer Found Murdered.

Schenectady, N. Y., May 25.—David Reynolds, a farmer, living about two miles from this city, has been found murdered in his barn. His head was smashed to a pulp by an ax, which was found nearby. Reynolds was miserly and wealthy, and it has always been believed that he carried large sums about him, and a report was circulated that he was in the habit of carrying large sums of money in his boots. When the body was found the boots were missing.

NEW PROPOSAL LIKELY

Hay Said Another Might Be Made as to Chinese Indemnity—Attitude of Russia.

San Francisco, May 25.—Secretary Hay, in an interview, said that another proposal might be made to the powers in the Chinese indemnity matter.

Washington, May 25.—Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador, spent about an hour with Acting Secretary Hill Friday and it was assumed that the Chinese negotiations was the burden of their talk. It has become apparent that Russia will find it inexpedient to close with the proposition to accept Chinese bonds at any of the interest figures mentioned, as indemnity, unless there is an international guaranty, and the United States finds it quite impossible to assent to the latter.

It is now nearly certain that by China's own action in so weakly opposing the demands of the ministers for an indemnity amounting to $337,000,000, the United States' effort to secure an abatement of the claim has failed completely, and China must submit to pay the total, or at least to agree to pay it, for there is grave doubt entertained here of her ability to do so.

Since the reduction of the indemnity has been abandoned it is assumed in the best posted Chinese quarters that authority will now be given China to raise her customs duties.

TO GET INTO NEW YORK

Gould Likely to Make Merely Traffic Arrangement.

New York, May 25.—The Mail and Express Friday printed the following article on the much-discussed question as to how the Gould system of railroads will reach the seaboard:

"George Gould is negotiating for an entrance for his railroads into this city. This information came from banking interests in a position to know what is going on. He will not build, and, according to a good authority, will probably not seek to get control of any existing trunk line. It will be a traffic deal."

"Opinions were expressed today that, except so far as the Pittsburg extension of the Wheeling and Lake Erie and Wabash is concerned, Mr. Gould will not disturb the present conditions. He intends, however, to build into Pittsburg."

"A strong reason why Mr. Gould wants this road is that he has a contract for 25 per cent of the tonnage of the Carnegie company, which will reduce the freight which the Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio receive. The latter desire to prevent the construction of the new road, and have offered inducements to Mr. Gould not to build."

"A story was current today that the controversy might result in Mr. Gould securing satisfactory traffic connections with either the Pennsylvania or Baltimore and Ohio, instead of Erie or Lackawanna."
